Dedication Rites Of Hospital Wing To Be Saturday

CARDINAL SPELLMAN

Cardinal Spellman to Officiate at Benedictine's Exercises

Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York, will bless and dedicate the handsome new $2,000,000 addition to the Benedictine Hospital at 2:30 p. m. Saturday.

The ceremonies, which will be held in the chapel and main lobby, will be followed by a tour of the hospital by Cardinal Spellman who will bless the rooms as he passes through. At 2:50 p. m. there will be a civic celebration in front of the hospital, lasting about an hour.

Speakers, in addition to Cardinal Spellman will be Chief Justice John T. Loughran of the New York Court of Appeals; the Rt. Rev. Martin J. Drury, PRVF, president of the hospital advisory board; Oscar V. Newkirk, mayor of Kingston and Dr. John J. Bourke, director of the New York State Joint Hospital and Planning Commission. A message will be read from Sen. Arthur H. Wicks, president pro-tem of the State Senate and co-chairman of the 1951 fund raising campaign.

Msgr. Drury, who also is dean of the clergy of Ulster and Sullivan counties and the Rt. Rev. Stephen P. Connelly, pastor of St. Joseph's Church this city, are chaplains to Cardinal Spellman.

George F. Kaufman, former surrogate judge of Ulster county, will be master of ceremonies at Saturday's dedication. James A. Dwyer, co-chairman of the 1951 fund-raising drive for the hospital is chairman of the program.

Sisters Express Appreciation

Redemptorist students of the Seminary of Mount St. Alphonsus will provide a choir for the occasion and the band of the Cardinal Farley Military Academy, Rhinecliff, will play.

It was pointed out that with the money the hospital has on hand from legacies and building fund campaigns the debt of the new hospital will still be between $350,000 and $400,000, and that "the Sisters look confidently to the continued support and cooperation of the people in meeting the pledges they made during the campaign in order to help the Sisters carry the heavy burden which this debt entails."

The Sisters expressed their gratitude to their many friends who contributed to the recent campaign, as well as "to those who through the years, through donations and legacies, have helped

McCahill Pleads To Have Congress Specify Powers

ANPA President Declares Danger Exists in U. S., Cites Steel Seizure, HST Remarks

New York, April 23 (AP)—A plea that Congress make "plain and explicit by law" the President's powers with respect to seizure of private property was voiced today by the head of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Charles F. McCahill, ANPA president and general manager of The Cleveland News, cited in a prepared address the recent seizure of the steel industry and President Truman's remarks on the possibility of taking over news media.

McCahill welcomed delegates to the 66th annual convention of ANPA, which met in its first general session today. The convention, part of newspaper week, opened yesterday with limited meetings.

At today's session, the ANPA's federal laws committee reported that forces are at work to whittle away American freedoms "as surely and as purposefully" as in Nazi Germany and Soviet Russia.

Attack Continued

The committee's report continued an attack which the publishers levelled yesterday against bureaucratic censorship of public affairs from the White House to the small town city hall.

Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz, editor of The Argentine Daily La Prensa until its seizure by the Peron government, today added a stirring voice of experience to the publishers' appeals for freedom of information.

People all over the world "wanted to know * * * what is going on," Gainza said in a prepared address. "* * * it is the duty of newspapermen to satisfy it."

"If we complacently accept limitations imposed on the people's right to know what is going on—then their other rights are condemned to disappear too," he added.

Rights Are at Stake

McCahill in his opening address said the publishers should "give every attention" to the questions in the steel conflict "of the rights of private owners, the rights of the public interest, and the 'rights' claimed by the federal government."

"In response to a question at his press conference only last Thursday," McCahill continued, "the President of the United States stated that depending upon circumstances at the time the President would determine whether or not it was necessary to take over the newspapers and the radio stations * * *.

"This incident does not make plain that it is the responsibility of every American citizen to make sure that the powers of the President * * * with respect to seizure are made plain and explicit by law. This is a responsibility of the Congress and we would be unfaithful as American citizens if we did not make certain that we have in this country a government by law and not by personal wishes or whims."

Treasury Receipts

Washington, April 23 (AP)—The position of the treasury April 21: Net budget receipts $178,588,139.84. Budget expenditures $208,829,185.07. Cash balance $5,919,772,576.59. Budget receipts fiscal year July 1 $47,407,163,154.06. Budget expenditures fiscal year $51,302,531,955.03. Budget deficit $3,795,368,800.97. Total debt $257,672,607,684.09. Lions Exposition Visited by 2,500

Weeklong Event Marked by Colorful Opening at 156th Armory

The annual Lions Club Exposition gunned off to an eight-cylinder start last night at the state armory with thronging crowds estimated at 2,500 and an atmosphere of carnival and gaiety.

Kingston on Parade, as the week-long event is appropriately termed, commenced with a parade leaving Cornell street and Broadway at 6:30 p. m. with Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy as marshal.

With blare of music and snap of flags in the soft spring breeze, the parade filed up Broadway and over East St. James street, Albany avenue and Manor avenue, to the armory.

Eisenhower Aides Win State Test

Harriman Backed

Democrats Will Give Most of Their 94 Vote to 'Favorite Son'

Albany, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's supporters beat down most of yesterday's primary opposition and apparently assured him of at least 85 or 90 of New York's 96 national-convention presidential votes.

Friends of the general won eight of the 11 Republican contests, although several of the winners are not definitely committed to his cause.

Avowed backers of Sen. Robert A. Taft won three:

The balloting was sparse, as expected, and shed little light on the leanings of the voting masses of the nation's largest state.

New York delegates will go to the Chicago convention of both major parties unpledged and uninstructed.

Seems Dewey Victory

The primary appeared to be another victory for Gov. Dewey, who strongly backed Eisenhower. Dewey, however, seemed to have lost his effort to deliver a solid pro-Eisenhower delegate block to Chicago.

Taft men defeated two avowed supporters of Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Manhattan's Third Congressional District and gained a split in two photo-finish contests with organization candidates in the 16th, comprised of part of lower Manhattan and Staten Island.

However, since the primary balloting was non-preferential and no delegates are bound by the result, Dewey is expected to press Eisenhower's cause on any wavering delegates.

Democrats for Harriman

Most of New York's 94 Democratic convention votes will go to W. Averell Harriman, federal mutual security administrator, a "favorite-son" candidate. Harriman was endorsed by 45 of the state's 62 Democratic county chairmen last week and yesterday announced he would actively seek the nomination.

Sen. Estes Kefauver also has the promise of some support.

Bronx boss Edward J. Flynn turned back two challenges in his stronghold. The two insurgent groups had declared for Kefauver, but failed to loosen the organization's grip.

In all, there were 13 Democratic contests.

Organization Democrats also beat down rebel slates in the 13th (part of Kings), 31st (Fulton, Hamilton, Otsego and Schenectady), 40th (part of Monroe) and 42nd (Niagara and part of Erie).

Revolts Are Stifled

Republican revolts were stifled in the bailiwicks of two anti-Dewey insurgents.

In the 29th (Hudson Valley) district, former Rep. Hamilton Fish, who campaigned for Taft, and his running mate lost to a slate that was non-committed but almost certain to wind up in the Eisenhower column.

In the 42nd, 43rd and 44th, embracing Erie county (Buffalo) and part of Niagara, a slate backed by Erie chairman William J. Forhead was defeated by pro-Eisenhower candidates.

Both Fish and Forhead have been feuding with Dewey.

The keenest battle was in the 16th, where Taft and Eisenhower forces each elected one delegate in a four-cornered race that went almost to the last precinct count before it was decided.

Edward J. McCormick, a Taft man, polled 3,323 and Ellsworth B. Buck, favoring Eisenhower, polled 3,298. McCormick's running mate, S. Robert Molinari, got

General's Backers Demand Top Share of 'Pennsy' Votes

Philadelphia, April 23 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's whooping popularity poll victory in the Pennsylvania primary prompted demands by his backers today for a lion's share of the state's 70 GOP presidential nominating votes.

But backers of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, the general's chief opponent for the Republican nomination, called the results "meaningless" so far as the division of convention votes is concerned.

Eisenhower, completing his duties as North Atlantic commander before returning to the United States, banged out what may be on the final count a 7,000,000 vote victory over Taft in the popularity race. Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, on the ballot with Eisenhower, trailed in third place in the primary election yesterday.

It was a one-sided contest from the start, since Taft kept his name off the ballot and urged his backers not to write it in. He said the results wouldn't affect the delegate lineup.

An Associated Press survey of the 70 GOP delegate candidates, including 10 chosen previously at large, indicated 19 lean toward Eisenhower, 17 favor Taft, and 27 are uncommitted, with seven contests still undecided.

A final pour of concrete on the south abutment of the second bridge of the Broadway crossing project will be made tomorrow if weather permits, a spokesman for Lipsett, Inc., the contractor, said today.

All riveting has been completed on the span which connects Railroad avenue and Greenkill avenue and the cement pour will finish the ornamental top of the abutment. A sidewalk is also being built west of the crossing between Thomas and Cornell street.

2,000 Persons See New School and Attend Program

VFW Auxiliary Presents Large Flag—Many Observe Classes in Session

Interest in the new George Washington elementary school on Wall street was demonstrated Tuesday when over 2,000 people visited the school during the afternoon and evening public inspection.

Members of the board of education who were present as well as Principal Ambrose J. Boyd and the members of the teaching staff were highly complimented on the newest addition to the city's educational system.

All Seats Filled

While the attendance in the afternoon was not large, at the evening "open house" program given in the auditorium not only was every seat filled but there were many standing when the program opened. Those in charge of the entertainment were:

Director of orchestra — Lulu May Roberts.

Director of the Glee Club and dance groups—Margaret Branigan.

Accordion accompanist — Pat Rosinski.

Costumes—Muriel Ferraro.

Allies Accuse Reds of Dodging; Most Critical Stage Seen at Hand

Communists Declare UN Command Must Change Stand on Issue

Munsan, April 23 (AP) — Allied truce negotiators accused the Communists today of dodging the main issue blocking arrangements for enforcing a Korean armistice.

The Communists replied there would be "no progress at all" unless the United Nations command changed its attitude.

The exchange ended a 19-minute session of staff officers at Panmunjom. No progress was made toward settling truce supervision disputes—Communist nomination of Russia as a neutral inspector and allied insistence the Reds be barred from repairing military airfields.

It appeared more and more that the truce supervision negotiators were awaiting outcome of secret negotiations in a neighboring tent on prisoner exchange. The prisoner session lasted two hours. There was no report on what happened.

Shells Shake Floors

During negotiations, allied artillery shells burst in a brief but heavy barrage near the Panmunjom neutral zone. The concussion shook the wooden floors of the conference tents.

Col. Don O. Darrow opened the meeting by telling the Communists the UN command had proposed solutions for the two remaining problems "and we now await action on your part."

North Korean Col. Uchange Chun San replied Russia met the qualifications of a neutral. He said the airfield debate would be ended if both sides "adhere to the agreements" not to bring additional military equipment, including aircraft, into Korea during an armistice.

They recessed until 11 a. m. Thursday (9 p. m. Wednesday EST).

At Most Critical Point

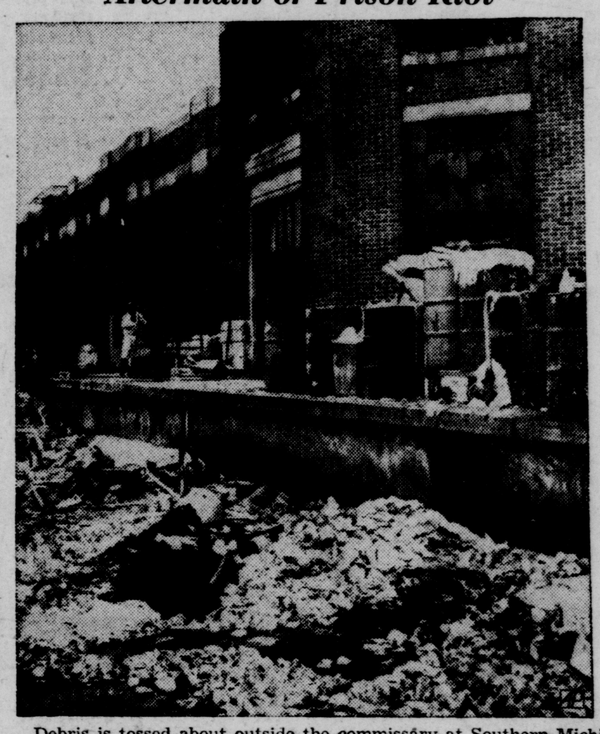

Washington, April 23 (AP)—The Korean truce negotiations now are moving through the most critical stage in many months.

Officials here believe that a decisive turn toward either a breakdown or an agreement may come within a few days.

There is much less optimism

Workers Heighten Kansas City Dikes

'Flashboarding' Is Built Atop Levees—Losses $54,800,000

Kansas City, April 23 (AP)—Flood workers built their levees higher at Kansas City today—spurred by the Missouri river's fresh destruction upstream and continued pattern of rain.

They said the extra weight wouldn't be needed, but they wanted to have it—just in case.

Both the nation's longest rivers spread destruction in record floods for miles along their length.

The mighty Mississippi flung its weight at towns along the Iowa border. Crests were expected there today a little higher than last year's records.

Crises Are Hourly

And along the wild Missouri, the flood brought almost hourly crises.

So far, the Red Cross estimated, 26,538 families or about 105,000 persons have been forced to flee their homes in the two major floods.

The extra protection being built on top of levees at Kansas City is the same kind of wooden "flashboarding" used to save Omaha, Nebr., and Council Bluffs, Ia., last week.

There was nothing in sight, however, to indicate another disaster like the one that hit Kansas City, Kas., and Kansas City, Mo.,

Plan of Mutineers Was to Break Into Arms Stores

Jackson, Mich., April 23 (AP)—Heavily-armed state police smashed a plot of riot-torn Southern Michigan Prison's mutineers to break into the prison arsenal today.

The barricaded felons, using the lives of 10 prison guard hostages as a bargaining weapon, meantime demanded that Gov. G. Mennen Williams enter peace negotiations.

State police upset a plot of the mutineers to smash into a tunnel leading from their fortress Cell Block 15 to the prison administration building.

The administration building contains the prison's big arsenal.

The convicts were reported to have ripped off a metal cover over a tunnel entrance within Block 15. A sound of banging and clattering gave them away and a score of rifle-carrying state police and guards rushed in to the tunnel to nip the escape attempt.

Negotiations Resume

Negotiations resumed after a midnight peace bid to the hold-out convicts from Warden Julian N. Frisbie.

There were signs that prison heads were willing to go along with some of the mutineers' demands.

Subsequently, came the demand for Gov. Williams' participation.

Army Men Live Who Looked Into Fiery Bomb Cloud Heart

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(AP Science Editor)

Atom Bomb Site, Nev., April 23 (AP)—For the first time men have lived, unhurt, who stood under and looked up into the flaming, hollow heart of the cloud that rushes upward from an A-bomb.

This happened to soldiers and officers close to the giant explosion yesterday at Yucca Flat.

It also happened to five congressmen who went into trenches with the troops. They are W. S. Cole (R.-N. Y.), Olen Teague (D.-Tex.), Melvin Price (D.-Ill.), Chet Holifield (D.-Calif.) and Carl Hinshaw (R.-Calif.).

What they saw and learned is the first chapter in a new atomic chart for survival:

This bomb was greater than anything in Japan or Bikini, and just over or under the most powerful we have fired in the United States. That particular bomb's identity is secret.

The fire-cloud followed the fireball, and swelled to miles in diameter, with red flames and yellow gases swirling in whirls bigger than Niagara Falls.

The cloud drifted over the heads of some officers.

"We looked right up inside," said one. "It was hollow, but you could not see daylight through the hole. It was like an umbrella and whirling crosswise like a smoke ring. The inner dome was

Industry Is Blamed for Issue Dodge

Drive Calling for Him to Cancel Seizure of Steel Production Fizzles

Murray Raps Firms

Banking Committee Has Ordered New Probe in Handling Dispute

Washington, April 23 (AP)—President Truman, under heavy Senate fire and facing a House move to impeach him, stuck to his guns today in the fight with Congress over his seizure of the steel plants.

A powerful Senate drive to force him to cancel the seizure order fell just short of the two-thirds majority vote it required yesterday. But its Republican backers led by Sen. Knowland of California redoubled their cries of "dictator" and cast about for other devices.

Actually 47 senators, 11 of them Democrats, voted for the move. And only 29 voted against it. Not a Republican voted "no." A switch of four votes would have provided the two-thirds margin needed to suspend Senate rules and permit action on Knowland's proposal to forbid the use of any federal funds in the seizure.

The Senate already had voted Monday, 44 to 31, to ban the use of any money in a specific appropriation bill to carry out the order, but its backers said this was only a gesture.

Murray Cites Selfishness

CIO President Philip Murray, in an appearance before the Senate Labor Committee today, said the steel industry "selfishly dodged a voluntary agreement" in its dispute with the Steelworkers Union.

He said the industry held "the inevitability of the steel strike over the heads of the government in order to blackmail federal price officials into granting price increases beyond those permissible under existing regulations."

The Senate Banking Committee ordered a new investigation into government handling of the steel dispute, which many of its members have denounced vigorously.

But the group quit talking about reprisals that might demolish the whole wide structure of wage and price controls, although it called a month's delay in the writing of a bill to continue them past the June 30 expiration date.

See Controls to March

Highly placed committee members, including vigorous critics of the program, told a reporter they now expect the controls will be continued without much change, but probably only until next March instead of the two-year extension the president had requested.

The impeachment resolution, introduced without full GOP consultation, went to committee amid predictions it would never come to a House vote. Neither this nor other reaction jarred Truman loose from his position on the issue and his aides went about the business of carrying out his orders.

Truman's boss of the seized steel plants, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, was reported about to take his first official move to hand the CIO steel workers a big part of a disputed pay boost. Employers refused to grant the raise without government permission to increase steel prices $12 a ton.

VFW Auxiliary Presents Large Flag—Many Observe Classes in Session

Interest in the new George Washington elementary school on Wall street was demonstrated Tuesday when over 2,000 people visited the school during the afternoon and evening public inspection.

Members of the board of education who were present as well as Principal Ambrose J. Boyd and the members of the teaching staff were highly complimented on the newest addition to the city's educational system.

All Seats Filled

While the attendance in the afternoon was not large, at the evening "open house" program given in the auditorium not only was every seat filled but there were many standing when the program opened. Those in charge of the entertainment were:

Director of orchestra—Lulu May Roberts.

Director of the Glee Club and dance groups—Margaret Branigan.

Accordion accompanist — Pat Rosinski.

Costumes—Muriel Ferraro.

Programs—Iva M. Case.

Chaperones — Sadie Feldman and Mary Polhemus.

Allies Accuse Reds of Dodging; Most Critical Stage Seen at Hand

Communists Declare UN Command Must Change Stand on Issue

Munsan, April 23 (AP) — Allied truce negotiators accused the Communists today of dodging the main issue blocking arrangements for enforcing a Korean armistice.

The Communists replied there would be "no progress at all" unless the United Nations command changed its attitude.

The exchange ended a 19-minute session of staff officers at Panmunjom. No progress was made toward settling truce supervision disputes—Communist nomination of Russia as a neutral inspector and allied insistence the Reds be barred from repairing military airfields.

It appeared more and more that the truce supervision negotiators were awaiting outcome of secret negotiations in a neighboring tent on prisoner exchange. The prisoner session lasted two hours. There was no report on what happened.

Shells Shake Floors

During negotiations, allied artillery shells burst in a brief but heavy barrage near the Panmunjom neutral zone. The concussion shook the wooden floors of the conference tents.

Col. Don O. Darrow opened the meeting by telling the Communists the UN command had proposed solutions for the two remaining problems "and we now await action on your part."

North Korean Col. Uchange Chun San replied Russia met the qualifications of a neutral. He said the airfield debate would be ended if both sides "adhere to the agreements" not to bring additional military equipment, including aircraft, into Korea during an armistice.

They recessed until 11 a. m. Thursday (9 p. m. Wednesday EST).

At Most Critical Point

Washington, April 23 (AP)—The Korean truce negotiations now are moving through the most critical stage in many months.

Officials here believe that a decisive turn toward either a breakdown or an agreement may come within a few days.

'Flashboarding' Is Built Atop Levees—Losses $54,800,000

Kansas City, April 23 (AP)—Flood workers built their levees higher at Kansas City today—spurred by the Missouri river's fresh destruction upstream and continued pattern of rain.

They said the extra weight wouldn't be needed, but they wanted to have it—just in case.

Both the nation's longest rivers spread destruction in record floods for miles along their length.

The mighty Mississippi flung its weight at towns along the Iowa border. Crests were expected there today a little higher than last year's records.

Crises Are Hourly

And along the wild Missouri, the flood brought almost hourly crises.

So far, the Red Cross estimated, 26,538 families or about 105,000 persons have been forced to flee their homes in the two major floods.

The extra protection being built on top of levees at Kansas City is the same kind of wooden "flashboarding" used to save Omaha, Nebr., and Council Bluffs, Ia., last week.

There was nothing in sight, however, to indicate another disaster like the one that hit Kansas City, Kas., and Kansas City, Mo.,

Plan of Mutineers Was to Break Into Arms Stores

Jackson, Mich., April 23 (AP)—Heavily-armed state police smashed a plot of riot-torn Southern Michigan Prison's mutineers to break into the prison arsenal today.

The barricaded felons, using the lives of 10 prison guard hostages as a bargaining weapon, meantime demanded that Gov. G. Mennen Williams enter peace negotiations.

State police upset a plot of the mutineers to smash into a tunnel leading from their fortress Cell Block 15 to the prison administration building.

The administration building contains the prison's big arsenal.

The convicts were reported to have ripped off a metal cover over a tunnel entrance within Block 15. A sound of banging and clattering gave them away and a score of rifle-carrying state police and guards rushed in to the tunnel to nip the escape attempt.

Negotiations Resume

Negotiations resumed after a midnight peace bid to the hold-out convicts from Warden Julian N. Frisbie.

There were signs that prison heads were willing to go along with some of the mutineers' demands.

Subsequently, came the demand for Gov. Williams' participation.

Murray Raps Firms

Banking Committee Has Ordered New Probe in Handling Dispute

Washington, April 23 (AP)—President Truman, under heavy Senate fire and facing a House move to impeach him, stuck to his guns today in the fight with Congress over his seizure of the steel plants.

A powerful Senate drive to force him to cancel the seizure order fell just short of the two-thirds majority vote it required yesterday. But its Republican backers led by Sen. Knowland of California redoubled their cries of "dictator" and cast about for other devices.

Actually 47 senators, 11 of them Democrats, voted for the move. And only 29 voted against it. Not a Republican voted "no." A switch of four votes would have provided the two-thirds margin needed to suspend Senate rules and permit action on Knowland's proposal to forbid the use of any federal funds in the seizure.

The Senate already had voted Monday, 44 to 31, to ban the use of any money in a specific appropriation bill to carry out the order, but its backers said this was only a gesture.

Murray Cites Selfishness

CIO President Philip Murray, in an appearance before the Senate Labor Committee today, said the steel industry "selfishly dodged a voluntary agreement" in its dispute with the Steelworkers Union.

He said the industry held "the inevitability of the steel strike over the heads of the government in order to blackmail federal price officials into granting price increases beyond those permissible under existing regulations."

The Senate Banking Committee ordered a new investigation into government handling of the steel dispute, which many of its members have denounced vigorously.

But the group quit talking about reprisals that might demolish the whole wide structure of wage and price controls, although it called a month's delay in the writing of a bill to continue them past the June 30 expiration date.

See Controls to March

Highly placed committee members, including vigorous critics of the program, told a reporter they now expect the controls will be continued without much change, but probably only until next March instead of the two-year extension the president had requested.

The impeachment resolution, introduced without full GOP consultation, went to committee amid predictions it would never come to a House vote. Neither this nor other reaction jarred Truman loose from his position on the issue and his aides went about the business of carrying out his orders.

Truman's boss of the seized steel plants, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, was reported about to take his first official move to hand the CIO steel workers a big part of a disputed pay boost. Employers refused to grant the raise without government permission to increase steel prices $12 a ton.

Army Men Live Who Looked Into Fiery Bomb Cloud Heart

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(AP Science Editor)

Atom Bomb Site, Nev., April 23 (AP)—For the first time men have lived, unhurt, who stood under and looked up into the flaming, hollow heart of the cloud that rushes upward from an A-bomb.

This happened to soldiers and officers close to the giant explosion yesterday at Yucca Flat.

It also happened to five congressmen who went into trenches with the troops. They are W. S. Cole (R.-N. Y.), Olen Teague (D.-Tex.), Melvin Price (D.-Ill.), Chet Holifield (D.-Calif.) and Carl Hinshaw (R.-Calif.).

What they saw and learned is the first chapter in a new atomic chart for survival:

This bomb was greater than anything in Japan or Bikini, and just over or under the most powerful we have fired in the United States. That particular bomb's identity is secret.

The fire-cloud followed the fireball, and swelled to miles in diameter, with red flames and yellow gases swirling in whirls bigger than Niagara Falls.

The cloud drifted over the heads of some officers.

"We looked right up inside," said one. "It was hollow, but you could not see daylight through the hole. It was like an umbrella and whirling crosswise like a smoke ring. The inner dome was

REVOCATION OF LICENSES

Warning motor vehicle operators to protect their driving privileges by full compliance with traffic laws and safe driving rules, the New York State Motor Vehicle Commissioner has declared that "once you lose your license, it's going to be tougher than ever to get it back—if you get it back at all."

Mandatory revocations of licenses for such offenses as driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident, three speeding convictions in eighteen months or homicide arising out of the operation of a motor vehicle, means being ruled off the road for at least one year and may mean being ruled off forever.

It is pointed out that necessity for intensification of license action against careless, lawless drivers is indicated by the steadily rising highway accident toll. The commissioner intends to make full, effective use of the license revocation weapon to remove from the roads those who refuse to conform to standards of safe driving on our congested streets and highways.

Increased deaths on the highways, together with record non-fatal injuries and increased motor vehicle use of the highways and higher registrations have caused the Bureau of Motor Vehicles to adopt tougher, new procedures governing restoration of revoked driver licenses.

Last year's traffic death toll in the state rose to 2,101, an increase of 105 over the 1950 fatalities. Non-fatal injuries also increased from 147,245 in 1950 to 159,090. Motor vehicle use in the state reached a high record of over thirty-four billion miles of travel and registrations topped four million vehicles for the first time.

The revocation-suspension procedure as applied to so-called "persistent violators" also has been stepped up. The program, which calls for more intensive review of files to screen out drivers with bad records, includes the following:

No suspension or revocation order issued by a referee shall be rescinded or modified without approval of the commissioner.

All appeals on suspension and revocation orders issued by motor vehicle referees shall be forwarded to the personal attention of the commissioner.

No case scheduled on a regular calendar of hearings shall be removed from that calendar, unless extenuating circumstances warrant it.

SPEEDING FROM LAND

Sometimes it seems that in our modern mania for speed we're hurtling directly away from a thing that can mean most to us—the land itself.

Super-highways and 90-mile-an-hour trains whisk us about so fast we often can't even see where we've been, much less where we're going. Planes rocket us along above the clouds and often out of sight of the earth. Subways shoot us through underground night.

Maybe we didn't set any speed records in the old slow days. But speed records are flimsy, perishable stuff anyway, and there's not much market left for them. There was nothing like an overland trek in a Model T to get the look and the feel and the smell of the land.

The end of bread rationing in Madrid this month undoubtedly will please the Spanish. It ought also remind us how fortunate we are.

RUCKERIZING

Both national conventions are evidently in for a hot battle, and uncommitted delegates will be at a premium. Any such would sigh with envy if they read the early history of our party conventions and came across the word "ruckerize."

In 1835 the Baltimore convention of the Democrats found itself without any representation from Tennessee. As this was President Andrew Jackson's own state, this would never do. By chance a Tennesseean, otherwise unknown to fame, named Rucker, was found, who had come to the city on business. He was pressed into service, and permitted to cast the entire 15 votes of Tennessee. The opposition party, the Whigs, made much fun of this, and the word "ruckerize" passed into the political vocabulary. They did well, however, not to press the point too hard, for in the 1844 they found themselves in the same situation regarding Arkansas. A man from Louisiana was allowed to cast that state's entire vote.

'These Days'

LATTIMORE FORGETS

It is amazing, when one reads the transcript of the McCarran Committee's testimony, how much Owen Lattimore could forget. The Johns-Hopkins professor had an office in the State Department Building (that is, the old building now used as a White House annex), but he seems to have a foggy notion of how he used it and what he did there.

It is all very unimportant except that Lattimore's defenders have painted a picture of a paragon of virtue who is being abused by Senator Joe McCarthy and Senator Pat McCarran, while he grew a halo around his noble head.

The testimony actually does not read that way. He was asked whether he had had a desk in the State Department. He said, yes. Then this colloquy took place:

"Mr. Morris. Were you a close associate of Lauchlin Currie?

"Mr. Lattimore. No, I would not say close. My work brought me into considerable contact with him for a very short period.

"Mr. Morris. Did you in fact have an office in the State Department Building with Lauchlin Currie?

"Mr. Lattimore. I had the use of one room of Mr. Currie's offices in that building."

However, he was living in Baltimore and he only came over to Washington occasionally. It was impossible to get him to say frankly how many days each week he used that room. This is the testimony:

"The Chairman. Answer the question propounded to you.

"Senator O'Conor. It would be accurate to say you used it several times a week over a period of four or five or six months?

"Mr. Lattimore. Yes."

Now, if you or I were given the convenience of office room in the State Department, we would not only remember it, but we would tell our children and grandchildren about it. But not Owen Lattimore! He took such conveniences in his stride. He testified in both executive session and in the open session that his attendance at that office was "irregular and infrequent."

However, the committee showed him a letter dated June 12, 1942, that he had written to "Dear Mr. Kizer." In that letter he had said:

"My home address is as typed above, and my home telephone is Towson 846-W. I am in Washington about four days a week, and when there can always be reached at Lauchlin Currie's office, Room 228, State Department Building; telephone National 1414, extension 90."

Also, Lattimore denied that when Lauchlin Currie was away he opened Currie's mail. Lauchlin Currie was one of President Roosevelt's administrative assistants, and he has been testified about adversely as a foreign agent before this committee. It was Lauchlin Currie who got Roosevelt to appoint Lattimore to be Chiang Kai-shek's adviser. All this is in the record.

So, after Lattimore denied that when Currie was away, he, Lattimore, handled Currie's mail, which ordinarily would have to do with White House business, the counsel for the McCarran Committee confronted the professor with the following letter which he had sent to E. C. Carter, the head of the Institute of Pacific Relations:

"Dear Carter:

"Currie asked me to take care of his correspondence while he is away and in view of your telegram of today, I think I had better tell you that he has gone to China on a special trip. This news is absolutely confidential until released in the press."

Lattimore had forgotten about his opening White House mail which passed over Currie's desk as administrative assistant to the President. All that he could say on the subject was: "Obviously, my memory was inaccurate."

Then, this colloquy followed:

"Mr. Morris. That is written on White House stationery, is it, Mr. Lattimore?

"Mr. Lattimore. Yes, dictated to Lauchlin Currie's secretary.

"Mr. Morris. Are you acquainted with the testimony before this committee that Lauchlin Currie aided an espionage ring in Washington during the war?

"Mr. Lattimore. No, I don't remember seeing that."

The professor forgot so much! In fact, as one goes through this testimony, it is difficult to discover what Lattimore actually remembered about what he did.

ALCOHOLISM IN INDUSTRY

"Placing workers in jobs for which they are unsuited, enforcing factors of stress to which we would not subject a mechanical contrivance and expecting performance beyond the capacity of the emotionally handicapped person are factors contributing to industrial alcoholism."

I am quoting Dr. S. N. Thompson in Industrial Medicine.

Dr. Thompson believes that industrial alcoholism plays more havoc with the smooth operation of the industrial machine than any illness or emotional disturbance, other than the common cold and painful monthly periods for women.

Now that alcoholism is treated like any other disease, physicians are investigating the causes, the symptoms and the treatment of alcoholism. Dr. Thompson discusses the causes of drinking, the nature of the alcoholic and the mental disorders that result from the prolonged overuse of alcohol. He is particularly interested in the disorders of personality as causes of alcoholism. There is something in the make-up of the alcoholic, some lack or inadequacy, a sort of let down of personality that he makes up for by turning to alcohol. Thus our research workers in alcohol and alcoholism believe that alcoholism is a disease that affects the emotionally handicapped.

The alcoholic does not have a well integrated personality to help him face his difficulties. The alcoholic has to have periods of escape from his own characteristics, and makes his escape by the use of alcohol. Thus we see that with a certain percentage of alcohol in his blood, the alcoholic not only escapes from his difficulties but feels that he can drive his automobile rapidly and safely or perform other feats of skill and strength. This is the reason that everywhere today there is a movement to help the alcoholic understand that in driving a car he must have control of all his faculties, that he is not his best self when he is under the influence of alcohol.

The day is not far off when the hospital ambulance will pick up intoxicated persons and place them in hospital for treatment just as in any other form of illness.

A Game We Can All Play At

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Paris, France
April 21, 1952

Dear Daughter:

I have been sitting in my hotel room looking down at the park next to the Champs Elysees, watching French children play and thinking of the many times when I have been in Paris before. The children are swinging on swings, riding on a merry-go-round, roller-skating, or sitting on bored and dejected donkeys which walk the length of the park and back for 10 francs per promenade.

It reminds me of the time when you and Tyler were very small and we visited Paris. And it also reminds me of other trips when I was a lot younger and more optimistic about the peace of the world.

The first time I came to Paris was after a great war had been fought which we thought was to free the world, when Woodrow Wilson's vibrant doctrine still rang in people's ears and they were convinced that peace could be with us permanently.

The next time I came to Paris was in 1927, en route to the Geneva Naval Conference which was to carry out the disarmament goals of that peace. Your mother was with me then and we left you behind—so small you didn't recognize me when I returned. But at Geneva, Bethlehem Steel, Newport News Ship and other shipbuilding companies had hired a lobbyist to upset the treaty—because they wanted to build warships. And because the French, Italians and Japanese were also not enthusiastic, he succeeded.

The next year I came back to Paris with Frank B. Kellogg, who, as secretary of state, had negotiated a treaty to outlaw war. I watched the ceremony of the signing of the Kellogg-Briand Pact and got a great thrill—as did much of the world—over the idea that at long last it was now illegal to make war.

Seeds of War Planted

My next trip to Paris was during the London Naval Conference in 1930—an attempt by a most high-minded secretary of state, Henry L. Stimson, to curtail the weapons of war. But he was not even able to persuade his isolationist chief in the White House — Herbert Hoover — that we should consult with other nations in case war threatened.

That conference was a tragic failure. And with that failure it seemed to me the world started downhill again—toward war. War does not start easily or quickly. The seeds are planted long in advance. They do not sprout suddenly—as when Hitler invaded Poland in 1939. They had been planted perhaps eight or nine years before that invasion. And by the next time I came to Paris they had definitely begun to sprout.

That was Christmas of 1936. You were with me then. But you didn't know, any more than the children playing in the park below my hotel window today know, that the seeds of war were already planted.

A sure and certain sign that they were planted had to come in March 1936, when Hitler's troops marched into the Ruhr and Rhineland. With that vital source of iron and steel, Hitler had the tools of war in his hands, and it was only a matter of time before hostilities started.

Actually the seeds of war had sprouted well before this. They had been nurtured in the soil of depression, bank failures, unemployment, hopelessness. The seeds were really planted when American investors stopped buying European bonds, thereby ending the American subsidy which kept Europe prosperous under Harding and Coolidge and which—though paid in a different form through the Marshall Plan—also has kept Europe prosperous under Truman.

When people lose hope they turn to war. And the great depression from 1932 to 1939 had made Europe lose hope.

Milestones to Peace

It seems that most of my trips to Paris have been connected somehow or other with milestones on the road to or from peace. My next trip was for the Paris Peace Conference in 1946, when Americans generally had great hope for peace—though Europe was skeptical. That was when Jimmie Byrnes gradually saw hope fade—dashed on the rock of Russian recalcitrance. That was also when Europe again began to lose hope.

And when I visited Paris one year later with the Friendship Train, Europe was starving, ships were tied up by mutinous stevedores, railroads were on strike, communism was on the march, and I have never seen Paris so woeful and discouraged.

The Marshall Plan came after that and, despite some of its faults, it wrought miracles. Its drive in the right direction is being continued by Eisenhower and the North Atlantic Pact. As a result, there is a note of hope in Paris.

But, underneath that hope, there is danger. Eisenhower's departure is one danger. Inflation and soaring prices are another. Resentment against America for forcing rearmament is another. Reversing the disarmament policies of Frank Kellogg and Henry L. Stimson, we now tell Europe their only hope is to rearm. Naturally, people don't take this reversal happily—especially when it means higher taxes and higher prices.

World Hangs in Balance

But the greatest danger in Europe today is the intense, extremely skillful propaganda of Soviet Russia against the North Atlantic army—especially against the dread idea of France and Germany marching together, unified, under the same flag. The Kremlin sees this, as many Europeans do not see it, as the first step toward European unity. And the Kremlin knows that European unity means prosperity, strength, and hope. In that kind of soil, also, the seeds of war do not grow.

That's why I think the next few months—during our elections—are so crucial. One more push can put across the unified European army—and, with it, European cooperation. But any number of things can stop it—the wrong president of the U.S.A., more harmful speeches like Tom Connally's, a sudden curtailment of American budgets for European defense, bickering among our allies, or the continued success of Soviet propaganda.

That's why I look down at the French kids playing in the park and wonder whether in 10 or 15 years they will still be enjoying life or marching off to war. If they march off to war, my grandsons also march off to war, and, as General Eisenhower told me the other day, so will his grandsons. That's why the next six months are so all-important. That's why it's going to take a ot of understanding and patience by the American people plus a lot of understanding and patience by our allies in Europe to achieve the great goal that seems almost within our grasp.

With love from
Your Father.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 23 — The truth about what has been happening behind the scenes in the steel controversy is slowly coming out. And, when all of it does, there will be some red faces in Washington, particularly on the floors of Congress and in the committees where some reckless statements have been made that do not seem to be facts.

For one thing, it turns out that the steel companies never have requested a price increase of $12 a ton. Yet just two weeks ago—on April 8—when the President addressed the nation by radio and television, he said:

"The steel companies are now saying they ought to have a price increase of $12 a ton."

The fact is the steel companies have never specified what price increase they wanted. They have never learned just what the terms of a settlement would be. They have never been able to compute the costs of what they would be required to accept as a wage scale.

This will come as a surprise to the public. In a sense it is a reflection on the steel companies because, for reasons best known to themselves, they have not seen fit to combat the erroneous statements and inferences that have appeared recently concerning their position.

The explanation offered by steel-industry spokesmen for their silence is that they were in the midst of negotiations in a rapidly changing situation. But, even so, it was apparently a matter of bargaining strategy which caused the steel companies not to ask for a price increase. Their original position, they said, was that stabilization meant no wage increase and no price increase. When the President's Wage Stabilization Board, however, reported a definite recommendation, the industry experts estimated that the full cost of the proposals would be approximately $12 a ton. But nowhere is there any record of any statement or oral request from the industry that, as a consequence, prices must be increased by $12 or any other figure.

This was because the administration took the position that a price increase of around $3 a ton was due the steel companies under the Capehart Amendment but nothing more would be granted.

This effectually stopped any request for a price increase, and the astonishing truth is that, ever since the steel companies were seized, the administration has spent its time trying to persuade the steel companies to accept the wage proposals of the board without offering anything at all in the way of a price increase beyond the Capehart Amendment, which was due the companies anyway apart from the present controversy.

At this writing, the President has not said he would order the Wage Stabilization Board's full proposals put into effect. Until he determines exactly what the wage figures finally are to be, the steel men say they cannot compute the cost or ask for a price increase to offset all or even a part of the costs. This illustrates the tragic bungling which has been going on all along.

Another misrepresentation has been the careless statement in Congress that the steel companies are building steel plants "tax free" and with money furnished by the taxpayers. The truth is that every company in certain lines of business can deduct each year one-twentieth of the cost of a plant, so that at the end of 20 years a fund can be built up to replace the factory or mill. The government here, since the Korean War broke out, has been anxious to stimulate the building of new steel plants and has allowed the deductions for depreciation to be accelerated so that they can be taken within five years. But if there are no profits against which to apply the deductions, there is no benefit to the companies from the five-year rule. Likewise these deductions on taxes do not start until after the plants are built.

The steel industry has to dig up more than a billion dollars a year of its own money to build the plants. The government doesn't grant the money. Nothing is "free." The total net profit of the steel industry after taxes last year was $667,000,000, so it is to be noted that the companies had to put up out of previous years' earnings a substantial sum in order to build new plants. Any large increase in costs, such as the new wage scales, has a bearing not only on how much profit will be left after taxes but what sums will be available after paying the wages of investors.

Also, once the five years are up, the companies pay the higher tax rates on all their earnings without the deduction, and they are saddled then with the cost of maintaining not only the new plants but the old ones which cannot possibly be reproduced at their original cost.

A lot of loose talk about the economics of the steel industry has been heard lately, and it is regrettable that the issue has been permitted in Congress to descend to the levels of demagoguery. It is a pretty serious business and can bring on a serious depression for America—indeed, the future of the American economic system is at stake in the handling of the steel controversy, apart from the fact that steelworkers' wages should be raised or that certain increases must be allowed to cover real costs. Government intrusion in management, operation and planning activities of the steel industry is dangerous. Already some companies are beginning to cancel expansion plans as too risky.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Carl Carmer made a good study of the Hudson and although I have his The Hudson I ran across an article in the Times Union of Aug. 4, 1950, in their 95th Anniversary number of their newspaper which was new to me. It told of the squat Dutch Sloops or Hudson river sloops as described by Carmer in his book. The sloops the Dutch built here were well rounded, their average length being about 70 to 90 or 100 feet. Carmer writes it seems: "At first sight the sloops seemed all mainsail. The mast was set well forward and the jib and topsail were small, while the big main sheet bellied out with more than a little bag from the long heavy boom."

With our local interest in everything Dutch lately, it says for instance: "Soon after the Dutch came to this part of the Hudson, the sloops became the usual means of transportation between Albany and Manhattan. Jacob Klomp was the captain of the most generally used sloop between Fort Orange and New Amsterdam. He carried beaver-skins and grain and lumber in cargoes so heavy that his vessel set low in the water as she sailed downriver. On the return journey he sometimes brought hogs, butter, brandy, etc."

For those who are proud of their Hollander ancestry it is said that the Dutch boatmen were more skilful than the English and the language of most men who "followed the Hudson River" remained Dutch after English rule came, and for a considerable time afterwards. Negro slaves, the Dutchmen discovered, easily adapted themselves to river life and it was not an unusual sight to see a sloop manned by blacks and commanded by a white captain—all carrying on loquaciously in excited Dutch."

I imagine one of those Dutch Hudson river sloops would be nice to model in miniature proportion. For as time went on the Dutch gradually improved their early sloops and made them gay and colorful. It is said the Dutch owners slapped vivid colors on them until they looked bright and perhaps gaudy as a fiesta day. It is said that in the days before the big steamboats the packet sloops were roomy and had plenty of deck space.

The Albany Times Union goes back to 1781 to describe their business streets at which time they say they had only 17 shops and stores, "practically all of whose merchandise was imported from Europe. There were no factories to speak of. But 15 years later after the country freed itself from foreign domination, Albany had 131 shops. Because of this fine location produce was easily brought from the Mohawk Valley and other parts of New England. Also lumber, potash, etc., was brought into town during the winter on sleds, and shipped by a fleet of some 90 river vessels when the ice broke. Commerce took a second life from the War of 1812. It is said that in the winter of 1795 already the city was a shopping center for on one day alone an observer counted some 500 sleighs. It seems they were heading out the Western Turnpike, loaded with their families and supplies. I guess Albany has been growing ever since.

Questions — Answers

Q—What is the origin of the baseball term "southpaw?"

A—This term was coined by a sports writer when the playing fields where laid out from west to east. The grandstands faced east so that the spectators would not face the afternoon sun. A left-handed pitcher facing home plate faced west; his right shoulder pointed toward the north, his left toward the south. He pitched then, with his "south-paw."

Q—How many tons of bombs were dropped on England in 1942?

A—Forty-two thousand tons were dropped.

REVOCATION OF LICENSES

Warning motor vehicle operators to protect their driving privileges by full compliance with traffic laws and safe driving rules, the New York State Motor Vehicle Commissioner has declared that "once you lose your license, it's going to be tougher than ever to get it back—if you get it back at all."

Mandatory revocations of licenses for such offenses as driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident, three speeding convictions in eighteen months or homicide arising out of the operation of a motor vehicle, means being ruled off the road for at least one year and may mean being ruled off forever.

It is pointed out that necessity for intensification of license action against careless, lawless drivers is indicated by the steadily rising highway accident toll. The commissioner intends to make full, effective use of the license revocation weapon to remove from the roads those who refuse to conform to standards of safe driving on our congested streets and highways.

Increased deaths on the highways, together with record non-fatal injuries and increased motor vehicle use of the highways and higher registrations have caused the Bureau of Motor Vehicles to adopt tougher, new procedures governing restoration of revoked driver licenses.

Last year's traffic death toll in the state rose to 2,101, an increase of 105 over the 1950 fatalities. Non-fatal injuries also increased from 147,245 in 1950 to 159,090. Motor vehicle use in the state reached a high record of over thirty-four billion miles of travel and registrations topped four million vehicles for the first time.

The revocation-suspension procedure as applied to so-called "persistent violators" also has been stepped up. The program, which calls for more intensive review of files to screen out drivers with bad records, includes the following:

No suspension or revocation order issued by a referee shall be rescinded or modified without approval of the commissioner.

All appeals on suspension and revocation orders issued by motor vehicle referees shall be forwarded to the personal attention of the commissioner.

No case scheduled on a regular calendar of hearings shall be removed from that calendar, unless extenuating circumstances warrant it.

SPEEDING FROM LAND

Sometimes it seems that in our modern mania for speed we're hurtling directly away from a thing that can mean most to us—the land itself.

Super-highways and 90-mile-an-hour trains whisk us about so fast we often can't even see where we've been, much less where we're going. Planes rocket us along above the clouds and often out of sight of the earth. Subways shoot us through underground night.

Maybe we didn't set any speed records in the old slow days. But speed records are flimsy, perishable stuff anyway, and there's not much market left for them. There was nothing like an overland trek in a Model T to get the look and the feel and the smell of the land.

The end of bread rationing in Madrid this month undoubtedly will please the Spanish. It ought also remind us how fortunate we are.

RUCKERIZING

Both national conventions are evidently in for a hot battle, and uncommitted delegates will be at a premium. Any such would sigh with envy if they read the early history of our party conventions and came across the word "ruckerize."

In 1835 the Baltimore convention of the Democrats found itself without any representation from Tennessee. As this was President Andrew Jackson's own state, this would never do. By chance a Tennesseean, otherwise unknown to fame, named Rucker, was found, who had come to the city on business. He was pressed into service, and permitted to cast the entire 15 votes of Tennessee. The opposition party, the Whigs, made much fun of this, and the word "ruckerize" passed into the political vocabulary. They did well, however, not to press the point too hard, for in the 1844 they found themselves in the same situation regarding Arkansas. A man from Louisiana was allowed to cast that state's entire vote.

Think what a "ruckerizer" could do with his opportunities now!

'These Days'

LATTIMORE FORGETS

It is amazing, when one reads the transcript of the McCarran Committee's testimony, how much Owen Lattimore could forget. The Johns-Hopkins professor had an office in the State Department Building (that is, the old building now used as a White House annex), but he seems to have a foggy notion of how he used it and what he did there.

It is all very unimportant except that Lattimore's defenders have painted a picture of a paragon of virtue who is being abused by Senator Joe McCarthy and Senator Pat McCarran, while he grew a halo around his noble head.

The testimony actually does not read that way. He was asked whether he had had a desk in the State Department. He said, yes. Then this colloquy took place:

"Mr. Morris. Were you a close associate of Lauchlin Currie?

"Mr. Lattimore. No, I would not say close. My work brought me into considerable contact with him for a very short period.

"Mr. Morris. Did you in fact have an office in the State Department Building with Lauchlin Currie?

"Mr. Lattimore. I had the use of one room of Mr. Currie's offices in that building."

However, he was living in Baltimore and he only came over to Washington occasionally. It was impossible to get him to say frankly how many days each week he used that room. This is the testimony:

"The Chairman. Answer the question propounded to you.

"Senator O'Conor. It would be accurate to say you used it several times a week over a period of four or five or six months?

"Mr. Lattimore. Yes."

Now, if you or I were given the convenience of office room in the State Department, we would not only remember it, but we would tell our children and grandchildren about it. But not Owen Lattimore! He took such conveniences in his stride. He testified in both executive session and in the open session that his attendance at that office was "irregular and infrequent."

However, the committee showed him a letter dated June 12, 1942, that he had written to "Dear Mr. Kizer." In that letter he had said:

"My home address is as typed above, and my home telephone is Towson 846-W. I am in Washington about four days a week, and when there can always be reached at Lauchlin Currie's office, Room 228, State Department Building; telephone National 1414, extension 90."

Also, Lattimore denied that when Lauchlin Currie was away he opened Currie's mail. Lauchlin Currie was one of President Roosevelt's administrative assistants, and he has been testified about adversely as a foreign agent before this committee. It was Lauchlin Currie who got Roosevelt to appoint Lattimore to be Chiang Kai-shek's adviser. All this is in the record.

So, after Lattimore denied that when Currie was away, he, Lattimore, handled Currie's mail, which ordinarily would have to do with White House business, the counsel for the McCarran Committee confronted the professor with the following letter which he had sent to E. C. Carter, the head of the Institute of Pacific Relations:

"Dear Carter:

"Currie asked me to take care of his correspondence while he is away and in view of your telegram of today, I think I had better tell you that he has gone to China on a special trip. This news is absolutely confidential until released in the press."

Lattimore had forgotten about his opening White House mail which passed over Currie's desk as administrative assistant to the President. All that he could say on the subject was: "Obviously, my memory was inaccurate."

Then, this colloquy followed:

"Mr. Morris. That is written on White House stationery, is it, Mr. Lattimore?

"Mr. Lattimore. Yes, dictated to Lauchlin Currie's secretary.

"Mr. Morris. Are you acquainted with the testimony before this committee that Lauchlin Currie aided an espionage ring in Washington during the war?

"Mr. Lattimore. No, I don't remember seeing that."

The professor forgot so much! In fact, as one goes through this testimony, it is difficult to discover what Lattimore actually remembered about what he did.

ALCOHOLISM IN INDUSTRY

"Placing workers in jobs for which they are unsuited, enforcing factors of stress to which we would not subject a mechanical contrivance and expecting performance beyond the capacity of the emotionally handicapped person are factors contributing to industrial alcoholism."

I am quoting Dr. S. N. Thompson in Industrial Medicine.

Dr. Thompson believes that industrial alcoholism plays more havoc with the smooth operation of the industrial machine than any illness or emotional disturbance, other than the common cold and painful monthly periods for women.

Now that alcoholism is treated like any other disease, physicians are investigating the causes, the symptoms and the treatment of alcoholism. Dr. Thompson discusses the causes of drinking, the nature of the alcoholic and the mental disorders that result from the prolonged overuse of alcohol. He is particularly interested in the disorders of personality as causes of alcoholism. There is something in the make-up of the alcoholic, some lack or inadequacy, a sort of let down of personality that he makes up for by turning to alcohol. Thus our research workers in alcohol and alcoholism believe that alcoholism is a disease that affects the emotionally handicapped.

The alcoholic does not have a well integrated personality to help him face his difficulties. The alcoholic has to have periods of escape from his own characteristics, and makes his escape by the use of alcohol. Thus we see that with a certain percentage of alcohol in his blood, the alcoholic not only escapes from his difficulties but feels that he can drive his automobile rapidly and safely or perform other feats of skill and strength. This is the reason that everywhere today there is a movement to help the alcoholic understand that in driving a car he must have control of all his faculties, that he is not his best self when he is under the influence of alcohol.

The day is not far off when the hospital ambulance will pick up intoxicated persons and place them in hospital for treatment just as in any other form of illness.

A Game We Can All Play At

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Paris, France
April 21, 1952

Dear Daughter:

I have been sitting in my hotel room looking down at the park next to the Champs Elysees, watching French children play and thinking of the many times when I have been in Paris before. The children are swinging on swings, riding on a merry-go-round, roller-skating, or sitting on bored and dejected donkeys which walk the length of the park and back for 10 francs per promenade.

It reminds me of the time when you and Tyler were very small and we visited Paris. And it also reminds me of other trips when I was a lot younger and more optimistic about the peace of the world.

The first time I came to Paris was after a great war had been fought which we thought was to free the world, when Woodrow Wilson's vibrant doctrine still rang in people's ears and they were convinced that peace could be with us permanently.

The next time I came to Paris was in 1927, en route to the Geneva Naval Conference which was to carry out the disarmament goals of that peace. Your mother was with me then and we left you behind—so small you didn't recognize me when I returned. But at Geneva, Bethlehem Steel, Newport News Ship and other shipbuilding companies had hired a lobbyist to upset the treaty—because they wanted to build warships. And because the French, Italians and Japanese were also not enthusiastic, he succeeded.

The next year I came back to Paris with Frank B. Kellogg, who, as secretary of state, had negotiated a treaty to outlaw war. I watched the ceremony of the signing of the Kellogg-Briand Pact and got a great thrill—as did much of the world—over the idea that at long last it was now illegal to make war.

Seeds of War Planted

My next trip to Paris was during the London Naval Conference in 1930—an attempt by a most high-minded secretary of state, Henry L. Stimson, to curtail the weapons of war. But he was not even able to persuade his isolationist chief in the White House — Herbert Hoover — that we should consult with other nations in case war threatened.

That conference was a tragic failure. And with that failure it seemed to me the world started downhill again—toward war. War does not start easily or quickly. The seeds are planted long in advance. They do not sprout suddenly—as when Hitler invaded Poland in 1939. They had been planted perhaps eight or nine years before that invasion. And by the next time I came to Paris they had definitely begun to sprout.

That was Christmas of 1936. You were with me then. But you didn't know, any more than the children playing in the park below my hotel window today know, that the seeds of war were already planted.

A sure and certain sign that they were planted had to come in March 1936, when Hitler's troops marched into the Ruhr and Rhineland. With that vital source of iron and steel, Hitler had the tools of war in his hands, and it was only a matter of time before hostilities started.

Actually the seeds of war had sprouted well before this. They had been nurtured in the soil of depression, bank failures, unemployment, hopelessness. The seeds were really planted when American investors stopped buying European bonds, thereby ending the American subsidy which kept Europe prosperous under Harding and Coolidge and which—though paid in a different form through the Marshall Plan—also has kept Europe prosperous under Truman.

When people lose hope they turn to war. And the great depression from 1932 to 1939 had made Europe lose hope.

Milestones to Peace

It seems that most of my trips to Paris have been connected somehow or other with milestones on the road to or from peace. My next trip was for the Paris Peace Conference in 1946, when Americans generally had great hope for peace—though Europe was skeptical. That was when Jimmie Byrnes gradually saw hope fade—dashed on the rock of Russian recalcitrance. That was also when Europe again began to lose hope.

And when I visited Paris one year later with the Friendship Train, Europe was starving, ships were tied up by mutinous stevedores, railroads were on strike, communism was on the march, and I have never seen Paris so woeful and discouraged.

The Marshall Plan came after that and, despite some of its faults, it wrought miracles. Its drive in the right direction is being continued by Eisenhower and the North Atlantic Pact. As a result, there is a note of hope in Paris.

But, underneath that hope, there is danger. Eisenhower's departure is one danger. Inflation and soaring prices are another. Resentment against America for forcing rearmament is another. Reversing the disarmament policies of Frank Kellogg and Henry L. Stimson, we now tell Europe their only hope is to rearm. Naturally, people don't take this reversal happily—especially when it means higher taxes and higher prices.

World Hangs in Balance

But the greatest danger in Europe today is the intense, extremely skillful propaganda of Soviet Russia against the North Atlantic army—especially against the dread idea of France and Germany marching together, unified, under the same flag. The Kremlin sees this, as many Europeans do not see it, as the first step toward European unity. And the Kremlin knows that European unity means prosperity, strength, and hope. In that kind of soil, also, the seeds of war do not grow.

That's why I think the next few months—during our elections—are so crucial. One more push can put across the unified European army—and, with it, European cooperation. But any number of things can stop it—the wrong president of the U.S.A., more harmful speeches like Tom Connally's, a sudden curtailment of American budgets for European defense, bickering among our allies, or the continued success of Soviet propaganda.

That's why I look down at the French kids playing in the park and wonder whether in 10 or 15 years they will still be enjoying life or marching off to war. If they march off to war, my grandsons also march off to war, and, as General Eisenhower told me the other day, so will his grandsons. That's why the next six months are so all-important. That's why it's going to take a ot of understanding and patience by the American people plus a lot of understanding and patience by our allies in Europe to achieve the great goal that seems almost within our grasp.

With love from

Your Father.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 23 — The truth about what has been happening behind the scenes in the steel controversy is slowly coming out. And, when all of it does, there will be some red faces in Washington, particularly on the floors of Congress and in the committees where some reckless statements have been made that do not seem to be facts.

For one thing, it turns out that the steel companies never have requested a price increase of $12 a ton. Yet just two weeks ago—on April 8—when the President addressed the nation by radio and television, he said:

"The steel companies are now saying they ought to have a price increase of $12 a ton."

The fact is the steel companies have never specified what price increase they wanted. They have never learned just what the terms of a settlement would be. They have never been able to compute the costs of what they would be required to accept as a wage scale.

This will come as a surprise to the public. In a sense it is a reflection on the steel companies because, for reasons best known to themselves, they have not seen fit to combat the erroneous statements and inferences that have appeared recently concerning their position.

The explanation offered by steel-industry spokesmen for their silence is that they were in the midst of negotiations in a rapidly changing situation. But, even so, it was apparently a matter of bargaining strategy which caused the steel companies not to ask for a price increase. Their original position, they said, was that stabilization meant no wage increase and no price increase. When the President's Wage Stabilization Board, however, reported a definite recommendation, the industry experts estimated that the full cost of the proposals would be approximately $12 a ton. But nowhere is there any record of any statement or oral request from the industry that, as a consequence, prices must be increased by $12 or any other figure.

This was because the administration took the position that a price increase of around $3 a ton was due the steel companies under the Capehart Amendment but nothing more would be granted.

This effectually stopped any request for a price increase, and the astonishing truth is that, ever since the steel companies were seized, the administration has spent its time trying to persuade the steel companies to accept the wage proposals of the board without offering anything at all in the way of a price increase beyond the Capehart Amendment, which was due the companies anyway apart from the present controversy.

At this writing, the President has not said he would order the Wage Stabilization Board's full proposals put into effect. Until he determines exactly what the wage figures finally are to be, the steel men say they cannot compute the cost or ask for a price increase to offset all or even a part of the costs. This illustrates the tragic bungling which has been going on all along.

Another misrepresentation has been the careless statement in Congress that the steel companies are building steel plants "tax free" and with money furnished by the taxpayers. The truth is that every company in certain lines of business can deduct each year one-twentieth of the cost of a plant, so that at the end of 20 years a fund can be built up to replace the factory or mill. The government here, since the Korean War broke out, has been anxious to stimulate the building of new steel plants and has allowed the deductions for depreciation to be accelerated so that they can be taken within five years. But if there are no profits against which to apply the deductions, there is no benefit to the companies from the five-year rule. Likewise these deductions on taxes do not start until after the plants are built.

The steel industry has to dig up more than a billion dollars a year of its own money to build the plants. The government doesn't grant the money. Nothing is "free." The total net profit of the steel industry after taxes last year was $667,000,000, so it is to be noted that the companies had to put up out of previous years' earnings a substantial sum in order to build new plants. Any large increase in costs, such as the new wage scales, has a bearing not only on how much profit will be left after taxes but what sums will be available after paying the wages of investors.

Also, once the five years are up, the companies pay the higher tax rates on all their earnings without the deduction, and they are saddled then with the cost of maintaining not only the new plants but the old ones which cannot possibly be reproduced at their original cost.

A lot of loose talk about the economics of the steel industry has been heard lately, and it is regrettable that the issue has been permitted in Congress to descend to the levels of demagoguery. It is a pretty serious business and can bring on a serious depression for America—indeed, the future of the American economic system is at stake in the handling of the steel controversy, apart from the fact that steelworkers' wages should be raised or that certain increases must be allowed to cover real costs. Government intrusion in management, operation and planning activities of the steel industry is dangerous. Already some companies are beginning to cancel expansion plans as too risky.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Carl Carmer made a good study of the Hudson and although I have his The Hudson I ran across an article in the Times Union of Aug. 4, 1950, in their 95th Anniversary number of their newspaper which was new to me. It told of the squat Dutch Sloops or Hudson river sloops as described by Carmer in his book. The sloops the Dutch built here were well rounded, their average length being about 70 to 90 or 100 feet. Carmer writes it seems: "At first sight the sloops seemed all mainsail. The mast was set well forward and the jib and topsail were small, while the big main sheet bellied out with more than a little bag from the long heavy boom."

With our local interest in everything Dutch lately, it says for instance: "Soon after the Dutch came to this part of the Hudson, the sloops became the usual means of transportation between Albany and Manhattan. Jacob Klomp was the captain of the most generally used sloop between Fort Orange and New Amsterdam. He carried beaver-skins and grain and lumber in cargoes so heavy that his vessel set low in the water as she sailed downriver. On the return journey he sometimes brought hogs, butter, brandy, etc."

For those who are proud of their Hollander ancestry it is said that the Dutch boatmen were more skilful than the English and the language of most men who "followed the Hudson River" remained Dutch after English rule came, and for a considerable time afterwards. Negro slaves, the Dutchmen discovered, easily adapted themselves to river life and it was not an unusual sight to see a sloop manned by blacks and commanded by a white captain—all carrying on loquaciously in excited Dutch."

I imagine one of those Dutch Hudson river sloops would be nice to model in miniature proportion. For as time went on the Dutch gradually improved their early sloops and made them gay and colorful. It is said the Dutch owners slapped vivid colors on them until they looked bright and perhaps gaudy as a fiesta day. It is said that in the days before the big steamboats the packet sloops were roomy and had plenty of deck space.

The Albany Times Union goes back to 1781 to describe their business streets at which time they say they had only 17 shops and stores, "practically all of whose merchandise was imported from Europe. There were no factories to speak of. But 15 years later after the country freed itself from foreign domination, Albany had 131 shops. Because of this fine location produce was easily brought from the Mohawk Valley and other parts of New England. Also lumber, potash, etc., was brought into town during the winter on sleds, and shipped by a fleet of some 90 river vessels when the ice broke. Commerce took a second life from the War of 1812. It is said that in the winter of 1795 already the city was a shopping center for on one day alone an observer counted some 500 sleighs. It seems they were heading out the Western Turnpike, loaded with their families and supplies. I guess Albany has been growing ever since.

Questions — Answers

Q—What is the origin of the baseball term "southpaw?"

A—This term was coined by a sports writer when the playing fields where laid out from west to east. The grandstands faced east so that the spectators would not face the afternoon sun. A left-handed pitcher facing home plate faced west; his right shoulder pointed toward the north, his left toward the south. He pitched then, with his "south-paw."

Q—How many tons of bombs were dropped on England in 1942?

A—Forty-two thousand tons were dropped.

Fordham Alumni Honor Loughran With First Award

A feature of the luncheon held Saturday at the Hotel Biltmore in New York city by Fordham Law School, attended by about 600 alumni, was the presentation of the first annual award of a Fordham Law Alumni Medal of Achievement to Chief Judge John T. Loughran of the New York State Court of Appeals.

Judge Loughran was graduated summa cum laude from Fordham Law School in 1911. He taught law at Fordham Law School and later practiced law in New York city, in Kingston his home town, and after being elected to the Supreme Court bench of the Third Judicial District, he later was elected to the state's highest court and became chief judge.

Justice James B. M. McNally, of the State Supreme Court, who is president of the Law Alumni Association, described Judge Loughran as a judge "who asks no man's favor and fears no man's frown."

"We all know him as a judge determined to work even justice between all parties regardless of the favor of the great or the clamor of the multitude," Justice McNally said. "A judge who is cautious though he is quick. A man who has great self restraint though he is patience and kindness themselves. He asks for evidence though we know he has knowledge. He has diligence though the speed of his perception might well have led him to sloth. A man's man. A lawyer's lawyer. And judge's judge."

Home Bureau

Kerhonkson Unit

The Kerhonkson Home Bureau Unit No. 1 met at the home of Mrs. Joseph Friedman Wednesday night. Mrs. Oscar Groves, chairman, presided. Eighteen members and two guests, Mrs. Robert Coles and Mrs. Elroy Smith, were present.

Mrs. Anna Poole of the Sunshine committee reported that a member, Mrs. Ethel Decker, had been hospitalized with an injured ankle during the preceding week and that a pot plant had been sent to her. A card was sent to Mrs. Joseph Friedman during her recent illness. A thank-you note for the pot plant received last month by Mrs. Francis McCauley was read.

Articles made during the year in the various projects will be exhibited in the window of Brown's drug store during Home Demonstration Week, April 28-May 3. Members are asked to leave their handiwork at the store by Monday morning ready for display.

Miss Helen Rowe, assistant Home Demonstration agent, Kingston, presented an interesting talk on keeping the new look, with helpful hints on how to keep the clothes looking better and to wear them longer. So much interest was shown in the mending that Miss Rowe promised to devote a special lesson to it another time.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Henry Decker, May 14, at 8 p. m., at which time program plans will be made and leaders selected for projects.

Lomontville Unit

The regular monthly meeting of the Lomontville unit of the Home Bureau will take place Thursday at 1 p. m. in the community hall. Mrs. E. B. Shumate will conclude her talk on Making the Most of Our Differences.

Tillson Unit

The Tillson unit will have its first lesson on decorative stitches Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the church hall. Mrs. Helen Sutherland and Mrs. Gus Hoyt will be the leaders.

Jones visited the Widow Brown every evening and had coffee with her.

Friend—Why don't you marry her?

Jones—I have often thought about it, but where should I spend my evenings then?

May every day bring more happiness than yesterday.

She (sobbing)—My husband has disappeared. Here is his picture. I want you to find him.

The sergeant looked up from the photograph.

Sergeant—Why?

He who excuses himself accuses himself.—Gabriel Meurier.

Actor—I wouldn't mind going on TV.

Friend—How come?

Actor—I used to date a fortune teller and I'd like to try out a new medium!

Many a girl in musical comedy who has a beautiful soprano voice fails because she can't kick as high as she can sing.

From a correspondent school advertisement: "Writing is simple. All you have to do is to sit down and write." Uh, huh. But would anybody sit down and read?

Gertie—Your new boy friend is awfully touchy, isn't he?

Sophie—I'll say he is. Why last night when I started to recite "Goosey, Goosey, Gander" he almost leaped through the ceiling.

Did you hear about the moviegoer who wanted his money back. He said the picture was good but he was afraid to sit all alone in the theatre by himself.

Joan—Wow, listen to that dog bark. He must be vicious!

Connie—No, haven't you heard that barking dogs don't bite?

Joan—Yes, but what happens when he stops barking?

Buying what you do not need is an easy road to needing what you cannot buy.

NEW CANCER APPROACH—Medical researchers at the University of California inject nitrogen mustard directly into the arteries of an advanced cancer patient. The powerful chemical derivative of a wartime poison gas is delivered directly to the cancer to destroy the malignant tissue with minimum damage to other body organs. Still in the experimental stage, this possible means of treatment is being studied under an American Cancer Society grant.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Say Ike Cites Abuses in Letter

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was quoted today as saying the government's answer "to excessive control is more control" and that there has been federal "abuse of the taxing power."

Sen. Carlson of Kansas, who is supporting Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination, said the general recently made the statements in a letter to a friend. The senator did not name the friend in a speech prepared for delivery at a Rotary Club meeting here.

Carlson said the statements he quoted are examples showing where Eisenhower stands on domestic issues. He added that the general has made his views known "equally clear on a great number of our fundamental issues," and that opponents who say he hasn't are making "such false charges for only one reason: They see the nomination slipping away from them and they are desperate."

Meanwhile, Sen. Nixon of California urged Eisenhower to "repudiate unequivocally" President Truman's seizure of the steel industry.

"As a candidate for the Republican nomination he should do so just as soon as he goes on inactive status June 1," Nixon told a reporter.

Nixon, who is backing Gov. Earl Warren of California for the nomination, said all aspirants for the presidency should make their position known on the controversial seizure issue, and that most of them have.

Sen. Ives of New York, an Eisenhower supporter, disagreed with a statement by Nixon that Eisenhower's silence could cost him his chance at nomination, saying:

"After all, Eisenhower won't be in a position to state his views until he gets out of uniform the first of June. This whole steel controversy is likely to have blown over by then."

Woman Is Killed

Santa Rosa, Calif., April 23 (AP)—A woman identified as Barbara M. Bab, 41, of 165 Willow street, Roslyn Heights, N. Y., died in a train-auto collision here last night. She was alone in the auto, which was dragged nearly ¼ mile by a Northwestern Pacific freight locomotive.

Belgians are descendants of German and Celtic tribes, with an admixture of Latin.

Italy Gets No Paper

Rome, April 23 (AP)—All Italy was without newspapers today because of a 24-hour strike for higher pay for newsmen and printers. The Italian radio network broadcast only brief bulletins. Writers of regular radio news programs and Italian translating staffs of foreign agencies supplying news to Italy also were affected by the strike. The work stoppage is scheduled to end today. It began after a breakdown yesterday in negotiations between government representatives and the National Federation of Journalists.

Frederick and Maximilian would be proud of today's Schaefer beer

One hundred and ten years ago Frederick and Maximilian Schaefer started the Schaefer tradition of making America's finest beer. Since then, generation after generation of Schaefer brewers has carried on this tradition. We're the oldest brewers of lager beer in the country and we only wish the founders of our company could be with us to enjoy today's great Schaefer beer. We know they'd be proud of this clear, dry, mellow brew. It's the finest we have ever brewed.

Leatherneck Says Korean Sacrifice Not Appreciated

"The sensitivity of the American people is being dulled to the sacrifices of our fighting men in Korea," National Commandant John R. O'Brien of the Marine Corps League told Kingston leathernecks at the Governor Clinton Hotel last night.

"We have obscured their sacrifices in a maze of strikes as usual, profits as usual, prison riots and politics as usual, until it is amazing that we can maintain as high a morale in the armed forces as now exists."

The leatherneck leader was greeted by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk and officers of the Ulster Detachment of the League, headed by Commandant Edward Esposito. O'Brien complimented Newkirk on the widespread attention which had been focused on Kingston's 300th anniversary.

He also predicted favorable congressional action within the next 30 days on a bill to increase the Marine Corps and to put the commandant of the corps on the Joint Chiefs of Staff, a move which he described as "long overdue."

Two Boys Held; Man Is Wounded

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—Two teenage students at the Anderson School for Boys, a private school at Staatsburg, were arraigned today on charges of juvenile delinquency in connection with the shooting of an instructor at the school yesterday.

Children's Court Judge John R. Schwartz adjourned the case until next Thursday. The names of the boys, one 13 and the other 14, were withheld.

The instructor, Lewis Brody, of (72-72 112th street) Forest Hills, Queens, is a patient in the Northern Dutchess Health Center at Rhinebeck with a bullet wound in the right thigh. Hospital authorities said his condition was good.

The Dutchess county district attorney's office said the 13-year-old boy stole a .38 caliber revolver from the home of Deputy Sheriff Howard Green, on the school grounds. The boys claimed the revolver was discharged accidentally when they came up behind Brody on the school grounds yesterday, the prosecutor's office said.

Flood-Relief

Rome (AP)—Italy received $7,500,000 in flood-relief for the stricken populations of the Po Valley, Calabria, Sicily and Sardinia. Last fall all four regions were badly flooded. These figures, released by the Italian foreign ministry, are exclusive of contributions sent directly to the International Red Cross, and to the Pontifical Vatican Assistance Committee.

Grows Big Lemon

Roland, Man., (AP)—H. V. Van Wyck who bought a tiny lemon plant two years ago now has a remarkable lemon. Two ordinary lemons dropped off the plant when ripe but a third grew to 12 inches in circumference, weighing three-quarters of a pound.

Eastern Sections Get Showers; Cool in West

(By The Associated Press)

April showers hit wide areas in the eastern half of the country today.

One rain belt extended from the New England states southwestward to Ohio, Indiana and Illinois and southward to the west gulf area. Heavy falls were reported in parts of Missouri and central Illinois and Indiana.

It was fair to partly cloudy over most other sections of the country.

Cool air spread eastward through the Great Lakes region and southward into Kansas, Oklahoma and parts of Texas. It was below freezing in areas from northern Minnesota to eastern Colorado. Readings were in the 30's and 40's in the upper Great Lakes and in the 60's from the Ohio river southward. Miami reported 83 early today while it was 57 in Los Angeles, 65 in New York and 44 in Chicago.

Local Death Record

Mrs. Catherine E. Williams

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine E. Salzman Williams, wife of Benjamin H. Williams, 29 Levan street, who died in Kingston April 20, was held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street. The Rev. David C. Gaise, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, officiated. Burial was in Montrepose Cemetery.

Katherine H. Miller

Katherine Henning Miller, formerly of Kingston, wife of Harry Miller died in Schenectady. Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Harry, also of Schenectady; a daughter, Mrs. Katherine Erickson, Schenectady; and four grandchildren. The funeral will be held Friday at 10 a. m. at the Baxter's Funeral Home, Schenectady. Burial will be in Wiltwyck Cemetery, Kingston.

Francis E. Connor

Francis E. Connor of 64 Brewster street died this morning in Kingston following a long illness. He was born in this city the son of the late John E. and Catherine Murphy Connor. Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Peter Lucas, Jersey City, N. J., Miss Mary K. Connor, Kingston and Mrs. John S. Banyo, Poughkeepsie; and a brother, John J. Connor, Kingston. The funeral will be held Saturday at 9 a. m. at the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith avenue, thence to St. Mary's Church where a high Mass of requiem will be offered at 9:30 a. m. for the repose of his soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Saigh Is Named On Tax Charge

St. Louis, April 23 (AP)—Fred M. Saigh, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals and a business associate of the late Robert E. Hannegan, former postmaster general, has been named in a federal indictment charging income tax evasion of $49,620.

The federal grand jury accused the 47-year-old attorney in a surprise action yesterday. He is charged with evading taxes on $108,823 unreported income for the years 1946 through 1949.

There had been no suspicion that Saigh was under investigation.

It was during those years that Saigh came into public prominence, first as a big-time real estate operator and later as owner of the Cardinal ball club.

The indictment against Saigh carries five counts providing a maximum penalty, if convicted, of 25 years imprisonment and a total of $50,000 in fines. Each of the counts cites a maximum penalty of five years in prison and $10,000 fine.

GARDINER

Gardiner, April 23—Mrs. George Quimby was a recent guest of her sister, Mrs. Katherine Manning of Schenectady.

The Rev. Eugene Ten-Brink of India spoke to the Youth's Fellowship Sunday night. Those attending enjoyed very enlightening comment on India and the many difficulties which face our missionaries there. Mr. Ten-Brink will return to India on the completion of his studies at Hartford, Conn.

Several persons attended the amateur show sponsored by the American Legion at Highland Saturday night. Roger Thorpe, trumpet soloist, of Gardiner, won third prize.

John (Pete) Moran caught a Brown trout 26 inches long with a 14 inch girth, weighing seven pounds one ounce, at Tillson Lake. He got another one, 20 inches long, weighing three pounds, nine ounces, Sunday morning. Friday John Coffey got a 22 inch Brown trout weighing four pounds and two ounces.

The Forest Glen Home Bureau unit will hold an exhibit and tea at the Reformed Church hall Wednesday, April 30, at 2 p. m. All are invited to attend and enjoy a social afternoon and observe the many projects worked on during the year. The unit met at the home of Mrs. Sophie Jamiolowski on Thursday night for the lesons in decorating stitches. The next lesson for this work will be held at the home of Mrs. Jamilowski Thursday, May 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Spanoski were in Kingston Saturday.

Schedule Given For X-ray Unit

The mobile X-ray unit of the New York State Department of Health this week moved to the township of Shandaken where free chest X-rays will be offered to all residents in that area. Today, the unit was in Phoenicia; on Thursday, April 24, in the town hall of Allaben; and Friday, April 25, the unit moves to Pine Hill and will be in front of the firehouse. The hours for each location are from 2:30 to 5:30 and from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m.

The organization and canvassing of the residents in the township of Shandaken has been progressing smoothly, according to the general chairman, Dr. Charles A. Quinn. Everyone who can should take advantage of this opportunity to get a free chest X-ray at any of the locations.

Up to the present time, about 2,500 people in the county have had their free chest X-rays. No undressing is necessary and the entire procedure takes but a few minutes. All persons over 15 years of age are invited to participate in the survey and help make it a success.

This program is sponsored by the Ulster County Department of Health. Assistance in organization, promotion, and publicity is being given by the Ulster County TB and Health Association through its Christmas Seals funds.

No Contests Occur In County Primary

With voting very light in most districts, primary day went off without any contests or difficulties in Ulster county, according to early returns at the Board of Elections.

Voting in New York state, unlike in some states, is for delegates to the national convention rather than for individual choice of candidates.

Delegates to the Republican National Convention from this district were Senator Arthur H. Wicks and Frederic H. Bontecou. Alternate delegates to the convention are Henry M. James and Neal Brandow.

Members of the state committee whose names appeared on the ballot for the Republican party were Senator Arthur H. Wicks and Marguerite M. Quick.

In a quick canvass of the early returns filed with the Board of Elections this morning, the vote appeared to be for the persons whose name appeared on the official ballot, although in one district there was a write-in on two ballots for "Senator Robert Taft."

Delegates to the Democratic National Convention are Sharon J. Mauhs and John H. Conine with Tuthill McDowell and Alexander Hamilton as alternates. Delegates to the state convention are Marie A. Koenig and Robert Haver.

Toll-Gate Protest Fails

San Pedro, Calif., (AP)—When the city built a parking toll-gate at nearby Cabrillo Beach recently, bathers used swim suits in protest. Inside the swim suits, the anti-toll-gaters placed their most beautiful bathing girls who carried placards protesting the parking charge. However, the bathing beauties failed to impress the city council which put the toll into effect anyway.

Thefts Are Reported

Police were notified early yesterday afternoon that someone had taken $60 from the home of Alice Barnhart, 43 Ravine street, and early today Jerry Berryann of 29 East Chester street reported the theft of four white, steel discs from his sedan.

Allies Accuse Reds

here now about the changes for an agreement than was apparent 10 days ago. The reason: Still secret allied proposals which were supposed to ease acceptance by Reds on voluntary prisoner return apparently have not had the hoped-for result.

The Communist attitude has been demonstrated in a new wave of propaganda attacks on the United States from the Red Chinese radio at Peiping. The Reds have charged America with spreading "artificially-inspired propaganda" of optimism to divert attention from the real issues.

They have accused the United Nations command in Korea of committing "the grossest provocation" by allegedly collecting petitions from Communist prisoners of war held by the allies stating that the signers desire not to return to Communist territory.

Previous Optimism

Previous optimism for an armistice agreement rested mainly on the belief that a solution was near on the prisoner exchange issue. The Reds have insisted on acceptance of the principle that all prisoners of both sides be sent home regardless of their individual wishes. The United Nations command has declared that prisoners who do not wish to return across the battle lines should not be forced to do so.

Officials here and UN leaders in Korea have said repeatedly there would be no compromise on this basic principle.

The POW problem has long been regarded by allied authorities as the key issue of three big ones remaining in the truce talks. The other two issues are a ban on building up of Red air fields in North Korea after an armistice and the Communist demand that Soviet Russia participate in truce supervision as one of several "neutral" governments.

American officials have felt for a long time that if the POW problem could be solved, the other two issued would be disposed of quickly.

Failure to solve the POW dispute soon, some authorities here believe, could head the truce talks toward a breakdown.

First Presbyterian Group Repeats Minstrel Show

Dedication Rites

to make this new building program possible. The good will and splendid cooperation given by the citizens of Kingston and all Ulster county in the past has been a great encouragement to the Sisters."

Provides New Beds

It was explained that the primary purpose back of the new construction was to provide badly needed hospital beds. It was also obvious that the present facilities in every department were entirely inadequate for an increased load, it was pointed out. The new additions were planned for the needs of the future and contain 77 adult beds distributed as follows: Private beds, 25; semi-private room beds, 28; wards with four beds each, 6; pediatrics, 17; and bassinets, 27. This added to our present structure gives a grand total of 208 beds.

The following departments were also provided:

North wing: Ground floor, complete X-ray department with two of General Electric's latest machines, dark room, viewing and physical therapy rooms, three offices and two visiting rooms.

First floor, pediatric department consisting of two wards with six beds each, isolation unit, one semi-private room and one infant's room, utility rooms and nurses stations.

Four New Operating Rooms

Third floor, four fully equipped operating rooms with modern tables, lights for both floor and ceiling, anesthesia machines, viewing boxes, built-in cabinets, stainless steel equipment, and provisions made for oxygen, suction and air-conditioning. The present two operating rooms will be converted into orthopedic and cystoscopy rooms.

South wing, penthouse or fourth floor. Complete modern maternity department providing two delivery rooms with stainless steel delivery tables, ceiling and floor lights, tables, stools and built-in cabinets. Same provision made as in the operating rooms for oxygen, suction and air-conditioning; two labor rooms, doctors' and nurses' dressing rooms.

Third floor, three nurseries with individual stainless steel bassinets, one premature and one suspect nursery, formula, examining, utility rooms and nurses' station.

Second floor, central supply room with large and small sterilizers and stainless steel equipment.

First floor, medical records and metal desks and equipment for the new system of filing, a completely equipped laboratory, doctors' library and lounge, administration department.

Ground floor, dietary department with special diet kitchen, main kitchen equipped with range, stainless steel ice-boxes, cabinets, food trucks, tray trucks and many other new labor-saving devices including an ice-maker, cafeteria and dining rooms.

Basement, a modern laundry with three washers, large, medium and small. Two extractors, two tumblers, one large mangle and other presses. Sewing room and large linen room, elevator and clothes chutes direct to laundry. Nurses stations and patients rooms will be equipped with the most modern calling system.

Alterations will soon convert the present nurses' stations on first and second floors into diet kitchens, and rooms 54 and 70 will be equipped for nurses' stations.

The rooms are painted in pastel shades to correspond with the color scheme of the Simfast finishes that lends warmth to the beautiful furniture fashioned in life-time steel and in contrasting colors.

The inadequacy of the Sisters' present dining room and the need of a larger staff necessitated the provision of a larger refectory.

Secrets Revealed

Says Nunan Had $161,609

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Treasury agents testified today that former Internal Revenue Commissioner Joseph D. Nunan, Jr., received $161,609 between 1945 and 1950 which he either did not report on his income tax returns or could not explain.

Samter Condition Is Still 'Serious'

The condition of Morris Samter, 68, of the Governor Clinton Hotel, injured in a collision Saturday afternoon on Route 9W near Port Ewen, was reported as "serious" at Kingston Hospital today.

Samter, who is an officer of the Kingston Lumber Corporation and a director of the National Ulster County Bank of Kingston, suffered chest injuries and shock, complicated by a cardiac condition, state police reported.

Fred Goeller, 17, of 306 Clinton avenue, injured in a head-on collision April 15 on Route 28 near the Sunset Drive-In Theatre, was reported to be in "fair" condition at Kingston hospital. The condition of William Keyser, 29, of 167 Tremper avenue, injured in the same accident, was described as "fair."

Workers Heighten

last July causing huge industrial district losses.

But with the treacherous Missouri you never know.

Army engineers boosted their estimates of damage to $54,800,000 from Rulo in southeastern Nebraska to the mouth above St. Louis. That included $27,700,000 of agriculture damage.

More than 600,000 acres are expected to be flooded in that stretch.

27.2 Feet at St. Joseph

The Missouri's slowly moving flood crest today was around St. Joseph with a top of 27.2 feet expected to equal the 1881 record. Actually, Col. E. E. Browning said, the river is carrying more water now than it did in that record flood.

No very heavy rains were forecast, but forecasters said that if heavy general rains developed, they'd have to raise their predicted flood peak at Kansas City to 32 feet—a foot higher than the level now predicted for Friday. Last year's record here was 36.2. Flood stage is 22 and the levees are built to take 40.8.

Light rain also fell in the Mississippi valley but not enough to affect the flood choked river very much.

At Leavenworth, Kas., the last private levee in the Kansas City district collapsed late yesterday. It protected the Missouri valley shipyards, working on a $7,500,000 government boat building project. Two hundred sandbaggers got out safely.

A leaking dike also imperilled Sherman Air Force Field near Old Fort Leavenworth. Troops first were evacuated, then fresh flood fighters were rushed in for a last ditch stand.

Truman Unmoved

committee yesterday, was reported by committee members to have budged not an inch from his White House-approved stand. He is against allowing the steel plants to raise prices more than about $3 a ton, as now permitted by the price control law.

The Senate Labor Committee, whose past actions have had a strong pro-administration flavor, called Phillip Murray, CIO president and head of the Steel Workers Union, to air the workers' side of the story at a public hearing.

The White House planned to release during the day findings of the Mobilization Advisory Committee, composed of representatives of industry, labor, agriculture and the public.

Sources which declined to be named told reporters this group, after a 25-minute meeting with Truman, voted yesterday that (1) the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) acted within fixed policy in recommending a 17½ cents an hour increase for the steel workers; (2) the industry now should publicly justify its demands for any price increase in excess of $3 a ton; and (3) condemned critics who accused the WSB's public members of having shown bias.

Catskill Collision Puts Two in Hospital

A two-car collision on Route 23, about a quarter of a mile west of Catskill, Monday night put two people in the Greene County Memorial Hospital and hurt three others.

Mrs. Elvai Porto, 42, of Catskill, was reported to be in "fair" condition, and Henry Hashes, 21, of Brooklyn, "satisfactory." Discharged after treatment were Walter Rothman, 22, of Madison, Wis., Louis Porto, 41, of Catskill, and Gloria Porto, 18, of Catskill.

Michigan Police

made the demand in a telephone talk from besieged Block 15 to Deputy Warden George Bacon. Ward demanded the governor's signature to any agreement.

For ten minutes this morning Ward talked through a barred window with Dr. Vernon Fox, assistant deputy warden and prison psychologist.

Afterwards, Dr. Fox went to the prison kitchen, presumably to get food for the 173 block inmates, now going into the third day of their fierce holdout.

231 Quit at Rahway

Rahway, N. J., April 23 (AP)—State prison farm authorities said today 231 rebel convicts gave up yesterday only when hoarded supplies of food and water ran low after a five-day mutiny.

R. William Lagay, prison superintendent, told newsmen the mutineers—apparently planning a long siege in their dormitory wing fortress—salvaged about 250 gallons of water from a fire hose Saturday before it was turned off.

Lagay said the holdouts also had stocks of baked beans, bread, jam, peanut butter and other canned provisions when they mutinied Thursday. He said the food apparently was smuggled from the prison kitchen.

During the five-day insurrection, convicts gave the outside world the impression they and eight hostage guards were thirsting and starving by draping a crude bedsheet sign outside smashed windows with the plaintive word, "water," and by chanting from time to time, "We want food."

The rebels are lodged in a huge drill hall, bedded down with mattresses on the floor, because there are not enough cells to accommodate them. That's why they were quartered in dormitories in the first place, Lagay said.

Hospital Receives Legacy of $5,000

Kingston Hospital has received a legacy from the Elsa Mason-Lord Peabody estate in the amount of $5,000, it was reported at the regular monthly meeting of the board of trustees Monday night.

Administrator William Sheldon said that the sum would be added to the hospital endowment fund. At the discretion of the board the money can be used for the endowment of hospital beds, he said.

Frank Matthews, chairman of the building expansion program, reported that all real estate needed had been acquired to permit the hospital to proceed with its building plans. There was no elaboration on the nature of these plans.

Miss Almena Porter, director of nursing, reported that 16 student nurses had received caps March 28 in ceremonies attended by approximately 150 people.

She expressed appreciation for the assistance given the nursing department by the hospital's women's auxiliary, which is now conducting patients to and from the X-ray department.

A report from the Rev. Frank Gollnick, expressing appreciation to The Freeman for its series of recent articles in commemoration of National Hospital Day, May 12, was read in his absence. Jacob Tremper, board "visitor of the month," reported on his inspection of the plant during the month of March. John D. Schoonmaker, president of the board, presided.

Temperature 83 Tuesday at 4 P.M.

The mercury hit a high of 83 degrees at 4 p. m., yesterday, but it was no record for April, the city engineer's office reported.

April's warmest day locally since records have been kept at the city hall was on the 20th in 1941 when the high for the day was 93 degrees. The day prior to that in the same year the high was 88 degrees.

The climb yesterday was from 45 degrees at 3 a. m. to a temperature 38 degrees warmer in the late afternoon. It was 66 degrees today at 10:45 a. m. The humidity, which was at 70 per cent at 10 a. m., dropped to 55 at 10:45 a.m.

The general forecast was rain today and Thursday.

Leatherneck Says Korean Sacrifice Not Appreciated

"The sensitivity of the American people is being dulled to the sacrifices of our fighting men in Korea," National Commandant John R. O'Brien of the Marine Corps League told Kingston leathernecks at the Governor Clinton Hotel last night.

"We have obscured their sacrifices in a maze of strikes as usual, profits as usual, prison riots and politics as usual, until it is amazing that we can maintain as high a morale in the armed forces as now exists."

The leatherneck leader was greeted by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk and officers of the Ulster Detachment of the League, headed by Commandant Edward Esposito. O'Brien complimented Newkirk on the widespread attention which had been focused on Kingston's 300th anniversary.

He also predicted favorable congressional action within the next 30 days on a bill to increase the Marine Corps and to put the commandant of the corps on the Joint Chiefs of Staff, a move which he described as "long overdue."

Two Boys Held; Man Is Wounded

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—Two teenage students at the Anderson School for Boys, a private school at Staatsburg, were arraigned today on charges of juvenile delinquency in connection with the shooting of an instructor at the school yesterday.

Children's Court Judge John R. Schwartz adjourned the case until next Thursday. The names of the boys, one 13 and the other 14, were withheld.

The instructor, Lewis Brody, of (72-72 112th street) Forest Hills, Queens, is a patient in the Northern Dutchess Health Center at Rhinebeck with a bullet wound in the right thigh. Hospital authorities said his condition was good.

The Dutchess county district attorney's office said the 13-year-old boy stole a .38 caliber revolver from the home of Deputy Sheriff Howard Green, on the school grounds. The boys claimed the revolver was discharged accidentally when they came up behind Brody on the school grounds yesterday, the prosecutor's office said.

Flood-Relief

Rome (AP)—Italy received $7,500,000 in flood-relief for the stricken populations of the Po Valley, Calabria, Sicily and Sardinia. Last fall all four regions were badly flooded. These figures, released by the Italian foreign ministry, are exclusive of contributions sent directly to the International Red Cross, and to the Pontifical Vatican Assistance Committee.

John (Pete) Moran caught a Brown trout 26 inches long with a 14 inch girth, weighing seven pounds one ounce, at Tillson Lake. He got another one, 20 inches long, weighing three pounds, nine ounces, Sunday morning. Friday John Coffey got a 22 inch Brown trout weighing four pounds and two ounces.

The Forest Glen Home Bureau unit will hold an exhibit and tea at the Reformed Church hall Wednesday, April 30, at 2 p. m. All are invited to attend and enjoy a social afternoon and observe the many projects worked on during the year. The unit met at the home of Mrs. Sophie Jamiolowski on Thursday night for the lesons in decorating stitches. The next lesson for this work will be held at the home of Mrs. Jamilowski Thursday, May 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Spanoski were in Kingston Saturday.

Schedule Given For X-ray Unit

The mobile X-ray unit of the New York State Department of Health this week moved to the township of Shandaken where free chest X-rays will be offered to all residents in that area. Today, the unit was in Phoenicia; on Thursday, April 24, in the town hall of Allaben; and Friday, April 25, the unit moves to Pine Hill and will be in front of the firehouse. The hours for each location are from 2:30 to 5:30 and from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m.

The organization and canvassing of the residents in the township of Shandaken has been progressing smoothly, according to the general chairman, Dr. Charles A. Quinn. Everyone who can should take advantage of this opportunity to get a free chest X-ray at any of the locations.

Up to the present time, about 2,500 people in the county have had their free chest X-rays. No undressing is necessary and the entire procedure takes but a few minutes. All persons over 15 years of age are invited to participate in the survey and help make it a success.

This program is sponsored by the Ulster County Department of Health. Assistance in organization, promotion, and publicity is being given by the Ulster County TB and Health Association through its Christmas Seals funds.

No Contests Occur In County Primary

With voting very light in most districts, primary day went off without any contests or difficulties in Ulster county, according to early returns at the Board of Elections.

Voting in New York state, unlike in some states, is for delegates to the national convention rather than for individual choice of candidates.

Delegates to the Republican National Convention from this district were Senator Arthur H. Wicks and Frederic H. Bontecou. Alternate delegates to the convention are Henry M. James and Neal Brandow.

Members of the state committee whose names appeared on the ballot for the Republican party were Senator Arthur H. Wicks and Marguerite M. Quick.

In a quick canvass of the early returns filed with the Board of Elections this morning, the vote appeared to be for the persons whose name appeared on the official ballot, although in one district there was a write-in on two ballots for "Senator Robert Taft."

Delegates to the Democratic National Convention are Sharon J. Mauhs and John H. Conine with Tuthill McDowell and Alexander Hamilton as alternates. Delegates to the state convention are Marie A. Koenig and Robert Haver.

Toll-Gate Protest Fails

San Pedro, Calif., (AP)—When the city built a parking toll-gate at nearby Cabrillo Beach recently, bathers used swim suits in protest. Inside the swim suits, the anti-toll-gaters placed their most beautiful bathing girls who carried placards protesting the parking charge. However, the bathing beauties failed to impress the city council which put the toll into effect anyway.

Thefts Are Reported

Police were notified early yesterday afternoon that someone had taken $60 from the home of Alice Barnhart, 43 Ravine street, and early today Jerry Berryann of 29 East Chester street reported the theft of four white, steel discs from his sedan.

Allies Accuse Reds

here now about the changes for an agreement than was apparent 10 days ago. The reason: Still secret allied proposals which were supposed to ease acceptance by Reds on voluntary prisoner return apparently have not had the hoped-for result.

The Communist attitude has been demonstrated in a new wave of propaganda attacks on the United States from the Red Chinese radio at Peiping. The Reds have charged America with spreading "artificially-inspired propaganda" of optimism to divert attention from the real issues.

They have accused the United Nations command in Korea of committing "the grossest provocation" by allegedly collecting petitions from Communist prisoners of war held by the allies stating that the signers desire not to return to Communist territory.

Previous Optimism

Previous optimism for an armistice agreement rested mainly on the belief that a solution was near on the prisoner exchange issue. The Reds have insisted on acceptance of the principle that all prisoners of both sides be sent home regardless of their individual wishes. The United Nations command has declared that prisoners who do not wish to return across the battle lines should not be forced to do so.

Officials here and UN leaders in Korea have said repeatedly there would be no compromise on this basic principle.

The POW problem has long been regarded by allied authorities as the key issue of three big ones remaining in the truce talks. The other two issues are a ban on building up of Red air fields in North Korea after an armistice and the Communist demand that Soviet Russia participate in truce supervision as one of several "neutral" governments.

American officials have felt for a long time that if the POW problem could be solved, the other two issued would be disposed of quickly.

Dedication Rites

to make this new building program possible. The good will and splendid cooperation given by the citizens of Kingston and all Ulster county in the past has been a great encouragement to the Sisters."

Provides New Beds

It was explained that the primary purpose back of the new construction was to provide badly needed hospital beds. It was also obvious that the present facilities in every department were entirely inadequate for an increased load, it was pointed out. The new additions were planned for the needs of the future and contain 77 adult beds distributed as follows: Private beds, 25; semi-private room beds, 28; wards with four beds each, 6; pediatrics, 17; and bassinets, 27. This added to our present structure gives a grand total of 208 beds.

The following departments were also provided:

North wing: Ground floor, complete X-ray department with two of General Electric's latest machines, dark room, viewing and physical therapy rooms, three offices and two visiting rooms.

First floor, pediatric department consisting of two wards with six beds each, isolation unit, one semi-private room and one infant's room, utility rooms and nurses stations.

Four New Operating Rooms

Third floor, four fully equipped operating rooms with modern tables, lights for both floor and ceiling, anesthesia machines, viewing boxes, built-in cabinets, stainless steel equipment, and provisions made for oxygen, suction and air-conditioning. The present two operating rooms will be converted into orthopedic and cystoscopy rooms.

South wing, penthouse or fourth floor. Complete modern maternity department providing two delivery rooms with stainless steel delivery tables, ceiling and floor lights, tables, stools and built-in cabinets. Same provision made as in the operating rooms for oxygen, suction and air-conditioning; two labor rooms, doctors' and nurses' dressing rooms.

Third floor, three nurseries with individual stainless steel bassinets, one premature and one suspect nursery, formula, examining, utility rooms and nurses' station.

Second floor, central supply room with large and small sterilizers and stainless steel equipment.

First floor, medical records and metal desks and equipment for the new system of filing, a completely equipped laboratory, doctors' library and lounge, administration department.

Ground floor, dietary department with special diet kitchen, main kitchen equipped with range, stainless steel ice-boxes, cabinets, food trucks, tray trucks and many other new labor-saving devices including an ice-maker, cafeteria and dining rooms.

Basement, a modern laundry with three washers, large, medium and small. Two extractors, two tumblers, one large mangle and other presses. Sewing room and large linen room, elevator and clothes chutes direct to laundry. Nurses stations and patients rooms will be equipped with the most modern calling system.

Alterations will soon convert the present nurses' stations on first and second floors into diet kitchens, and rooms 54 and 70 will be equipped for nurses' stations.

The rooms are painted in pastel shades to correspond with the color scheme of the Simfast finishes that lends warmth to the beautiful furniture fashioned in life-time steel and in contrasting colors.

The inadequacy of the Sisters' present dining room and the need of a larger staff necessitated the provision of a larger refectory.

Secrets Revealed

Says Nunan Had $161,609

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Treasury agents testified today that former Internal Revenue Commissioner Joseph D. Nunan, Jr., received $161,609 between 1945 and 1950 which he either did not report on his income tax returns or could not explain.

First lunch wagon in the United States was a horse-drawn affair in Worcester, Mass., operated in 1822 by Sam Jones.

Samter Condition Is Still 'Serious'

The condition of Morris Samter, 68, of the Governor Clinton Hotel, injured in a collision Saturday afternoon on Route 9W near Port Ewen, was reported as "serious" at Kingston Hospital today.

Samter, who is an officer of the Kingston Lumber Corporation and a director of the National Ulster County Bank of Kingston, suffered chest injuries and shock, complicated by a cardiac condition, state police reported.

Fred Goeller, 17, of 306 Clinton avenue, injured in a head-on collision April 15 on Route 28 near the Sunset Drive-In Theatre, was reported to be in "fair" condition at Kingston hospital. The condition of William Keyser, 29, of 167 Tremper avenue, injured in the same accident, was described as "fair."

Workers Heighten

last July causing huge industrial district losses.

But with the treacherous Missouri you never know.

Army engineers boosted their estimates of damage to $54,800,000 from Rulo in southeastern Nebraska to the mouth above St. Louis. That included $27,700,000 of agriculture damage.

More than 600,000 acres are expected to be flooded in that stretch.

27.2 Feet at St. Joseph

The Missouri's slowly moving flood crest today was around St. Joseph with a top of 27.2 feet expected to equal the 1881 record. Actually, Col. E. E. Browning said, the river is carrying more water now than it did in that record flood.

No very heavy rains were forecast, but forecasters said that if heavy general rains developed, they'd have to raise their predicted flood peak at Kansas City to 32 feet—a foot higher than the level now predicted for Friday. Last year's record here was 36.2. Flood stage is 22 and the levees are built to take 40.8.

Light rain also fell in the Mississippi valley but not enough to affect the flood choked river very much.

At Leavenworth, Kas., the last private levee in the Kansas City district collapsed late yesterday. It protected the Missouri valley shipyards, working on a $7,500,000 government boat building project. Two hundred sandbaggers got out safely.

A leaking dike also imperilled Sherman Air Force Field near Old Fort Leavenworth. Troops first were evacuated, then fresh flood fighters were rushed in for a last ditch stand.

Truman Unmoved

committee yesterday, was reported by committee members to have budged not an inch from his White House-approved stand. He is against allowing the steel plants to raise prices more than about $3 a ton, as now permitted by the price control law.

The Senate Labor Committee, whose past actions have had a strong pro-administration flavor, called Phillip Murray, CIO president and head of the Steel Workers Union, to air the workers' side of the story at a public hearing.

The White House planned to release during the day findings of the Mobilization Advisory Committee, composed of representatives of industry, labor, agriculture and the public.

Sources which declined to be named told reporters this group, after a 25-minute meeting with Truman, voted yesterday that (1) the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) acted within fixed policy in recommending a 17½ cents an hour increase for the steel workers; (2) the industry now should publicly justify its demands for any price increase in excess of $3 a ton; and (3) condemned critics who accused the WSB's public members of having shown bias.

Catskill Collision Puts Two in Hospital

A two-car collision on Route 23, about a quarter of a mile west of Catskill, Monday night put two people in the Greene County Memorial Hospital and hurt three others.

Mrs. Elvai Porto, 42, of Catskill, was reported to be in "fair" condition, and Henry Hashes, 21, of Brooklyn, "satisfactory." Discharged after treatment were Walter Rothman, 22, of Madison, Wis., Louis Porto, 41, of Catskill, and Gloria Porto, 18, of Catskill.

Michigan Police

made the demand in a telephone talk from besieged Block 15 to Deputy Warden George Bacon. Ward demanded the governor's signature to any agreement.

For ten minutes this mornng Ward talked through a barred window with Dr. Vernon Fox, assistant deputy warden and prison psychologist.

Afterwards, Dr. Fox went to the prison kitchen, presumably to get food for the 173 block inmates, now going into the third day of their fierce holdout.

231 Quit at Rahway

Rahway, N. J., April 23 (AP)—State prison farm authorities said today 231 rebel convicts gave up yesterday only when hoarded supplies of food and water ran low after a five-day mutiny.

R. William Lagay, prison superintendent, told newsmen the mutineers—apparently planning a long siege in their dormitory wing fortress—salvaged about 250 gallons of water from a fire hose Saturday before it was turned off.

Lagay said the holdouts also had stocks of baked beans, bread, jam, peanut butter and other canned provisions when they mutinied Thursday. He said the food apparently was smuggled from the prison kitchen.

During the five-day insurrection, convicts gave the outside world the impression they and eight hostage guards were thirsting and starving by draping a crude bedsheet sign outside smashed windows with the plaintive word, "water," and by chanting from time to time, "We want food."

The rebels are lodged in a huge drill hall, bedded down with mattresses on the floor, because there are not enough cells to accommodate them. That's why they were quartered in dormitories in the first place, Lagay said.

Hospital Receives Legacy of $5,000

Kingston Hospital has received a legacy from the Elsa Mason-Lord Peabody estate in the amount of $5,000, it was reported at the regular monthly meeting of the board of trustees Monday night.

Administrator William Sheldon said that the sum would be added to the hospital endowment fund. At the discretion of the board the money can be used for the endowment of hospital beds, he said.

Frank Matthews, chairman of the building expansion program, reported that all real estate needed had been acquired to permit the hospital to proceed with its building plans. There was no elaboration on the nature of these plans.

Miss Almena Porter, director of nursing, reported that 16 student nurses had received caps March 28 in ceremonies attended by approximately 150 people.

She expressed appreciation for the assistance given the nursing department by the hospital's women's auxiliary, which is now conducting patients to and from the X-ray department.

A report from the Rev. Frank Gollnick, expressing appreciation to The Freeman for its series of recent articles in commemoration of National Hospital Day, May 12, was read in his absence. Jacob Tremper, board "visitor of the month," reported on his inspection of the plant during the month of March. John D. Schoonmaker, president of the board, presided.

Girl Scout News

The spring investiture and court of awards were held recently at the Presentation Church hall with Brownie Troop 19 and Intermediate Troop 30 participating. Mrs. Joseph Fabysack, chairman of the joint troops, welcomed relatives and friends. Following the blessing of pins and awards by the Rev. Joseph Comyns, Diane Maurer, a Brownie fly-up, was presented with Brownie wings by Mrs. John Donnelly, co-leader of Troop 19. Judy Clark was invested as a new scout. Both girls were accepted into Intermediate Troop 30 by Mrs. John Henry, leader. Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Robert Fisk, leaders of Troop 30, presented the following badges: Maureen Donnelly, Barbara Auringer, Katherine Lemister, Mary Fitzgerald and Madeline Fitzgerald, second class; Peggy Henry, Joan O'Reilly, Margie Malocsay, Phyllis Sior, Marie Horvers, Betty Fabysack, child care; Margie Malocsay, Marie Horvers, Joan O'Reilly and Phyllis Sior, mammal badges; Phyllis Sior, needlecraft. Identification emblems, service stars, troop numerals and troop crests also were given. Following the court of awards, a program was enjoyed consisting of dance numbers, piano selections and girl scout songs and dances. The leaders were assisted by Betty Jordan and Patty Henry, senior scouts, who act as program aides for the troop.

Election of officers was held at the April 2 meeting of Troop 30 as follows: Peggy Henry, president; Barbara Auringer, vice-president; Marie Horvers, secretary; Dianne Maurer, assistant secretary; Judy Clark, treasurer; Betty Fabysack, assistant; Betty Fabysack, leader of Bluebird patrol with Joan O'Reilly as assistant; Katherine Lemister, Wild Rose patrol with Margie Malocsay as assistant; Madeline Fitzgerald, Juliette Low representative; Maureen Donnelly, Girl Scout scrap book; Phyllis Sior, flag bearer; Mary Fitzgerald and Katherine Lemister, color guard. Armed Forces Week

Albany, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—Gov. Dewey calls on America to "remain prepared against the danger of the most destructive hostilities that will have ever afflicted mankind." In a proclamation yesterday designating May 12-17 as "Armed Forces Week" in New York state, Dewey said: "All of us pray that America will be saved from another war, but we cannot overlook the ominous fact that we are even now engaged in a cold war with a powerful and ruthless enemy, which forces us to remain prepared against the danger of the most destructive hostilities that will have ever afflicted mankind."

In one hot summer day, as much as 50 barrels of water may be evaporated from the surface of the leaves of a large elm tree.

Flood Left Mud, So Mud Leaves Flood

Flood's back; Mud's gone, Bob Teetsel, proprietor of The Barn, reported today.

Flood and Mud are the names Teetsel gave two kittens after the 1951 highwater inundated his nightclub on the Esopus creek just over the Washington avenue viaduct. Last fall, Flood wandered away and was returned after The Freeman carried a report of the cat's disappearance.

Now, after a second flood threatened the Barn but stopped short of the 1951 highwater mark, Mud is gone. Mud is a black cat with a white spot under the chin and one white whisker on the left side.

Milk Price Forecast

New York, April 23 (AP)—A uniform price of $4.18 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) is forecast for dairy farmers for April milk deliveries to pool-approved plants in the six-state New York milkshed. The estimated producer butterfat differential for April is 6.4 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard. The figures were released last night by C. J. Blanford, market administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area.

McLean Is Named AP Prexy Again

New York, April 23 (AP)—Robert McLean, president of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, was reelected yesterday president of the Associated Press. He has been president since 1938.

The board of directors reelected Harold A. Fitzgerald, of the Pontiac (Mich.) Daily Press, as first vice-president. Clarence B. Hanson Jr., of the Birmingham (Ala.) Sunday News, was elected second vice-president.

Lloyd Stratton and Robert Booth were elected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The board of directors, which organized yesterday, included four new members who were elected by AP members at their annual meeting Monday. They are John R. Reitemeyer, Hartford (Conn.) Courant; Richard W. Clarke, New York Daily News and Sunday News; W. H. Cowles, Spokane Spokesman-Review, and Nathaniel R. Howard, Cleveeland News.

Members of the executive committee named yesterday were: McLean, Benjamin M. McKelway, Washington Sunday Star; Robert B. Choat, Boston Herald and Boston Sunday Herald; John Knight, Chicago Daily News; Roy A. Roberts, Kansas City Star; Paul Miller, Rochester, N. Y. Democrat and Chronicle, and Harry F. Byrd Jr., Winchester (Va.) Evening Star.

Will Serve Sentence

Santa Monica, Calif., April 23 (AP)—Walter Wanger, producer of many a movie epic, turns farmer for four months starting June 4. That's the date he's due to report at the sheriff's honor farm at nearby Castaic to serve his sentence for shooting Jennings Lang, agent for Wanger's wife, actress Joan Bennett. Superior Judge Harry J. Borde found the silver-thatched moviemarker guilty yesterday on a reduced charge of assault with a deadly weapon, a misdemeanor. The county grand jury had indicted him on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, a felony.

61 Firms Are Blacklisted

Bonn, Germany, April 23 (AP)—The U. S. High Commission has blacklisted 61 West German firms suspected of selling strategic material to Soviet bloc nations. American officials said the Bonn government plans to prosecute some of the firms for violation of currency and export regulations if the illegal trade charges are confirmed. The blacklisting denies the companies ECA counterpart funds, contracts from the U. S. Army and high commission, and critical imports from America.

Warm Spell Might Push Apple Buds

This week's warm spell might bring out the apple blossoms ahead of schedule, William H. Palmer, Ulster county agricultural agent, said today.

If the heat wave continues, the blossoms may be in full bloom as early as May 3, he said. Original estimates placed the peak at May 10. As the date draws closer, it will be possible for more accurate estimates to be made.

Summons Handed Out

New York, April 23 (AP)—The city handed out a summons yesterday to officials of the French line, operators of the 43,000-ton liner Ile de France, charging them with violating smoke control regulations. The Ile de France "smokes every time it comes in here," said William G. Christy, director of the Smoke Control Bureau.

Eisenhower Still Is Ill

Paris, April 23 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower still was abed today with a cold and throat infection and aides said it was "impossible" to ask his comment on results of the New York and Pennsylvania presidential primary elections. Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, surgeon general at Eisenhower's headquarters near here, said the general's condition is improving and "we hope to get him back to his desk tomorrow." Eisenhower has been ill since last Saturday, forcing postponement of scheduled farewell visits to capitals of northern European NATO capitals.

Dog Named for The Freeman Is Popular at Lions SPCA Booth

Freemania, the young St. Bernard dog, whose life was spared and who found a splendid country home through a plea published in The Freeman on Friday, March 7, drew large crowds of children and adults to the SPCA booth on the opening night of the Lions Exposition. Left to right, Amanda Cutler, Linda Swope and Timothy House, express their approval of Freemania and the SPCA.

Judging from reports received, Freemania happily paid her debt to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals last night by assisting the group in signing up new members and receiving donations for the organization's new animal shelter which will be erected later this summer.

A wanderer in the city for several days, the animal was taken into custody by the SPCA and cared for while an intensive search was made for her owners. With but limited funds to carry on this work, the SPCA nevertheless provided food and shelter for the St. Bernard for a period much longer than usually allowed.

The services of The Freeman finally were enlisted in an effort to find a suitable home. Almost immediately following the publication of the dog's story, the SPCA was swamped with requests from all parts of the county.

After a careful screening of the applicants, the dog was given to Theodore Kowall in Lomontville, who operates a large dairy farm. He was so pleased he named her, Freemania.

Members of the SPCA will be at its booth all week to sign up members and accept donations to carry on the fine work done by the large number of volunteers comprising this organization.

Nobody's Surprised

New Orleans, April 23 (AP)—Robert F. Kennon of Minden is Louisiana's new governor—to no one's surprise. The Democratic nominee swamped his Republican opponent, Harrison Bagwell, the first GOP candidate in 12 years, in yesterday's general election in this traditional one-party state.

Eisenhower Still Is Ill

Paris, April 23 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower still was abed today with a cold and throat infection and aides said it was "impossible" to ask his comment on results of the New York and Pennsylvania presidential primary elections. Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, surgeon general at Eisenhower's headquarters near here, said the general's condition is improving and "we hope to get him back to his desk tomorrow." Eisenhower has been ill since last Saturday, forcing postponement of scheduled farewell visits to capitals of northern European NATO capitals.

Dog Named for The Freeman Is Popular at Lions SPCA Booth

Freemania, the young St. Bernard dog, whose life was spared and who found a splendid country home through a plea published in The Freeman on Friday, March 7, drew large crowds of children and adults to the SPCA booth on the opening night of the Lions Exposition. Left to right, Amanda Cutler, Linda Swope and Timothy House, express their approval of Freemania and the SPCA.

Judging from reports received, Freemania happily paid her debt to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals last night by assisting the group in signing up new members and receiving donations for the organization's new animal shelter which will be erected later this summer.

A wanderer in the city for several days, the animal was taken into custody by the SPCA and cared for while an intensive search was made for her owners. With but limited funds to carry on this work, the SPCA nevertheless provided food and shelter for the St. Bernard for a period much longer than usually allowed.

The services of The Freeman finally were enlisted in an effort to find a suitable home. Almost immediately following the publication of the dog's story, the SPCA was swamped with requests from all parts of the county.

After a careful screening of the applicants, the dog was given to Theodore Kowall in Lomontville, who operates a large dairy farm. He was so pleased he named her, Freemania.

Members of the SPCA will be at its booth all week to sign up members and accept donations to carry on the fine work done by the large number of volunteers comprising this organization.

Nobody's Surprised

Neighborhood Movies

Neighborhood movies will be shown at the Flatbush Reformed Church Thursday at 8 p. m. The feature film will be Red Stallion starring Robert Paige, Noreen Nash and Ted Donaldson. The public is invited.

General to Get Medal

Paris, April 23 (AP)—The French cabinet today voted to award the French Military Medal to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Spring Dance Planned By Rosendale Women

The Woman's Club of Rosendale have completed plans for a Spring dance to be held in St. Peter's Hall, Rosendale on Friday evening, featuring Johnny Michaels and his orchestra.

In announcing the event, those in charge said the dance will "close a successful year for the organization which has been responsible for the adoption of important resolutions affecting the town of Rosendale."

The decorations in the hall will be suggestive of Spring and will include spring flowers, streamers and balloons.

Tickets may be purchased at the door. Refreshments will be served.

Vigna Quartet Will Play at West Park

Joe Vigna and his quartet will entertain the children of the Sacred Heart Orphanage in West Park tonight from 7 to 9 p. m.

The music for the occasion is provided by the cooperation of Local 215 of the American Federation of Musicians, through a grant from the Music Performance Trust Fund of the Recording Industry.

Dorothy E. Boyle Wed Leo Michael Clinton In Gardiner Church

Miss Dorothy Eulalia Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Boyle of Gardiner, became the bride of Leo Michael Clinton, son of Mrs. Leo Clinton and the late Mr. Clinton of Gardiner, Saturday, April 19, at a nuptial Mass in St. Charles Church. The Rev. John Mahoney, pastor, was assisted by the Rev. George Fagan, former pastor, in performing the double ring ceremony. A reception for 90 guests followed at the Gardiner Hotel.

Wedding selections were played by Mrs. Warren McDowell, organist. Mrs. Marie McNally of Cincinnati, sister of the bride, was the soloist. The church was decorated with white lilies and white hydrangea.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a floor length white satin and lace gown and a fingertip length veil. She carried white roses and lilies of the valley.

Richard Clinton was his brother's best man. The ushers were Clarence Van Tassell of Garden city, brother-in-law of the bride, and Donald Clinton, brother of the groom.

Upon their return from a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Gardiner.

Former Resident Is Elected to Office

Gordon Kent, a former local resident, was elected president of the Fleischmanns-Pine Hill Rotary Club for the coming year. Mr. Kent is employed by the New York Telephone Co. at Fleischmanns.

A graduate of Kingston High School, class of '40, Mr. Kent was formerly employed at the local radio station and served with the U. S. Air Force in Germany during World War 2. He resides at Highmount with his wife, the former Miss Elsie Buchanan of this city.

Port Ewen Couple Has Silver Wedding Party

A surprise party, complete with wedding cake, was given to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carney at their home on Salem street, Port Ewen, Saturday evening in honor of their silver wedding anniversary.

In attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Del Kinkade, Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spinnenweber, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hungerford, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Nilan, Mr. and Mrs. David Harris, and Miss Barbara Carney.

Married in Evangelical Lutheran Church

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH W. GORDON

Miss Audrey Sherriff Becomes Bride of Kenneth W. Gordon

Miss Audrey Sherriff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sherriff of Glenford, became the bride of Kenneth White Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gordon, Brooklyn, Sunday, April 20, at 2 p. m. in the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. The Rev. David C. Gaise, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. A reception for 200 guests followed at the Maverick Inn, Glenford.

Traditional wedding selections were played by Mrs. Lester Decker, church organist, who also accompanied the soloist Mrs. Alfred Nussbaum of West Hurley in Because and The Lord's Prayer. Ferns, palms and white flowers were used for decorating the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white tulle over satin gown styled with a rounded neckline, hoop skirt having a front lace insert, long gathered sleeves, and a long tulle train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion edged with lace, was attached to a seed pearl tiara. She carried a fan shaped bouquet of white gardenias and ivy with white satin streamers.

Mrs. LeRoy O'Brien of Woodstock was the matron of honor. With her ballerina length gown of orchid tulle over taffeta, she wore a head band of ivy and carried a small gold bird cage with mixed spring flowers and ivy.

Miss Mary Miller of this city and Mrs. Thomas Fazio of Brooklyn were the bridesmaids. Miss Miller's ballerina length gown was yellow tulle over taffeta, while Mrs. Fazio wore a similar gown in green tulle over taffeta. Head bands of ivy and small gold bird cages of mixed spring flowers and ivy completed the ensembles.

Thomas Fazio of Brooklyn was the best man. Serving as ushers were Robert Clark, cousin of the groom, East Meadow, Long Island Adrian Harris, West New York, N. J.

Upon their return from an automobile trip to Washington, D. C., the couple will reside at 22 Parkside avenue, Brooklyn. For traveling, the bride chose a tan suit with brown alligator bag and shoes and a corsage of white gardenias.

Mrs. Gordon graduated from the Kingston High School and Moran Business School.

Mr. Gordon graduated from the James Madison High School and is employed by the Markel Service Company of Richmond, Va. He served with the Armed Forces for two and one-half years during World War 2.

Spring Dance Planned By Rosendale Women

The Woman's Club of Rosendale have completed plans for a Spring dance to be held in St. Peter's Hall, Rosendale on Friday evening, featuring Johnny Michaels and his orchestra.

In announcing the event, those in charge said the dance will "close a successful year for the organization which has been responsible for the adoption of important resolutions affecting the town of Rosendale."

The decorations in the hall will be suggestive of Spring and will include spring flowers, streamers and balloons.

Tickets may be purchased at the door. Refreshments will be served.

Vigna Quartet Will Play at West Park

Joe Vigna and his quartet will entertain the children of the Sacred Heart Orphanage in West Park tonight from 7 to 9 p. m.

The music for the occasion is provided by the cooperation of Local 215 of the American Federation of Musicians, through a grant from the Music Performance Trust Fund of the Recording Industry.

Dorothy E. Boyle Wed Leo Michael Clinton In Gardiner Church

Miss Dorothy Eulalia Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Boyle of Gardiner, became the bride of Leo Michael Clinton, son of Mrs. Leo Clinton and the late Mr. Clinton of Gardiner, Saturday, April 19, at a nuptial Mass in St. Charles Church. The Rev. John Mahoney, pastor, was assisted by the Rev. George Fagan, former pastor, in performing the double ring ceremony. A reception for 90 guests followed at the Gardiner Hotel.

Wedding selections were played by Mrs. Warren McDowell, organist. Mrs. Marie McNally of Cincinnati, sister of the bride, was the soloist. The church was decorated with white lilies and white hydrangea.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a floor length white satin and lace gown and a fingertip length veil. She carried white roses and lilies of the valley.

Richard Clinton was his brother's best man. The ushers were Clarence Van Tassell of Garden city, brother-in-law of the bride, and Donald Clinton, brother of the groom.

Upon their return from a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Gardiner.

Former Resident Is Elected to Office

Gordon Kent, a former local resident, was elected president of the Fleischmanns-Pine Hill Rotary Club for the coming year. Mr. Kent is employed by the New York Telephone Co. at Fleischmanns.

A graduate of Kingston High School, class of '40, Mr. Kent was formerly employed at the local radio station and served with the U. S. Air Force in Germany during World War 2. He resides at Highmount with his wife, the former Miss Elsie Buchanan of this city.

Port Ewen Couple Has Silver Wedding Party

A surprise party, complete with wedding cake, was given to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carney at their home on Salem street, Port Ewen, Saturday evening in honor of their silver wedding anniversary.

In attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Del Kinkade, Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spinnenweber, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hungerford, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Nilan, Mr. and Mrs. David Harris, and Miss Barbara Carney.

Married in Evangelical Lutheran Church

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH W. GORDON

Miss Audrey Sherriff Becomes Bride of Kenneth W. Gordon

Miss Audrey Sherriff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sherriff of Glenford, became the bride of Kenneth White Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gordon, Brooklyn, Sunday, April 20, at 2 p. m. in the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. The Rev. David C. Gaise, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. A reception for 200 guests followed at the Maverick Inn, Glenford.

Traditional wedding selections were played by Mrs. Lester Decker, church organist, who also accompanied the soloist Mrs. Alfred Nussbaum of West Hurley in Because and The Lord's Prayer. Ferns, palms and white flowers were used for decorating the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white tulle over satin gown styled with a rounded neckline, hoop skirt having a front lace insert, long gathered sleeves, and a long tulle train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion edged with lace, was attached to a seed pearl tiara. She carried a fan shaped bouquet of white gardenias and ivy with white satin streamers.

Mrs. LeRoy O'Brien of Woodstock was the matron of honor. With her ballerina length gown of orchid tulle over taffeta, she wore a head band of ivy and carried a small gold bird cage with mixed spring flowers and ivy.

Miss Mary Miller of this city and Mrs. Thomas Fazio of Brooklyn were the bridesmaids. Miss Miller's ballerina length gown was yellow tulle over taffeta, while Mrs. Fazio wore a similar gown in green tulle over taffeta. Head bands of ivy and small gold bird cages of mixed spring flowers and ivy completed the ensembles.

Thomas Fazio of Brooklyn was the best man. Serving as ushers were Robert Clark, cousin of the groom, East Meadow, Long Island Adrian Harris, West New York, N. J.

Upon their return from an automobile trip to Washington, D. C., the couple will reside at 22 Parkside avenue, Brooklyn. For traveling, the bride chose a tan suit with brown alligator bag and shoes and a corsage of white gardenias.

Mrs. Gordon graduated from the Kingston High School and Moran Business School.

Mr. Gordon graduated from the James Madison High School and is employed by the Markel Service Company of Richmond, Va. He served with the Armed Forces for two and one-half years during World War 2.

St. Peter's Church Groups Will Sponsor Minstrel Show, May 4

After a lapse of 10 years, rehearsals are being held for a minstrel show to be sponsored jointly by the Christian Mothers and the Holy Name Societies of St. Peter's Church. The forthcoming show will be presented in the parish hall on Adams street, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, May 4, 5 and 6. Raymond Schatzel is the chairman.

A veteran of many local minstrel shows, Bill Houghaling, who is directing the cast, anticipates a record turnout. The advance sale of tickets indicates a full house for each performance.

A special presentation of the Dixieland Minstrels will be given for the children Sunday afternoon, May 4.

Director Houghtaling has requested that all members of the cast be on hand Thursday promptly at 8 p. m. for the next rehearsal. The crew in charge of making the new stage props will meet tonight to finish the painting and hang the drops.

KHS Honored, Junior Receives Scholarship For 10 Weeks Abroad

MARTHA DAVENPORT

For the third successive year, the American Field Service has honored Kingston High by granting one of its students a ten weeks' summer scholarship abroad.

Martha Davenport, the 1952 Field Service selection, a member of the Junior Class, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Davenport of Stone Ridge. "I'm thrilled beyond words," Martha explained with a shy grin. "In fact I just can't believe it—yet."

Martha, who is a veteran skier and one of the best in Ulster county, has stated a preference for either Austria or Norway. However, the selection of the country to which she is sent, is largely in the hands of the American Field Service.

According to tentative arrangements, Martha will sail from Montreal June 19 and will return to the United States September 5. During the ten weeks abroad, she will live with one or more families in the country to which she is sent, observing their customs and taking her place in their homes as a member of the family.

Martha's summer trip is sponsored by Prisma, the girls' service organization at Kingston High School, which for three years has given a scholarship to a foreign student for study in the United States. The girls brought to this country by Prisma for a year's study at Westover School have represented Austria, Sweden and Norway.

Two years ago, Florence Friedman won the first in the series of summer scholarships awarded to Kingston students. She selected France as the country of her choice. Last year, Beatrice Newkirk and Cynthia Steketee spent the summer in Belgium and Holland under an American Field Service grant.

The whole purpose of this field service program is to develop friendlier and closer relations between the United States and European nations.

Sheep Outnumbered

Before the Civil War in the United States, there were more sheep than people in the country. Today there are five people for every sheep.

KHS Student Leaders Chosen Delegates to Education Conference

Student leaders from the junior and senior classes in the Kingston High School have been chosen as delegates to attend the 7th annual Citizenship Education Conference on Saturday at Syracuse University.

Vie for Scholarship

These delegates will be among the 850 New York high school juniors and seniors attending the conference. Chosen as leading citizens by classmates and teachers in their respective schools, the high school representatives will vie for six $2,400 full-tuition Syracuse University scholarships during their one-day session on the campus.

Delegates already have been "pre-tested" in their own schools, taking special examinations to qualify as scholarship candidates. They also have been elected to delegate status on the basis of their participation and leadership in school extra-curricular activities.

Both juniors and seniors will compete for the four-year full-tuition grants, with four scholarships going to juniors and two to graduating seniors.

Sorosis Club Elects Officers at Meeting

Sorosis Club held its last meeting of the season Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. C. Lasher, 75 Lucas avenue, when officers for the next year were elected.

Mrs. William Ochs was reelected president of the organization; Other officers chosen are Mrs. A. W. Mollott, vice-president; Mrs. G. W. Ross, recording secretary; Mrs. Herbert Darrow, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Boyd Williams, treasurer. Mrs. William McVey and Mrs. Ward Brigham were named to the executive committee.

Annual reports were made by the officers and committees. The club will hold its annual picnic on June 17 at the summer home of Mrs. Ochs in Andes. The Mmes. Howard Lewis, C. J. Heiselman and Miss Katherine Riseley are in charge of the arrangements.

Following the meeting, tea was served and a social time enjoyed. Mrs. Ochs presided at the tea table.

William A. Drayton, Socialite, to Wed

New York, April 23 (Special to The Freeman) — Mrs. Alberta Averill Eno, of Lake Wales, Fla., and William Astor Drayton, of "Briar Patch," Onteora Park, Tannersville, both socially prominent, obtained a marriage license at the city clerk's office here Monday.

The couple did not disclose their wedding plans.

Mrs. Eno, who was born in New Orleans, is the daughter of Albert and Grace Averill. She is the widow of William Eno, who died in 1945. She was married twice previously, to William Fischer, from whom she was divorced in 1919, and Miguel Poz, from whom she was divorced in 1934.

Mr. Drayton, a native of this city, is the son of James and Charlotte Drayton. He was divorced from the former Helen Squiers in 1923 and from the former Joan Bergere in 1950. He is a member of the Union Club and the St. Nicholas Society and of the Harvard Class of 1913.

FOLLOW SET SAMBA PRINCIPLES

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"We play quite a lot of Samba, but most of the time we don't know what we're doing," is the frank confession of a St. Louis reader. "We never know when to play for sequences and when to play for ordinary canastas. Do the experts stumble and fumble also, or do they know what they are doing?"

The experts do their share of fumbling, but they usually know what they are doing. You can't always be right in Samba, but at least you can follow a few logical principles. In that way you will at least be able to make up your mind, rightly or wrongly, in a short time.

The most important principle to remember is that the big scores come from melding sambas (sequences). You always try for sambas when you have a better chance to complete them than the opponents have. You should try to meld out with normal canastas (which are much easier to complete) when the opponents have better chances for sambas than your side has.

It's the familiar story of attack and defense. You attack when you have the superior weapons. You run for your life when your opponents have the superior weapons.

How can you tell whether your best course is to fight or to run? Arrange your hand by suits to begin with. You will quickly see in which suits (if any) you have reasonable chances for sambas.

If you have several such chances, and particularly if you have sequences of four or more cards, you should take the offensive. Keep your hand arranged by suits, and meld any attractive looking sequence to invite your partner's help and to warn him against spoiling your chances by melding out in a hurry.

If your chances for sambas look poor, rearrange your hand by denominations instead of by suits. That is, put the aces together, and the kings all in one spot, and so on. Don't meld in a hurry because there's very little advantage in melding quickly at Samba. Meld if you are very close to out position or, of course, if you can meld out.

If your hand is betwixt and between, sit tight and don't meld. It will usually take on a decided character of one kind or the other after a few rounds of play. In the meantime, also, you will see whether or not the opponents or your partner meld.

Announce Trooper Exam for May 20

An open competitive examination for State Trooper will be held May 20, it was announced today by John A. Gaffney, superintendent of the Division of State Police, Albany.

Gaffney said that approximately 100 immediate appointments would be made and that the eligible list established by the examination would remain effective for one year. Examinations will be held at Albany, Binghamton, Buffalo, Syracuse, White Plains, and at such other places as may be designated.

Candidates for the position, for which the salary range is $2,370 to $4,270 per annum, plus lodging, food (or allowance instead) and all service clothing and equipment, must be between the ages of 21 and 40 on the date of the examination. The candidate must be at least five feet nine inches without shoes and built in proportion and must have graduated from high school or possess the equivalent of such an education.

There will be a written examination to test the general intelligence of the applicant, an oral interview, an investigation of moral character and an oral interview to determine mental alertness, soundness of mind, initiative, intelligence, judgment, address and appearance.

Application forms may be obtained in person or by mail from the Division of State Police, Capitol, Albany, N. Y. Applications must be filed by mail with the division prior to midnight, May 10, or in person not later than midnight, May 11. Licenses, military discharges and other documents should not be mailed with the application.

Gaffney made it clear that persons appointed to the State Police must be willing to accept assignment anywhere in the state and that appointment would not affect conscription.

Nothing is entirely useless--- even some of the recent recordings could be used for foghorns.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Here's a Solution For Tough Problem

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"The accompanying hand puzzles us," writes a Cincinnati correspondent. "We can see the result clearly enough, but we don't understand it.

"West cleverly opened the nine of spades against the contract of three no-trump. East signaled with the seven, and South won with the ten. South had to develop both clubs and hearts, and the question was which suit to tackle first.

"The actual declarer began on the hearts. West took the ace of hearts and led his other spade. East took the ace of spades and continued the suit, setting up his two remaining spades. Now declarer could run the hearts, but he still had to go after the clubs, and when he did so East got in with the king of clubs to defeat the contract with the long spades.

"We see that South would have made his contract if he had tackled the clubs instead of the hearts at the second trick. What we don't understand is how South is supposed to guess which suit to begin on. Can you explain this?"

I can explain it, but I can't give a slick, easy answer in two or three words. The important point is that South must think in a situation of this kind.

South can tell from the nature of the lead and from the size of East's signal that West has led a short suit. There is no danger if East has only four spades, so South must consider the possibility that East has started with five spades headed by the ace.

If East also has the ace of hearts and the king of clubs, he will be able to clear the spades with one entry and run them with the other entry. South must therefore expect to be set if East has both of the missing key cards.

What if West has both of the key cards? Then the club finesse will succeed, whenever South tries it. No danger.

What if East has one of the key cards, but not the other? Any plan will work if East has the ace of hearts but not the king of clubs. It doesn't matter which suit South begins.

If East's one key card is the king of clubs, however, South must start the clubs at the second trick. East can win and can clear the spades, but he is then entryless. South can later develop the hearts without fearing the spades.

Communication Ceases

Guayaquil, Ecuador, April 23 (AP)—All communication with Quito, capital of Ecuador, ceased at 8 o'clock (EST) last night and three hours later efforts to reach the capital still were without success. Quito radio stations also could not be heard here. It was speculated that the blackout could have been due to a power failure or to a political upheaval. With presidential elections scheduled for June, political conditions have been more tense than usual recently. (Rumors of political disturbances in Quito were current in New York earlier yesterday but Associated Press correspondents there advised at 5 p. m. that all was quiet in the capital.)

When U. S. Marines were first recruited in 1775, they were required to furnish their own weapons.

Taft May Get Votes

Phoenix, Ariz., April 23 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft may get 14 Arizona votes at the Republican National Convention in Chicago July 7. His backers here said yesterday they will seek to bind the 14 member delegation under a unit rule, which would assure their being cast as a bloc. The move will be made at the state GOP convention in Phoenix Saturday. Eisenhower supporters plan to fight any application of the unit rule.

MERCURY BEATS ALL COMERS IN MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN

GRUELING 1,415 MILE TEST

APPROVED BY AAA CONTEST BOARD

What a test to prove Mercury and Lincoln superiority! This year's Mobilgas Economy Run covers a 1,415-mile course—longest, toughest test in Mobilgas Economy Run history. Elevations range from below sea level to 8,010 feet above. Mercury out-performed all others to win both the grand Sweepstakes prize and Class C trophy. Lincoln won Class G and was Mercury's closest competition for top Sweepstakes honors.

3 WINS IN 3 YEARS!

Lincoln Again Best in Class— Runs Second in Sweepstakes

Mercury, the car that challenged them all, has done it again . . . won the grand Sweepstakes prize in this "world series" for automobiles.

And this isn't the first time! Just look at Mercury's three-year-in-a-row record: three out of three times winner in its price class; two out of three times Sweepstakes winner against all cars in every class! Look at Lincoln, too. Lincoln won Class G first prize, and provided Mercury's closest competition for top Sweepstakes honors.

The Mobilgas Economy Run is open to all cars of every make. Every car is a stock car, selected at random by the A.A.A. To assure an equal chance for all, regardless of size and weight, ton-miles-per-gallon performance* determines the winner.

A 1952 Mercury Monterey Special Custom Sedan with optional overdrive swept the field with 59.7188 ton-miles-per gallon, averaging 25.4093 miles per gallon. And the engine that did it is Mercury's famous V-8. The Lincoln Capri Sedan with Hydra-Matic transmission won its class prize with 58.9085 ton-miles-per-gallon, averaging 22.3562 miles per gallon.

That's something to think about when you buy a new car. Mercury, which for months has been challenging the industry to match it, has now proved its superiority for economy.

Right now, in our showroom, is a 1952 Mercury similar to the one that won this official, impartial test. Why not stop around and give it a try? No obligation, of course.

*Ton-miles-per-gallon equals the car weight (with passengers), multiplied by miles traveled, divided by gallons of gasoline used.

SAWKILL NEWS

Sawkill, April 21—Mr. and Mrs. C. Stevens, Sr., and daughter, Carol, of Jockey Hill, spent the weekend in Southampton, L. I., visiting David Parker.

Mrs. Charles Stevens, Jr., and son, Charles, spent several days this week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, Sr., and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cooper of Yonkers spent the weekend in the village with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hull.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Butler and family, New Rochelle, are visiting Edward Butler.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hartney and son Raymond, Jr., Yonkers, and Jack Kylie, Yonkers, spent the weekend visiting the Misses Goldpaugh. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Butler, Sr., and son Paul, were also guests Easter day.

The Sawkill school closed for the Easter vacation last Wednesday afternoon. The pupils enjoyed an Easter party with colored eggs, candy, and cake. An outdoor Easter egg hunt was also on the party program.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Carcaramo and Mr. and Mrs. W. Buchanan entertained Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Carcaramo, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeCristino and daughter, Carol, Miss Catherine Carcaramo and Lionel Martin, Brooklyn, and Mr. and Mrs. John Davies and family, of Howard Beach, L. I., for the Easter weekend.

Current birthdays include those of Mrs. H. Bjaelker, April 15; Cheryl Roeber, April 18, and Mrs. Raymond Walker, April 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Joy celebrated their wedding anniversary April 18.

The Sawkill fire company will hold a special meeting Monday evening at 8 p. m., at the firehouse. All members, and any other interested men are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rowe spent the weekend in Waynesboro, Pa., and Hagerstown, Md., visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Joy and family and Mrs. Frank Joy were among the guests at the wedding of Miss Alice Brown to Philip Naccarato at the Church of the Comforter in Kingston, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wrynn and family, New York, spent the Easter week at their home on Hallahan's Hill.

Mrs. Francis Joy has been appointed to the membership committee for the Ulster county Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The fiscal year begins the first of May and a membership drive is being conducted throughout the county this month. Membership dues are $2 per year, junior memberships $1 per year, and donations toward the purchase of a concrete block (including cost of installation, etc.) are 35 cents per block, or three for $1. Anyone whom Mrs. Joy has not contacted, and who is interested in supporting the society, is requested to phone 502R1, for further information.

Miss Mildred Gerdts of upper Sawkill became the bride of Capt. Jerome Ferber, U. S. Air Force Medical Corps, Saturday, April 12, at the Lutheran Church, Woodstock. Mrs. I. Levine, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and William L. Gerdts was best man. A reception for the family followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Gerdts. Capt. and Mrs. Ferber went to Washington, D. C., on their wedding trip and will reside in Newburgh on their return. Capt. Ferber is stationed at Stewart Field, Newburgh.

Joseph Carcaramo has been appointed locally on the cancer drive in the Township of Kingston. The drive is being conducted throughout the county during the month of April. Anyone whom Mr. Carcarco has not been able to contact, and who is willing to donate to the Fund is requested to phone him at 511-J-3.

Masons Will Hear ProminentSpeaker At May Breakfast

The annual Masonic Communion service and breakfast will be held at the Old First Dutch Church in Kingston on Sunday morning, May 18. The speaker will be Judge Gay H. Brown, former New York State Supreme Court justice.

Members of 14 F & AM lodges in the Greene-Ulster district will attend the service at 7 a. m. in the church and the breakfast at 8 a. m. in Bethany Hall adjoining the church.

The service is open to all, and the breakfast is open to those who have made advance registrations. Tickets may be obtained from committee members in each of the lodges.

Judge Brown, remembered as a forceful speaker from his appearance here several years ago, was for seven years chief counsel for New York State Public Service Commission. From 1946 to 1948 he was grand master of Masons for the state of New York.

Holder of several honors in public speaking and debating, Judge Brown is a graduate of Cornell University. His talks have earned him a reputation as an ardent advocate of free enterprise and democracy.

Robert Wolfersteig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wolfersteig of Connelly, will give an organ recital at Westminster Choir College in Princeton, Tuesday evening, April 29. Included in his program will be a composition for strings and organ by Walter Piston. Mr. Wolfersteig is working for his Master's degree at the college. Recent appearances included his playing of the Brahms Requiem on Good Friday at the Ogden Memorial Presbyterian Church in Chatham, N. J.; Elijah on Easter Sunday at the Ninth Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia, Pa. On Wednesday evening he will accompany the chorus of the University of Delaware at Seaford, Del., in the Brahms Requiem.

ribbed with dark and light colors, the dark ones probably nitrogen dioxide."

The desert under the bomb was moist from rains Saturday and Sunday. The flash of heat lasting three seconds—baked this area white, with alkali giving the color.

For more than two miles in all directions the bomb started fires in Joshua trees—a cacus about 10 feet high. There was the smell of scorched brush all around. One temporary first aid shack burned to the ground. The blast that followed the heat flash blew out most of the fires.

The troops—closer than anyone has approached except in Japan—knelt in trenches, two of several in each. They faced the bomb, with heads bowed just below the top of the dirt.

They joked, and they jumped up and laughed after the terrific flash of light and heat had passed. But their trenches felt hot for those three seconds.

Then they learned the first lesson—keep your mouth shut. Nearly all were standing still in trenches, looking up, mouths open, when the blast drove a wave of dust into their faces.

Every man would have been a burn casualty except for the shadow of the trenches.

A tank was placed almost at the edge of "ground zero," directly under the bomb. The hatch was left open to see what would have happened to men inside. They would have been killed by heat.

Planes on the ground far away had twisted tails or spot burns. Most weapons were not seriously damaged.

Signboards more than two miles away were ripped from their posts, but troops not much farther were unhurt, because they knew how to take cover. They wore no goggles and no extra protective clothing.

The radioactivity in the ground directly under the blast was so low that attacking troops could have marched in immediately and stayed for 30 hours. One reason was the great altitude of this explosion, 3,500 feet. At that height A-bombs do not make the earth very radioactive.

The bomb plane missed its target by 200 feet, from 30,000 feet altitude. For atomic weapons that is pickle-barrel accuracy.

Cormorants have been caught in crab pots, 120 feet below the surface of the water.

Detective Held As Ring Leader of Postal Burglars

New York, April 23 (AP)—It was tough for Detective Nathan Mennen, fellow officers thought, when his younger brother was arrested last fall in a $29,000 Brooklyn post office burglary.

Today it was even tougher.

The 40-year-old Mennen himself was arrested yesterday, suspended from the police force and accused of being the leader of a five-man gang that staged the post office job.

Brother Irving Mennen, 37, allegedly was one of the gang.

Nathan had been assigned to investigate the case. When his brother was arrested, he was removed from it. Later, he was demoted to patrolman for his poor work.

But for 13 years he had been considered a model officer.

Officials accused Nathan Mennen of hatching the plot to loot a branch post office of about $13,000 in cash, $14,000 in travelers checks and $2,000 in stamps last April 29.

He "cased" the post office, the government charged, while investigating a minor theft committed in front of the place.

Irving Mennen was arrested after one of the checks was cashed in Miami, Fla. Two other men were picked up subsequently and a warrant is out for a fifth.

Nathan Mennen, weeping, was freed in $5,000 bail yesterday pending a hearing Tuesday.

Ilse Still Must Serve

Karlsruhe, Germany, April 23 (AP)—Ilse Koch, known as the witch of Buchenwald, still must serve out a life term for Nazi concentration camp atrocities. The West German Supreme Court last night threw out her contention she had been convicted twice of the same crime. Hans Richter, president of the court, said the convictions were for different offenses. A U. S. court's life sentence, later reduced to four years, was assessed for crimes against allied prisoners, he said. The German life sentence, which stands, was for crimes against Germans and Austrians.

Boards Explain Allotment System

Lee F. Hanmer, chairman of Local Draft Board 19 (county) and Frank L. Meagher, chairman of Board 18 (city) today released information on the allotment system which they said is of vital interest to men entering the service.

As an example, they said, a man who entered the service on April 16 and has a dependent wife, the quarters allowance credited and paid to him by his finance officer for the period April 16 to April 30 is 15 days at $1.50 or $22.50.

Class Q allotment application registered with an effective date of May 1 is in the amount of $85 a month ($45 government's basic allowance for quarters plus $40 which the man contributes from his pay).

The allotment office would send the first check to the payee during the first part of June. Thereafter the allotment check would be mailed regularly during the first part of the month. Pursuant to regulations, checks covering allotments cannot be dispatched to payee prior to the end of the month in which the credits to cover the allotment are earned.

A Class Q allotment registered for a dependent parent will be processed for the member and paid by the allotment agency in the manner prescribed above with the exception that only the member's contribution, $40 in the grades of E-1, E-2 and E-3 will be paid to the dependent parents until such time as a determination of dependency has been made. If dependency exists then the government's basic allowance for quarters is paid to the dependent retroactive to the effective date of the allotment.

CIO Unions Form Hudson Council

A council of all CIO unions in the Upper Hudson area was organized at a meeting Monday night.

The council, which will represent 12,000 industrial workers in the area, elected Alonzo L. Every of the United Steel Workers Local No. 3487 as temporary president. Mabel L. Fisher, Kingston, business agent for local No. 186, Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, was appointed publicity chairman. Guest speaker was Harold J. Carno, secretary of the state CIO.

The newly organized council will embrace locals of Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, International Union of Electrical Workers, Newspaper Guild, National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians, United Steel Workers, Textile Workers and the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers.

Python 22 Feet Long Escapes From Carnival

Ft. Smith, Ark., April 23 (AP)—An Indian python, 22 feet long, was absent without leave today from a carnival which has been appearing at nearby Mulberry.

Its owner said the snake wasn't dangerous to humans or livestock.

But at Little Rock, zoo director Raymond Gray said he wasn't so sure about that.

The non-venomous reptile, which kills its prey with its crushing coils, apparently slithered out of its glass-topped cage at the Moore Shows sometime Tuesday night or early yesterday.

The more daring residents of the little village of Mulberry, armed with firearms and heavy sticks, went snake hunting after the disappearance was reported.

Gray said the well-fed pythons of captivity customarily are docile and easily handled, but that a hungry 22-foot python could kill a grown cow—or a man.

Why the right power is so important to truck buyers

WHEN a truck engine is too small for the job, you'll pay in poor performance and high upkeep. When it's too big, you'll waste money on operating costs.
To be sure of the right power for top performance and top economy on every job, Dodge builds eight great truck engines. There's one that's "Job-Rated" to fit your kind of work.
In fact, you get a truck that's "Job-Rated" in every way. Every load-moving unit is factory-engineered to meet the most severe operating conditions. And every load-carrying unit is factory-engineered to provide the strength and capacity needed.
Visit your friendly Dodge dealer today for all the facts about Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks.
Tests prove power with economy. To save gas, powerful Dodge truck engines employ compression ratios as high as 7.0 to 1. And on high-tonnage models, a twin carburetion and exhaust system is used.
Records show low upkeep. For dependability and low repair costs, rugged Dodge truck engines have 4-ring pistons with chrome-plated top ring and heat-resisting exhaust valve seat inserts.
Owners report, "Greater value!" You get all these plus values: Cyclebond brake linings; easier handling, sharper turning; gyrol Fluid Drive available on all ½-, ¾- and 1-ton and Route-Van models.
"When power is needed, Dodge trucks have it!" says C. R. SHEARMAN, Hood Construction Co., Lynwood, Calif.

"We've been big Dodge users for many years, because our business demands trucks that are dependable, economical and rugged.
"We do most of our driving over rough ground, a lot of it in the mud. The trucks work with crews who are laying pipe in the field. This kind of hauling calls for plenty of power to carry equipment to the men.
"And when power is needed, Dodge trucks have it! They seem to be able to pull anything."

Masons Will Hear Prominent Speaker At May Breakfast

The annual Masonic Communion service and breakfast will be held at the Old First Dutch Church in Kingston on Sunday morning, May 18. The speaker will be Judge Gay H. Brown, former New York State Supreme Court justice.

Members of 14 F & AM lodges in the Greene-Ulster district will attend the service at 7 a. m. in the church and the breakfast at 8 a. m. in Bethany Hall adjoining the church.

The service is open to all, and the breakfast is open to those who have made advance registrations. Tickets may be obtained from committee members in each of the lodges.

Judge Brown, remembered as a forceful speaker from his appearance here several years ago, was for seven years chief counsel for New York State Public Service Commission. From 1946 to 1948 he was grand master of Masons for the state of New York.

Holder of several honors in public speaking and debating, Judge Brown is a graduate of Cornell University. His talks have earned him a reputation as an ardent advocate of free enterprise and democracy.

Barometer Was 29.6

The city engineer's weather record today showed a barometric pressure of 29.6, a humidity of 54 per cent and a temperature of 66 degrees at 11 a. m. The wind (northwest) had a velocity of 15 miles an hour. The mean temperature yesterday was 64 degrees and the normal for that date is 47 degrees. The high was 83 and the low 45 degrees.

156th Field Artillery Leases Grounds for Little League Stadium

KAA Plans Permanent Diamond by May 23

The Kingston Athletic Association and the 156th Field Artillery, Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding, have signed a long-term lease permitting the KAA to build a permanent Little League baseball diamond and stadium at the state armory grounds on Manor avenue, it was learned today.

The Little League, in its first season in Kingston, in 1951, played its games at St. Mary's Field, corner of Foxhall and Flatbush avenues.

Although details of the contract were not disclosed, both parties expressed satisfaction and predicted that Little League baseball would flourish in that district.

Col. Harkin signed for the 15t6h Field Artillery and President Robert Umpeby of the KAA signed for the Little League.

Season Opens May 23

President Umpleby, who said the Little League's 1952 season would start on or about Friday, May 23, said the generous offer of Col. Harkin and the 156th fulfilled a long-standing wish of the Kingston Athletic Association to build a permanent field and stadium for Little League baseball of the future.

Meanwhile, Col. Harkin said the 156th Field Artillery organization was "extremely happy and pleased to be host to the Little League on our grounds." He pledged the entire resources of the organization to the assistance of the KAA in setting up the field.

"While it does not come under the heading of official duties," said the soft-spoken commander, "I am sure that our men will volunteer to help the KAA build and maintain the new field. We are pleased and happy to have Little League baseball on our grounds."

Stadium in Miniature

Umpleby said that the new field and stadium, a miniature field in every respect, with a four-foot solid fence surrounding the playing area, would be ready for the formal dedication ceremonies on May 23.

"The KAA has been looking for a permanent site for the Little League since we organized it a year ago," he said. "We are extremely grateful to the 156th Field Artillery and Col. Harkin for this generous offer. The field will be in an advantageous location, away from heavy traffic, and in a nice neighborhood. Our league should prosper at this beautiful location."

Umpleby further revealed that the stadium would be modelled after a Little League diamond in Schoharie, N. Y., that has gained nation-wide recognition.

Grading of the field will start in the next few days. The league will operate on a skin diamond for the first season but the infield will be seeded for the 1953 campaign.

Meanwhile, the Little League call for 1952 candidates is expected within the next couple of days. The trials will be along the same lines as in 1951 when nearly 1,000 young boys between the ages of 9 and 13 tried out for the four Little League teams.

New York — (NEA) — Q. Ted Williams was the last batter in the majors to bat .400, compiling a .400 mark in 1941. Who before Williams was the last American Leaguer to gain the exalted circle?

Beans Reardon

A. The late Harry Heilmann. Harry the Horse thrice barely missed .400 and hit .403 in 1922 to be the last batsman in the junior wheel to do it.

Q. Miller Huggins is best remembered as the Mite Manager who built the Yankees, won six pennants and three world championships, but how good a player was he?

A. Despite his lack of size and other physical handicaps, Huggins was one of the more skillful second basemen. Little Everywhere, as he was called, participated in 1573 National League games in 13 years, left a lifetime BA of .265, the remarkable fielding average of .956.

Q. How old is Satchel Paige?

A. I knew I was going to run into this one sooner or later. Ol' Satch, back on Sept. 22, 1943, listed his age officially as 36, which would make him in the neighborhood of 46. But like Jack Benny, he seems to get younger with each birthday.

Baseball

Philadelphia—Connie Dempsey, who once bore a $100,000 price tag as a right-handed pitcher, was sold by Phillies for an undisclosed amount to Seattle.

Cleveland — Indians purchased pitcher Mickey Harris from Washington for a waiver price of $10,000.

Golf

Pinehurst, N. C.—Walker Cup members Dick Chapman and Jimmy McHale were eliminated in the first round of the North and South Amateur tournament.

Basketball

Philadelphia — Paul Arizin, NBA scoring champion, ordered to report for further physical tests after taking an Army examination. Arizin said he had been drafted into the Marine Corps pending outcome of his re-examination.

Milwaukee — Clyde Lovellette, Kansas' All-America, will join Phillips Petroleum Co. June 1 as a salesman in the chemical department. Milwaukee manager Bill Kerner said he turned down $50,000 offer to play pro ball.

Tennis

Houston—Eight seeded players, led by Vic Seixas and Dick Savitt, advanced in River Oaks Country Club tournament.

Boxing

Washington — Harold Johnson of Philadelphia, the nation's third ranked light heavyweight, was suspended indefinitely by the National Boxing Association for failure to fulfill engagement against Clarence Henry.

Racing

New York—Hull Down ($37.90) made his 1952 racing debut a successful one in winning $10,000 Omaha Handicap at Jamaica with 1:45 1/5 clocking for a mile and one-sixteenth.

You might say the St. Louis Browns "Byrne up" the Cleveland Indians.

Tommy Byrne, the ex-Yankee wildman, who found control on the banks of the muddy Mississippi, can't stand to see the Tribe on a winning war dance.

Last August the Indians came to St. Louis with a wampum string of 13 straight wins. Along came Byrne, and then there was none. Last night the Indians brought a near-record seven game win streak to town. Once again Mr. Byrne got out his old lefthanded tomahawk. No record. No win streak. Almost no lead.

Byrne's eight-hitter and 8-3 victory left the Brownies only a half game behind the front-running Tribe. It was enough to make a crowd of 15,119 sit through a drizzle.

When the Browns' early 3-0 lead narrowed to 3-2 on Al Rosen's homer in the seventh, Roger Hornsby's giddy crew piled up five more runs in the seventh. Rosen with a homer, triple and double was the only Indian who troubled Byrne. The 32-year-old lefty walked only one and hit only one as Cleveland lost its first game.

Tigers Drop 8th

Another budding streak was kept alive when Chicago dumped Detroit, 2-0, for the Tigers' eighth straight loss. Five more and the Tigers can tie their own major league record of 13 consecutive defeats at the start of the 1920 season.

Saul Rogovin, an ex-teammate, blanked the reeling Tigers with six hits while Nelson Fox touched Ted Gray for a double and two singles. Johnny Lipon's error and Fox's double that bounced off Don Kolloway's glove broke up a scoreless duel in the eighth.

The "new faces" campaign continued to pay off for Lou Boudreau's Boston Red Sox as rookie Bill Henry, a 24-year-old lefty from Shreveport, won his second straight, 10-5, over Washington. Jim Piersall, the kid shortstop, collected three hits and Dom DiMaggio had four, including a home run.

Johnny Sain, once a curve ball ace in the National League, came through with a fine three-hitter for the New York Yankees to hand the Philadelphia A's their sixth straight loss, 3-1. After Elmer Valo homered in the first, Sain retired 20 in a row before he walked Ferris Fain.

Those Chicago Cubs continued to act like the toughest kids in the block as they hammered Pittsburgh pitching for 17 hits in a 13-2 romp. Dee Fondy was the ring leader with four hits.

Dodgers Sweep Two

Brooklyn threw its southpaw purch against the Boston Braves again and swept a twi-night doubleheader, 2-1 and 3-1 behind Chris Van Cuyk and Preacher Roe. Although Max Surkont and Jim Wilson struck out a total of 17 Dodgers they couldn't win.

Surkont who fanned eight men in the first four innings of the opener, escaped the loss when he faded for a pinch-hitter. Reliefer Bert Thiel was touched for Roy Campanella's game-winning single in the ninth after himself fanning two Dodgers. Duke Snider's two-run double ruined Wilson in the sixth inning of the second game.

Bobby Thomson, starting to hit after a slow start, racked up the Phils' Russ Meyer with a bases loaded triple in the New York Giants' 4-1 win. Larry Jansen scattered eight hits and had a shutout until Willie Jones homered in the eighth.

Vinegar Bend Mizell, the St. Louis Cards' colorful southpaw rookie, lost his first start to Cincinnati, 2-1. Two walks and a triple by Joe Adcock in the first inning gave Cincy its runs.

Cleveland Sports Writer Says Tigers Are Near Rebellion Under Rolfe

Cleveland, April 23 (AP) — The winless Detroit Tigers dislike their manager, Red Rolfe, with "a bitterness that can't help but affect their play," Plain Dealer sports editor Gordon Cobbledick said today.

Writing in his column "Plain Dealing," Cobbledick said this feeling is "beyond the understanding of an outsider" because: "Red Rolfe is a newspaperman's delight. He is intelligent, well-educated and a gentleman. x x x If a popularity poll were taken among members of the working press, Rolfe would be a cinch to land among the top three major league pilots."

"But he hasn't won the esteem of the ballplayers," Cobbledick continued. "On the contrary, the Tigers anti-Rolfe feeling is so deep and so violent that some close observers have gone so far as to predict a blow-up comparable to the 'Vitt Rebellion' of the 1940 Indians."

In that year, a number of the Cleveland Indians tried to have Oscar Vitt fired.

No Rebellion Expected

Cobbledick who said he doubts such a rebellion would take place at Detroit, continued:

"But it seems apparent now that the Tigers aren't going to perform well under Rolfe—not because they would shirk on the job, but only because their acute unhappiness will make it impossible for them to play winning baseball.

"How well they would perform under another manager is a question. The Tigers are a fading team, with no visible prospect that the trend can be checked in the near future. Their current line-up is growing old and their farms are bare of talent. x.x.x.

"What Rolfe might have done had he had a steady flow of new material coming in from the farms, or if he had been able to make trades, is something to guess at.

"In 1950, he was acclaimed as Manager of the Year when he kept his team in first place virtually for the entire season, only to fall out of contention in the last fortnight.

"It was generally conceded then that he had an uncommonly bright future as a manager.

"Now, it is evident that he has no future at all. Not, at any rate, in Detroit."

KHS Golf and Tennis Prospects Are Reported Good This Season

Each Sport Has Nucleus Of Varsity Veterans

Golf and tennis, minor sports that enjoyed banner seasons at Kingston High in 1951, have better than average prospects for the forthcoming campaign.

A traditional powerhouse in Hudson valley scholastic circles, the KHS varsity golf squad figures to be as strong as ever, with four returning veterans in Charley and Harvey Bostic, Brian Smith and Norman Foster.

Battling for the fifth starting slot will be the Brooks twins—Lynn and Lowell—and Harold Van Aken, of the golf dynasty, who saw limited action last season.

Three newcomers — Will and Ronnie Marks and Larry Houlihan of Woodstock—are also in the golf picture.

Three Vets Return

Coach Theron Culver's three varsity holdovers in tennis are Frank Smith, Bill Zates and John Schoonmaker. Smith and Schoonmaker were standouts with last year's varsity and figure to be at peak form the '52 campaign.

The three top newcomers appear to be Don Dempsey of basketball fame, Dick Smith and Pete Bruck.

Basketball Dinner Draws 200 Persons

More than 200 persons attended banquet sponsored by the Men's Club of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church in honor of the Senior and Junior basketball champions of the Protestant Church Basketball League, last night at the church hall.

District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn was the toastmaster and the speakers included the Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, pastor of the church; Oscar Lawatsch and John Walker, co-superintendents of the Sunday school; Dick McCarthy of WKNY; Sgt. Charles Awkerman, team coach; and Lou Schafer, physical director of the YMCA.

Oscar Lawatsch, co-superintendent of the Sunday school, welcomed the group and had high praise for both teams.

Lou Schafer, who organized the league for the churches, told of the fine cooperation of the churches and the sportsmanship demonstrated by the 77 boys making up the two leagues.

The Y physical director did an excellent takeoff on the reaction of rival coaches during a typical league game. He went through the many agonizing facial maneuvers of a coach watching bad plays and his dislike for the whistle tooting of the officials. Then he repeated the spiel generally given to the boys by their coach during a time-out period and this was a real laugh producer.

Coach Pleased

Sgt. Awkerman, the local marine recruiter who piloted both clubs to league pennants, said Lou's act was a bit exaggerated but "it had its points."

Awkerman said the Juniors had real class and team spirit in reeling off 12 straight victories en route to the pennant, but the Seniors, two games behind at one stage, needed a bit of prodding before they jelled into a championship unit. They rose to their peak in a crucial game against the powerful Progressive Baptists.

John Walker, co-superintendent of the Sunday school, presented each member of the two teams with gold miniature basketballs.

YMCA Night

The first annual YMCA gathering to award basketball league prizes will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock for the Protestant Church Basketball League. Following the trophy presentations there will be movies and refreshments.

156th Field Artillery Leases Grounds for Little League Stadium

KAA Plans Permanent Diamond by May 23

The Kingston Athletic Association and the 156th Field Artillery, Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding, have signed a long-term lease permitting the KAA to build a permanent Little League baseball diamond and stadium at the state armory grounds on Manor avenue, it was learned today.

The Little League, in its first season in Kingston, in 1951, played its games at St. Mary's Field, corner of Foxhall and Flatbush avenues.

Although details of the contract were not disclosed, both parties expressed satisfaction and predicted that Little League baseball would flourish in that district.

Col. Harkin signed for the 15t6h Field Artillery and President Robert Umpeby of the KAA signed for the Little League.

Season Opens May 23

President Umpleby, who said the Little League's 1952 season would start on or about Friday, May 23, said the generous offer of Col. Harkin and the 156th fulfilled a long-standing wish of the Kingston Athletic Association to build a permanent field and stadium for Little League baseball of the future.

Meanwhile, Col. Harkin said the 156th Field Artillery organization was "extremely happy and pleased to be host to the Little League on our grounds." He pledged the entire resources of the organization to the assistance of the KAA in setting up the field.

"While it does not come under the heading of official duties," said the soft-spoken commander, "I am sure that our men will volunteer to help the KAA build and maintain the new field. We are pleased and happy to have Little League baseball on our grounds."

Stadium in Miniature

Umpleby said that the new field and stadium, a miniature field in every respect, with a four-foot solid fence surrounding the playing area, would be ready for the formal dedication ceremonies on May 23.

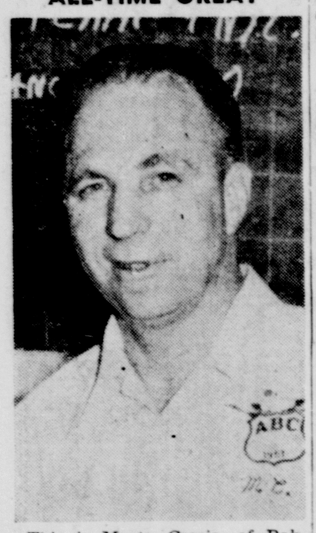

"The KAA has been looking for a permanent site for the Little League since we organized it a year ago," he said. "We are extremely grateful to the 156th Field Artillery and Col. Harkin for this generous offer. The field will be in an advantageous location, away from heavy traffic, and in a nice neighborhood. Our league should prosper at this beautiful location."

Umpleby further revealed that the stadium would be modelled after a Little League diamond in Schoharie, N. Y., that has gained nation-wide recognition.

Grading of the field will start in the next few days. The league will operate on a skin diamond for the first season but the infield will be seeded for the 1953 campaign.

Meanwhile, the Little League call for 1952 candidates is expected within the next couple of days. The trials will be along the same lines as in 1951 when nearly 1,000 young boys between the ages of 9 and 13 tried out for the four Little League teams.

Cleveland Sports Writer Says Tigers Are Near Rebellion Under Rolfe

Cleveland, April 23 (AP) — The winless Detroit Tigers dislike their manager, Red Rolfe, with "a bitterness that can't help but affect their play," Plain Dealer sports editor Gordon Cobbledick said today.

Writing in his column "Plain Dealing," Cobbledick said this feeling is "beyond the understanding of an outsider" because: "Red Rolfe is a newspaperman's delight. He is intelligent, well-educated and a gentleman. x x x If a popularity poll were taken among members of the working press, Rolfe would be a cinch to land among the top three major league pilots."

"But he hasn't won the esteem of the ballplayers," Cobbledick continued. "On the contrary, the Tigers anti-Rolfe feeling is so deep and so violent that some close observers have gone so far as to predict a blow-up comparable to the 'Vitt Rebellion' of the 1940 Indians."

In that year, a number of the Cleveland Indians tried to have Oscar Vitt fired.

No Rebellion Expected

Cobbledick who said he doubts such a rebellion would take place at Detroit, continued:

"But it seems apparent now that the Tigers aren't going to perform well under Rolfe—not because they would shirk on the job, but only because their acute unhappiness will make it impossible for them to play winning baseball.

"How well they would perform under another manager is a question. The Tigers are a fading team, with no visible prospect that the trend can be checked in the near future. Their current line-up is growing old and their farms are bare of talent. x.x.x.

"What Rolfe might have done had he had a steady flow of new material coming in from the farms, or if he had been able to make trades, is something to guess at.

"In 1950, he was acclaimed as Manager of the Year when he kept his team in first place virtually for the entire season, only to fall out of contention in the last fortnight.

"It was generally conceded then that he had an uncommonly bright future as a manager.

"Now, it is evident that he has no future at all. Not, at any rate, in Detroit."

KHS Golf and Tennis Prospects Are Reported Good This Season

Each Sport Has Nucleus Of Varsity Veterans

Golf and tennis, minor sports that enjoyed banner seasons at Kingston High in 1951, have better than average prospects for the forthcoming campaign.

A traditional powerhouse in Hudson valley scholastic circles, the KHS varsity golf squad figures to be as strong as ever, with four returning veterans in Charley and Harvey Bostic, Brian Smith and Norman Foster.

Battling for the fifth starting slot will be the Brooks twins—Lynn and Lowell—and Harold Van Aken, of the golf dynasty, who saw limited action last season.

Three newcomers — Will and Ronnie Marks and Larry Houlihan of Woodstock—are also in the golf picture.

Three Vets Return

Coach Theron Culver's three varsity holdovers in tennis are Frank Smith, Bill Zates and John Schoonmaker. Smith and Schoonmaker were standouts with last year's varsity and figure to be at peak form the '52 campaign.

The three top newcomers appear to be Don Dempsey of basketball fame, Dick Smith and Pete Bruck.

Basketball Dinner Draws 200 Persons

More than 200 persons attended banquet sponsored by the Men's Club of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church in honor of the Senior and Junior basketball champions of the Protestant Church Basketball League, last night at the church hall.

District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn was the toastmaster and the speakers included the Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, pastor of the church; Oscar Lawatsch and John Walker, co-superintendents of the Sunday school; Dick McCarthy of WKNY; Sgt. Charles Awkerman, team coach; and Lou Schafer, physical director of the YMCA.

Oscar Lawatsch, co-superintendent of the Sunday school, welcomed the group and had high praise for both teams.

Lou Schafer, who organized the league for the churches, told of the fine cooperation of the churches and the sportsmanship demonstrated by the 77 boys making up the two leagues.

The Y physical director did an excellent takeoff on the reaction of rival coaches during a typical league game. He went through the many agonizing facial maneuvers of a coach watching bad plays and his dislike for the whistle tooting of the officials. Then he repeated the spiel generally given to the boys by their coach during a time-out period and this was a real laugh producer.

Coach Pleased

Sgt. Awkerman, the local marine recruiter who piloted both clubs to league pennants, said Lou's act was a bit exaggerated but "it had its points."

Awkerman said the Juniors had real class and team spirit in reeling off 12 straight victories en route to the pennant, but the Seniors, two games behind at one stage, needed a bit of prodding before they jelled into a championship unit. They rose to their peak in a crucial game against the powerful Progressive Baptists.

John Walker, co-superintendent of the Sunday school, presented each member of the two teams with gold miniature basketballs.

YMCA Night

The first annual YMCA gathering to award basketball league prizes will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock for the Protestant Church Basketball League. Following the trophy presentations there will be movies and refreshments.

KBA Elects Tom Orr President; Thomas Retained as Secretary

Louis G. Bruhn Voted Life Membership

Thomas Orr, a member of the Tavern Association and Junior Major Leagues, was elected president of the Kingston Bowling Association at the annual meeting last night at the YMCA.

Orr defeated Dr. Saul Goldfarb, regular KBA nominee and Harry Re, the perennial independent, in a three-cornered race on the second ballot. He succeeds Joseph J. Magnino.

District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, a past president of the KBA, was elevated to life membership by a vote of 175 to 56.

Irwin J. Thomas, secretary, was elected to his second successive term without opposition.

As the result of the election, the following slate of officers will serve as the executive committee of the KBA for the 1952-53 calendar year, starting August 1:

President, Thomas Orr.

1st Vice President, Mannie Colao.

2nd Vice President, Jake Chichelsky.

3rd Vice President, Bill Murray.

4th Vice President, Ralph Frederick.

Treasurer, Jack Blinder.

Secretary, Irwin J. Thomas.

Executive Directors, Mike Mostransky, New Paltz; Ray Houghtaling, Joe Magnino, Kingston; Vernon Freese, Rosendale.

Life Member, Louis G. Bruhn.

Orr was elected president on the second ballot, after Goldfarb had collected 96 votes, Re 50 and Orr 85 on the first ballot. The final tally was 140 to 105.

Colao Top Choice

Mannie Colao, the hard working vice-president, again proved himself the best vote getter in the organization, by defeating Clarence Herdman, 160 to 75. Jake Chichelsky won over Randy Kelder, 145 to 100, for the second vice-presidency.

Bill Murray and Ralph Frederick were unopposed for third and fourth vice-presidents, respectively.

Jack Blinder survived a three-cornered race for the treasurer's post succeeding J. Kenneth Powell, who was not a candidate. Blinder drew 111 votes on the first ballot to 48 for Jack Thompson and 72 for Len Freer. The final tally put Blinder in by the close margin of 118 to 113.

The four executive directors were chosen in a field of five candidates, with Mike Mostransky getting 206 votes, Ray Houghtaling, 220; Joe Magnino, 209; Vernon Freese, 208; and Frank Norman, 73.

Plan Next Tournament

The KBA directors, set February, 1953, as the date for the next city tournament. In accordance with a plan set up three years ago, the five-man event was awarded to the Central Recreation alleys. The singles and doubles will be rolled at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium.

The "class" setup of the city tournament was abandoned in favor of a 75 per cent handicap championship. The net leaders in each division will be recognized as the city champions.

The directors also tightened the requirements for life membership and clarified the voting procedure for the member leagues at the annual elections.

The YMCA was voted $20 for use of the KBA meeting.

Help Is Promised In Pinboy Crisis

Public reaction to the pinboy shortage for the state bowling tournament indicated yesterday that the pressure on the present staff at the bowling alleys may be eased somewhat during the terrific weekend ahead.

Several former pinboys now in the active ranks of bowling said they would volunteer to set pins for a few squads over Friday, Saturday and Sunday, particularly at the Bowlatorium.

Other reports said professional pin setters would be recruited from Poughkeepsie, Ellenville and Saugerties.

State tournament officials said the response to advertisements for pinboys has not developed a trend as yet, but it is believed additional pinboys would be available for the weekend.

Texas Kegler 3rd In ABC All-Events

Milwaukee, April 23 (AP)—The hopes of Texas were upon Jack Kibbee yesterday and the 26 year old accountant from Fort Worth spilled enough wood to forge into third place in the all events at the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Coming in with a 744 team series which he acquired Monday night with the Topsy's Cafe Red Stars, the second highest series ever fired in team shooting in ABC history, Kibbee added a 536 doubles set and 672 in singles for 1,952—just one pin shy of second place currently occupied by George Young of Detroit.

His jolt produced the only standings change among the top ten, except for a tenth place tie in team class.

Paired with Don McDaniel in doubles, Kibbee began with 189, pushed up to 202 and then fizzled to a 145 in his finale, a slowdown that cost him the runnerup position over the nine game route. McDaniel added 567 for 1103 count.

Kibbee opened his singles series with 194, climbed to 224 and then capped it all with 254, which was the top singles slam of the day.

Balked by 7-Pin

Needing a couple strikes in the final frame of his final singles line, to take runnerup in all events, Kibbee drove in a solid pocket smash that failed to carry a stubborn No. 7 on his second heave.

The record ABC team series is held by Milwaukee's Fred Weber, who fired 768 at Peoria, Ill., in 1934. Kibbee, appearing in his first ABC classic, had never rolled a 700 series before. He has league smashes of 685 and 279.

Former national match game champion, Dick Hoover, could crash only 569 as his G.I. Machine Five of Akron, Ohio, hit 2,835 for the second best counter of the first team squad.

Hank Marino, Milwaukee alley owner and voted the bowler of the last half century, fired 567 in singles, but could muster only 483 in the doubles. His partner, Charlie Horvath, added 527 for 1,010.

STATE DOUBLES NET LEADERS

Local '5s' Shifted In State Tournament

Four Kingston squads — Leventhal Furs, Jaspers, Jo-Al's and Suntag Pharmacy—will roll their team event in the state tournament on Thursday at 9:30 p. m., instead of 7:15 p. m. as originally scheduled.

Team captains are requested to note the changes. The change is made in order to create one 14-team squad, instead of two smaller ones.

Sees HST Picking Commander Soon

New York, April 23 (AP)—A European NATO official predicts President Truman will make his choice today or tomorrow from among three American generals—Alfred Gruenther, Matthew B. Ridgway and Omar N. Bradley—for a NATO commander to succeed Gen. Eisenhower.

Gruenther is Eisenhower's chief of staff; Ridgway is UN commander for Korea, and Bradley is chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The high official, who is kept informed of major NATO actions, would not allow publication of his name in connection with his forecast. He said the choice of a new commander will be completed by the NATO Council in Paris next week.

Eisenhower has been relieved of command, at his own request, effective June 1, and will return to the United States as a contender for the Republican presidential nomination.

The official said the formal procedure next Monday will be for the NATO Council to request nomination of another American as a necessary "symbol" of the big U. S. part in the North Atlantic treaty.

Los Angeles—Kenny Teran, 116, Los Angeles, outpointed Tommy Umeda, 120½, Honolulu, 10.

Rugged, single-unit Monobilt body-and-frame*—5,306 permanent welds for unequalled stamina.
*Trade-mark and patents pending
Nylon or worsted upholstery combined with crackproof, scuffproof, easily cleaned Dura-fab trim—long-wearing, luxurious.
High-compression engine electronically balanced as a complete unit to reduce vibration and produce peaked-up power.
Lighter, exceptionally strong pistons and two-piece, heat-resistant Austenitic metal exhaust valves add stamina, maintain maximum engine power longer.
Heavy box-section steel girders completely surrounding the passenger compartment, even outside the rear wheels—Hudson is America's safest car.
The only hydraulic braking system with reserve mechanical brakes on the same foot pedal—best safety protection in any car at any price!
"Step-down" design with recessed floor for America's lowest center of gravity—steadier, safer riding with less jounce, less wear and tear.
Chrome-alloy cylinder block, toughest in any car, and oversize engine bearings for amazing stamina, more thousands of miles of like-new power.

These few highlights only begin to tell you why Hudson is unbeatable. Once you drive one of these streamlined beauties, you'll quickly find boundless, eager power; roominess that is unmatched; comfort and convenience beyond anything known before.

For a brand-new driving thrill, just come in or telephone us, and a new Hudson will be brought to your door without obligation.

Louis G. Bruhn Voted Life Membership

Thomas Orr, a member of the Tavern Association and Junior Major Leagues, was elected president of the Kingston Bowling Association at the annual meeting last night at the YMCA.

Orr defeated Dr. Saul Goldfarb, regular KBA nominee and Harry Re, the perennial independent, in a three-cornered race on the second ballot. He succeeds Joseph J. Magnino.

District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, a past president of the KBA, was elevated to life membership by a vote of 175 to 56.

Irwin J. Thomas, secretary, was elected to his second successive term without opposition.

As the result of the election, the following slate of officers will serve as the executive committee of the KBA for the 1952-53 calendar year, starting August 1:

President, Thomas Orr.

1st Vice President, Mannie Colao.

2nd Vice President, Jake Chichelsky.

3rd Vice President, Bill Murray.

4th Vice President, Ralph Frederick.

Treasurer, Jack Blinder.

Secretary, Irwin J. Thomas.

Executive Directors, Mike Mostransky, New Paltz; Ray Houghtaling, Joe Magnino, Kingston; Vernon Freese, Rosendale.

Life Member, Louis G. Bruhn.

Orr was elected president on the second ballot, after Goldfarb had collected 96 votes, Re 50 and Orr 85 on the first ballot. The final tally was 140 to 105.

Colao Top Choice

Mannie Colao, the hard working vice-president, again proved himself the best vote getter in the organization, by defeating Clarence Herdman, 160 to 75. Jake Chichelsky won over Randy Kelder, 145 to 100, for the second vice-presidency.

Bill Murray and Ralph Frederick were unopposed for third and fourth vice-presidents, respectively.

Jack Blinder survived a three-cornered race for the treasurer's post succeeding J. Kenneth Powell, who was not a candidate. Blinder drew 111 votes on the first ballot to 48 for Jack Thompson and 72 for Len Freer. The final tally put Blinder in by the close margin of 118 to 113.

The four executive directors were chosen in a field of five candidates, with Mike Mostransky getting 206 votes, Ray Houghtaling, 220; Joe Magnino, 209; Vernon Freese, 208; and Frank Norman, 73.

Plan Next Tournament

The KBA directors, set February, 1953, as the date for the next city tournament. In accordance with a plan set up three years ago, the five-man event was awarded to the Central Recreation alleys. The singles and doubles will be rolled at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium.

The "class" setup of the city tournament was abandoned in favor of a 75 per cent handicap championship. The net leaders in each division will be recognized as the city champions.

The directors also tightened the requirements for life membership and clarified the voting procedure for the member leagues at the annual elections.

The YMCA was voted $20 for use of the KBA meeting.

Help Is Promised In Pinboy Crisis

Public reaction to the pinboy shortage for the state bowling tournament indicated yesterday that the pressure on the present staff at the bowling alleys may be eased somewhat during the terrific weekend ahead.

Several former pinboys now in the active ranks of bowling said they would volunteer to set pins for a few squads over Friday, Saturday and Sunday, particularly at the Bowlatorium.

Other reports said professional pin setters would be recruited from Poughkeepsie, Ellenville and Saugerties.

State tournament officials said the response to advertisements for pinboys has not developed a trend as yet, but it is believed additional pinboys would be available for the weekend.

Texas Kegler 3rd In ABC All-Events

Milwaukee, April 23 (AP)—The hopes of Texas were upon Jack Kibbee yesterday and the 26 year old accountant from Fort Worth spilled enough wood to forge into third place in the all events at the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Coming in with a 744 team series which he acquired Monday night with the Topsy's Cafe Red Stars, the second highest series ever fired in team shooting in ABC history, Kibbee added a 536 doubles set and 672 in singles for 1,952—just one pin shy of second place currently occupied by George Young of Detroit.

His jolt produced the only standings change among the top ten, except for a tenth place tie in team class.

Paired with Don McDaniel in doubles, Kibbee began with 189, pushed up to 202 and then fizzled to a 145 in his finale, a slowdown that cost him the runnerup position over the nine game route. McDaniel added 567 for 1103 count.

Kibbee opened his singles series with 194, climbed to 224 and then capped it all with 254, which was the top singles slam of the day.

Balked by 7-Pin

Needing a couple strikes in the final frame of his final singles line, to take runnerup in all events, Kibbee drove in a solid pocket smash that failed to carry a stubborn No. 7 on his second heave.

The record ABC team series is held by Milwaukee's Fred Weber, who fired 768 at Peoria, Ill., in 1934. Kibbee, appearing in his first ABC classic, had never rolled a 700 series before. He has league smashes of 685 and 279.

Former national match game champion, Dick Hoover, could crash only 569 as his G.I. Machine Five of Akron, Ohio, hit 2,835 for the second best counter of the first team squad.

Hank Marino, Milwaukee alley owner and voted the bowler of the last half century, fired 567 in singles, but could muster only 483 in the doubles. His partner, Charlie Horvath, added 527 for 1,010.

STATE DOUBLES NET LEADERS

Local '5s' Shifted In State Tournament

Four Kingston squads — Leventhal Furs, Jaspers, Jo-Al's and Suntag Pharmacy—will roll their team event in the state tournament on Thursday at 9:30 p. m., instead of 7:15 p. m. as originally scheduled.

Team captains are requested to note the changes. The change is made in order to create one 14-team squad, instead of two smaller ones.

Sees HST Picking Commander Soon

New York, April 23 (AP)—A European NATO official predicts President Truman will make his choice today or tomorrow from among three American generals—Alfred Gruenther, Matthew B. Ridgway and Omar N. Bradley—for a NATO commander to succeed Gen. Eisenhower.

Gruenther is Eisenhower's chief of staff; Ridgway is UN commander for Korea, and Bradley is chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The high official, who is kept informed of major NATO actions, would not allow publication of his name in connection with his forecast. He said the choice of a new commander will be completed by the NATO Council in Paris next week.

Eisenhower has been relieved of command, at his own request, effective June 1, and will return to the United States as a contender for the Republican presidential nomination.

The official said the formal procedure next Monday will be for the NATO Council to request nomination of another American as a necessary "symbol" of the big U. S. part in the North Atlantic treaty.

Los Angeles—Kenny Teran, 116, Los Angeles, outpointed Tommy Umeda, 120½, Honolulu, 10.

Liefke Gets Verdict For $450 in Court

A verdict for plaintiff, Ernest L. Liefke of the town of Saugerties, in the sum of $450 for damage to his car was returned Tuesday in county court by the jury. The defendants, Florence Zelber, driver of the car, and Emil Zelber, owner, sought to recover damages under a counter claim, Florence Zelber for injuries and Emil Zelber for damage to his car. Under the counter claim the jury found no cause. Ernest E. Schirmer appeared for plaintiff and Louis P. Francello for defendants.

Three additional cases were announced settled prior to excusing the jury until 10 o'clock Wednesday. They were:

No. 96 and 97, Chester Martin, an infant, etc., and Betty Martin, plaintiffs, against Richard C. Jansen and Sam Roemer. Both were negligence actions. David W. Corwin for plaintiffs and Cook & Cook for defendants.

No. 70, Rosario Naccarato against Caroline Rossi, negligence. Hubert A. Richter for plaintiff and Robert Ortale for defendant.

LEGAL NOTICES

STATE OF NEW YORK SUPREME COURT. COUNTY OF ULSTER—MEYER REGENBOGEN, Plaintiff, against LOUIS HOROWITZ, ANNA HOROWITZ, BENJAMIN LONSTEIN and HARRY ROSENBERG, Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in the above action and bearing date the 19th day of April, 1952, I, the undersigned, the referee named in said judgment, will sell at public auction at the Court House, Kingston, New York, on the 5th day of June, 1952 at 12 o'clock noon of that day, the premises directed by the said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:

ALL THAT CERTAIN LOT, PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate, lying and being in the Town of Rochester, County of Ulster, and State of New York, as devised to Emily A., wife of Alexander Decker, by the Last Will and testament of Pardon Sheldon, deceased, being the Westerly half of Great Lot No. twelve lying between the Stoney Kill and the New Paltz and Wawarsing Turnpike Road said lot containing about fifty acres.

AND BEING the third lot of land described in a deed bearing date the third day of June, 1897 and executed by Philip Elting referee to the Ulster County Savings Institution and recorded in the Office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster, and being the same premises conveyed to Wilson Addis by Amos Addis and wife by deed bearing date April 6, 1904, recorded in Ulster County Clerk's office in Liber 381 of deeds at page 380.

EXCEPTING AND RESERVING all that portion of the said premises bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING on the Northwesterly side of the highway where the same is intersected by the Northeasterly boundary line of land of Hebron Sheldron and runs thence along said highway in a Northeasterly direction 330 feet to a stake set in the ground; thence Northwesterly on a line parallel with the said line of Sheldon 150 feet more or less to the center of the Stony Creek or Kill; thence Southwesterly along the center of the same as it winds and turns to the said line of Sheldron; thence Southeasterly along said Sheldon line to the place of beginning.

SUBJECT to the rights granted to E. A. & G. H. Smiley to construct a line of telephone and electric wires as conveyed to them by grant dated August 17, 1918, recorded in Liber 465 of deeds at page 433.

ALSO EXCEPTING AND RESERVING a parcel conveyed from Louis Horowitz and others to the County of Ulster by deed dated November 6, 1933 and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office in Liber 568 of Deeds at page 53 on November 17, 1933. Containing about .04 acres, and another parcel conveyed from Louis Horowitz and others to the County of Ulster by deed dated November 6, 1942 and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office in Liber 629 of Deeds at page 529 on November 12, 1942, containing .22 acres.

BEING the same premises conveyed by Louis Horowitz and Anna Horowitz, his wife, to William Horowitz and Max Horowitz, by deed dated April 19, 1947 and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office July 15, 1947 in Deed Book 684 at page 497.

Said premises will be sold subject to the lien of a prior mortgage upon which there remains unpaid the principal sum of $9,689.16 with interest accrued thereon from the 1st day of January, 1952.

Dated, April 21, 1952.

Lions Exposition

winning Port Ewen Drum and Bugle Corps and green-helmeted guardsmen of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, New York National Guard, Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding.

Also in the parade were Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, the exposition committee, exhibitors in cars and trucks and a huge army mobile searchlight from West Point which will blazon the exposition on upper Hudson valley night skies.

Picturesque Flag Ceremony

The exposition, primary object of which is to present the industrial and mercantile activity of the Kingston area, flung open its doors at 7 p. m.

Thirty-five charming young ladies, glittering in evening dresses, and with the glossy silk flags of 35 nations floating about their shoulders, marched from the drill shed in the armory to the stage in a picturesque flag presentation ceremony. Each young lady carried the flag of a nation which has a Lions Club organization. The flags, shining three by fives, were rented from the Lions International for the occasion. Bob Cousins of Cousins Fuels, Inc., presented the girls with orchids flown in Tuesday from Hawaii. Two hundred of these handsome blooms are being given away each night of the exposition.

Also featured on last night's program were the Roger Baer Accordionaires which gained wide recognition last week when they appeared on the nation-wide Ted Mack video show.

Top Vaudeville Acts

Top notch New York vaudeville acts have been procured for the exposition and will entertain with two shows nightly. Tonight at 8:45 and 10:15 the Louis and Oliver Sisters, acrobatic hand-to-hand act, which just closed at the Palace Theatre, New York, will be presented.

The following entertainment is scheduled: Thursday, Carol and Charmi, musical act, recently at the New York Sportsmen's Show, stars of Bluebird records; Friday, Dom Francisco, novelty juggling and wire act from the Hamid Morgan Circus; Saturday, James Evans and Co., comedy Rizzley act, recently with Milton Berle and Kate Smith television shows.

In addition to the commercial booths are those of civic, educational and charitable organizations including a display of items by blind persons arranged by the Albany Association for the Blind.

And So Her House Burned

Honolulu, April 23 (AP)—Mrs. Seikichi Aoki of Hilo rushed to her phone when she saw smoke pouring out of her kitchen. The party line was busy. "It's an emergency," she pleaded. But she said the other parties refused to break off their conversation. Mrs. Aoki's four-bedroom home was destroyed before she could notify firemen yesterday.

General's Backers

for delegates, Eisenhower forces had won five delegates and Taft one. A Taft man was leading for the seventh place and the eighth was in doubt.

In the Democratic balloting, Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Tennessee coonskin cap campaigner, continued his practice of walking off with popularity contests.

But his preference primary victory over President Truman, who says he isn't running again, gave Kefauver no guarantees on any of the delegates on the 70-vote group which will go to Chicago publicly uncommitted. Many had signed pledges they will support the popular choice, but the pledges are not binding.

Eisenhower's sweep was impressive in the Republican popularity contest, despite Taft's avowed efforts not to become involved as a candidate. Returns from 7,942 of the state's 8,421 precincts showed:

Eisenhower	799,752
Taft	159,494
Stassen	112,823

In the Democratic contest, where there was no name on the ballot and all votes were write-ins, Kefauver got 76,145 votes and Truman 20,180 from 7,532 of the 8,421 precincts.

Eisenhower was third on write-ins, with 16,930 votes. He was ahead of such Democratic candidates as Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, 85, and Richard Russell of Georgia, 872, and W. Averell Harriman of New York 1161. He topped Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, who said he "could not accept" a nomination but drew 2,612 votes, and Vice President Alben Barkley, 361, who has been silent on his plans.

Taft got 1,322 Democratic write-ins and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt 1,108, the latter almost entirely as a result of a sticker campaign in one Philadelphia ward.

Some of Eisenhower's backers had urged Democrats to write in the general's name on ticket to impress Republican leaders—including Gov. John S. Fine—with the NATO commander's popularity among all the people.

Eisenhower Aides

3,269 and Edward L. Love, an organization man, 3,104.

In New York city, Keith Lorenz, chairman of the New York State Citizens for Eisenhower, claimed a "sweeping victoy" for the general in upstate districts.

Tammany Defeat

Tammany Hall, Democratic organization in New York county (Manhattan) was dealt a double defeat in the contests for state committee seats.

Mrs. Dorothy Schiff, publisher of the New York Post, and Lloyd K. Garrison, former National Labor Relations Board chairman, won over Tammany-backed candidates in the Ninth Assembly District, the so-called "silk-stocking" wards east of Central Park.

Robert B. Blaikie, a Tammany insurgent, and Miss Helen Siegel defeated organization aspirants in the Ninth District, west of the park.

Mrs. Schiff said the results showed "the people are thoroughly fed up with the way the Democratic party in New York county has been run by professionals."

Tammany's chief, Carmine G. De Sapio, said he expected they would serve "as true Democrats."

Strike Settlement Progress Is Slow

New York, April 23 (AP)—The Western Electric Company and 6,000 striking CIO workers apparently are further from a settlement than the optimistic talk of the last few days had indicated.

A 16-hour mediation session in the wage dispute broke up a few hours after midnight today with federal conciliators reporting only limited progress and a union official more doubtful about the talks.

The strke by members of the CIO Communications Workers of America has threatened telephone service in 28 cities in 21 states, where Western Electric has warehouses.

Yesterday and Monday, negotiators spoke of only one lone "snag" holding up agreement on pay scales. They also were optimistic because of the settlement of other CWA strikes against Western Electric and four Bell System phone affiliates. Western Electric is the manufacturing Bell affiliate.

'Issues' Are Mentioned

But today a mediation service spokesman spoke of "minor issues" on which "definite progress" was made. A union negotiator agreed, but added:

"We didn't even get to the pay issues."

Negotiations are to resume this afternoon.

The strike, now in its 17th day, is being waged by distributors and warehousemen, who now earn an average of $1.67 to $2.30 an hour. Their original demand was for a 23 cents-an-hour increase plus unspecified fringe benefits.

In settling another strike with CWA members, Western Electric on Saturday agreed to a compromise 14.1-cents-an-hour basic wage raise plus fringe benefits of 17 cents an hour.

2,000 Persons See

John Boone.

Lights—Roland Osterhoudt.

Ushers—Paula Abelove, Joyce Munson, Louise Goodyear and John Hinkley.

The entire program was well done with the Glee Club selections being done in part. The program in the evening was brought to a conclusion with the singing of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" in parts and using the new flag which had been presented to the school by the Auxiliary of Joyce-Schirick Post, No. 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Guest Book Kept

A guest book was kept but in the evening the attendance was so large that it was impossible to keep an accurate record of all visitors.

In addition to the presentation of the large school flag by the VFW Auxiliary, a flag was also presented to each of the 25 classrooms and a student from each of the rooms accepted the flag on behalf of the room. The large school flag was presented by Mrs. Harold Steeger and accepted on behalf of the school by Principal A. J. Boyd.

Prior to the presentation of the flag, Mrs. Howard Shultis, past president of the VFW Auxiliary, spoke regarding the activities of the auxiliary. At the ceremony Mrs. William Jordan, Mrs. Harry Steeger, Mrs. Sidney Lane and Mrs. Ross Atkins acted as color bearers. The flag bearer was Miss Florence Howard. Standard bearer was Mrs. Andrew Dykes. Mrs. Harold Steeger, Americanization chairman of Joyce-Schirick Post Auxiliary, who made the presentation, Mrs. Arthur Smith, patriotic instructor, and Miss Agnes Gorman, conductress.

Classes Are Observed

During the day from 10 o'clock until 4 p. m. many parents visited the school and observed the classes in session. At the evening session, which was very largely attended, an opportunity was offered for everyone to inspect the building and attend the entertainment program and the flag presentations.

The George Washington School, which was designed and erected under the direction of Harry Halverson, architect has accomodations for all grades from kindergarten through sixth grade, and replaces No. 8 school, No. 1 school and also accommodates a portion of the pupils who formerly attended No. 7 school.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Legality of Jury Will Be Decided By Appeals Court

With the Saratoga county extraordinary grand jury investigating gambling, operating in high gear, the way was paved yesterday for the state's highest tribunal to rule on its constitutionality.

Daniel H. Prior won an application in behalf of 17 persons indicted on gambling charges to carry the battle on legality of the grand jury to the Court of Appeals. Permission was granted by Appellate Division Justice Francis Bergan.

Leave to appeal was sought from Justice Bergan after the Appellate Division had upset a decision of Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick which quashed the indictments on the grounds the grand jury was illegally selected.

The Court of Appeals will undoubtedly hear the matter at its next session opening on May 19.

In allowing the appeal Justice Bergan held a question of law is involved which ought to be reviewed by the Court of Appeals.

Will Drop Word

Tokyo, April 23 (AP)—The army said today it will drop the word "general" from the titles of General Headquarters United Nations Command, and General Headquarters Far East Command, Monday, when the Japanese Peace Treaty takes effect. "There will be no change in the mission, nor in the activity of the two commands," Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters said. All personnel in either command will cease wearing GHQ insignia.

It is estimated that rats eat about 200 million bushels of grain a year in the United States.

Liefke Gets Verdict For $450 in Court

A verdict for plaintiff, Ernest L. Liefke of the town of Saugerties, in the sum of $450 for damage to his car was returned Tuesday in county court by the jury. The defendants, Florence Zelber, driver of the car, and Emil Zelber, owner, sought to recover damages under a counter claim, Florence Zelber for injuries and Emil Zelber for damage to his car. Under the counter claim the jury found no cause. Ernest E. Schirmer appeared for plaintiff and Louis P. Francello for defendants.

Three additional cases were announced settled prior to excusing the jury until 10 o'clock Wednesday. They were:

No. 96 and 97, Chester Martin, an infant, etc., and Betty Martin, plaintiffs, against Richard C. Jansen and Sam Roemer. Both were negligence actions. David W. Corwin for plaintiffs and Cook & Cook for defendants.

No. 70, Rosario Naccarato against Caroline Rossi, negligence. Hubert A. Richter for plaintiff and Robert Ortale for defendant.

Lions Exposition

winning Port Ewen Drum and Bugle Corps and green-helmeted guardsmen of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, New York National Guard, Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding.

Also in the parade were Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, the exposition committee, exhibitors in cars and trucks and a huge army mobile searchlight from West Point which will blazon the exposition on upper Hudson valley night skies.

Picturesque Flag Ceremony

The exposition, primary object of which is to present the industrial and mercantile activity of the Kingston area, flung open its doors at 7 p. m.

Thirty-five charming young ladies, glittering in evening dresses, and with the glossy silk flags of 35 nations floating about their shoulders, marched from the drill shed in the armory to the stage in a picturesque flag presentation ceremony. Each young lady carried the flag of a nation which has a Lions Club organization. The flags, shining three by fives, were rented from the Lions International for the occasion. Bob Cousins of Cousins Fuels, Inc., presented the girls with orchids flown in Tuesday from Hawaii. Two hundred of these handsome blooms are being given away each night of the exposition.

Also featured on last night's program were the Roger Baer Accordionaires which gained wide recognition last week when they appeared on the nation-wide Ted Mack video show.

Top Vaudeville Acts

Top notch New York vaudeville acts have been procured for the exposition and will entertain with two shows nightly. Tonight at 8:45 and 10:15 the Louis and Oliver Sisters, acrobatic hand-to-hand act, which just closed at the Palace Theatre, New York, will be presented.

The following entertainment is scheduled: Thursday, Carol and Charmi, musical act, recently at the New York Sportsmen's Show, stars of Bluebird records; Friday, Dom Francisco, novelty juggling and wire act from the Hamid Morgan Circus; Saturday, James Evans and Co., comedy Rizzley act, recently with Milton Berle and Kate Smith television shows.

In addition to the commercial booths are those of civic, educational and charitable organizations including a display of items by blind persons arranged by the Albany Association for the Blind.

And So Her House Burned

Honolulu, April 23 (AP)—Mrs. Seikichi Aoki of Hilo rushed to her phone when she saw smoke pouring out of her kitchen. The party line was busy. "It's an emergency," she pleaded. But she said the other parties refused to break off their conversation. Mrs. Aoki's four-bedroom home was destroyed before she could notify firemen yesterday.

General's Backers

for delegates, Eisenhower forces had won five delegates and Taft one. A Taft man was leading for the seventh place and the eighth was in doubt.

In the Democratic balloting, Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Tennessee coonskin cap campaigner, continued his practice of walking off with popularity contests.

But his preference primary victory over President Truman, who says he isn't running again, gave Kefauver no guarantees on any of the delegates on the 70-vote group which will go to Chicago publicly uncommitted. Many had signed pledges they will support the popular choice, but the pledges are not binding.

Eisenhower's sweep was impressive in the Republican popularity contest, despite Taft's avowed efforts not to become involved as a candidate. Returns from 7,942 of the state's 8,421 precincts showed:

Eisenhower	799,752
Taft	159,494
Stassen	112,823

In the Democratic contest, where there was no name on the ballot and all votes were write-ins, Kefauver got 76,145 votes and Truman 20,180 from 7,532 of the 8,421 precincts.

Eisenhower was third on write-ins, with 16,930 votes. He was ahead of such Democratic candidates as Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, 85, and Richard Russell of Georgia, 872, and W. Averell Harriman of New York 1161. He topped Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, who said he "could not accept" a nomination but drew 2,612 votes, and Vice President Alben Barkley, 361, who has been silent on his plans.

Taft got 1,322 Democratic write-ins and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt 1,108, the latter almost entirely as a result of a sticker campaign in one Philadelphia ward.

Some of Eisenhower's backers had urged Democrats to write in the general's name on ticket to impress Republican leaders—including Gov. John S. Fine—with the NATO commander's popularity among all the people.

Eisenhower Aides

3,269 and Edward L. Love, an organization man, 3,104.

In New York city, Keith Lorenz, chairman of the New York State Citizens for Eisenhower, claimed a "sweeping victoy" for the general in upstate districts.

Tammany Defeat

Tammany Hall, Democratic organization in New York county (Manhattan) was dealt a double defeat in the contests for state committee seats.

Mrs. Dorothy Schiff, publisher of the New York Post, and Lloyd K. Garrison, former National Labor Relations Board chairman, won over Tammany-backed candidates in the Ninth Assembly District, the so-called "silk-stocking" wards east of Central Park.

Robert B. Blaikie, a Tammany insurgent, and Miss Helen Siegel defeated organization aspirants in the Ninth District, west of the park.

Mrs. Schiff said the results showed "the people are thoroughly fed up with the way the Democratic party in New York county has been run by professionals."

Tammany's chief, Carmine G. De Sapio, said he expected they would serve "as true Democrats."

Strike Settlement Progress Is Slow

New York, April 23 (AP)—The Western Electric Company and 6,000 striking CIO workers apparently are further from a settlement than the optimistic talk of the last few days had indicated.

A 16-hour mediation session in the wage dispute broke up a few hours after midnight today with federal conciliators reporting only limited progress and a union official more doubtful about the talks.

The strke by members of the CIO Communications Workers of America has threatened telephone service in 28 cities in 21 states, where Western Electric has warehouses.

Yesterday and Monday, negotiators spoke of only one lone "snag" holding up agreement on pay scales. They also were optimistic because of the settlement of other CWA strikes against Western Electric and four Bell System phone affiliates. Western Electric is the manufacturing Bell affiliate.

'Issues' Are Mentioned

But today a mediation service spokesman spoke of "minor issues" on which "definite progress" was made. A union negotiator agreed, but added:

"We didn't even get to the pay issues."

Negotiations are to resume this afternoon.

The strike, now in its 17th day, is being waged by distributors and warehousemen, who now earn an average of $1.67 to $2.30 an hour. Their original demand was for a 23 cents-an-hour increase plus unspecified fringe benefits.

In settling another strike with CWA members, Western Electric on Saturday agreed to a compromise 14.1 - cents - an - hour basic wage raise plus fringe benefits of 17 cents an hour.

2,000 Persons See

John Boone.

Lights—Roland Osterhoudt.

Ushers—Paula Abelove, Joyce Munson, Louise Goodyear and John Hinkley.

The entire program was well done with the Glee Club selections being done in part. The program in the evening was brought to a conclusion with the singing of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" in parts and using the new flag which had been presented to the school by the Auxiliary of Joyce-Schirick Post, No. 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Guest Book Kept

A guest book was kept but in the evening the attendance was so large that it was impossible to keep an accurate record of all visitors.

In addition to the presentation of the large school flag by the VFW Auxiliary, a flag was also presented to each of the 25 classrooms and a student from each of the rooms accepted the flag on behalf of the room. The large school flag was presented by Mrs. Harold Steeger and accepted on behalf of the school by Principal A. J. Boyd.

Prior to the presentation of the flag, Mrs. Howard Shultis, past president of the VFW Auxiliary, spoke regarding the activities of the auxiliary. At the ceremony Mrs. William Jordan, Mrs. Harry Steeger, Mrs. Sidney Lane and Mrs. Ross Atkins acted as color bearers. The flag bearer was Miss Florence Howard. Standard bearer was Mrs. Andrew Dykes. Mrs. Harold Steeger, Americanization chairman of Joyce-Schirick Post Auxiliary, who made the presentation, Mrs. Arthur Smith, patriotic instructor, and Miss Agnes Gorman, conductress.

Classes Are Observed

During the day from 10 o'clock until 4 p. m. many parents visited the school and observed the classes in session. At the evening session, which was very largely attended, an opportunity was offered for everyone to inspect the building and attend the entertainment program and the flag presentations.

The George Washington School, which was designed and erected under the direction of Harry Halverson, architect has accomodations for all grades from kindergarten through sixth grade, and replaces No. 8 school, No. 1 school and also accommodates a portion of the pupils who formerly attended No. 7 school.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Legality of Jury Will Be Decided By Appeals Court

With the Saratoga county extraordinary grand jury investigating gambling, operating in high gear, the way was paved yesterday for the state's highest tribunal to rule on its constitutionality.

Daniel H. Prior won an application in behalf of 17 persons indicted on gambling charges to carry the battle on legality of the grand jury to the Court of Appeals. Permission was granted by Appellate Division Justice Francis Bergan.

Leave to appeal was sought from Justice Bergan after the Appellate Division had upset a decision of Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick which quashed the indictments on the grounds the grand jury was illegally selected.

The Court of Appeals will undoubtedly hear the matter at its next session opening on May 19.

In allowing the appeal Justice Bergan held a question of law is involved which ought to be reviewed by the Court of Appeals.

Will Drop Word

Tokyo, April 23 (AP)—The army said today it will drop the word "general" from the titles of General Headquarters United Nations Command, and General Headquarters Far East Command, Monday, when the Japanese Peace Treaty takes effect. "There will be no change in the mission, nor in the activity of the two commands," Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters said. All personnel in either command will cease wearing GHQ insignia.

It is estimated that rats eat about 200 million bushels of grain a year in the United States.

Grand Jurors Are Progressing on Federation Plans

At a meeting of delegates from three county grand jurors associations plans progressed for the formation of a Hudson valley federation.

President Thomas J. Murphy of the Ulster County Grand Jurors Association, who presided at the session, Monday, said that combined sentiment was for formation of the valley association.

Murphy, long an advocate of the federation, outlined the various steps for forming it, and urged that immediate steps be taken.

The project has had priority with the Ulster group for some time.

Others speaking in favor of the association came from Dutchess and Orange grand jurors associations.

Joining President Murphy from the Ulster group were Fred Baumgarten, Vice President Chester Elliott, Secretary Anna M. Ashdown and Treasurer Edmund H. Zeidler.

Frank Boyle of the Dutchess association and Kenneth Sinsabaugh of the Orange association spoke strongly in favor of the federation.

President Murphy said that another tri-county meeting is scheduled for May 26 in Kingston for delegates to draft by-laws and settle other matters of importance.

Murphy thanked those who attended Monday night's session which was followed by refreshments served at Hoppey's restaurant.

HOW MUCH...

DOES A ROOF COST?
VERY LITTLE, if it is kept in good condition—Very much, if it leaks and causes expensive damage to ceilings and walls.
Don't put off needed repairs until costly damage has been done. Call us today for free inspection and estimates.
